CELERY IS FOOD AND MEDICINE If the medicinal properties of celery were appreciated as they should be, more every one would eat it, not occasionally but every day. In this critical time in the history of our country health counts even more than it ever did before—don't wait until you are sick. "Prevention is better than cure," and it applies right here. If you have rheumatism, had stomach, liver trouble, get on the celery wagon; don't take our word for it, we may have no axe to grind, ask your family doctor, indeed the most eminent physicians prescribe celery for their patients. One of our specialties is celery, we gave it every condition we thought necessary, and with the help of Providence the result is a grand crop. We are offering in bushel cases packed full to the brim at $1.75 per case. Celery is food and medicine combined.—Our celery is for sale at Campbell Bros. Market. Address or box to J. J. Gray & Son, Hd. Prince, St. Charlottetown, P. E. I. codit, 958-10-31Mwmtf.

The meeting was led by the pastor Rev. Mr. McIntyre, and was a most interesting and helpful throughout, many of the young people taking an active part. A quartette and two duets by members of the Bonshaw choir was much enjoyed by the visitors. At the close of the meeting all were invited to the hall near by where lunch was served by the Social Committee, the remainder of the evening being very pleasantly spent in games and other amusements. ISLANDER WOUNDED.—Lieut. Eric J. H. Ings, who is officially wounded in this morning's list, left here as an officer in that mounted regiment which was commanded by Col. George Macdonald, now the D. C. of Military District No. 13, says the Calgary Herald. Like many others in that crack Calgary regiment he has seen a very great amount of the most terrific fighting on the western front, but although he has been in the trenches for quite two years this is the first time that his name appeared as a casualty. He was before proceeding overseas a member of the 15th Light Horse, and was born at Charlottetown, P. E. I., and educated at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont. He was one of the smartest young officers that was attached to his unit, and his many friends in Calgary, including Col. Macdonald, will sincerely trust that he will soon recover from the effects of his wounds.

Mr. Trainor in his usual masterly style upheld his side of the question and was well supported by his colleagues. However the many weighty arguments brought forth by Mr. O'Brien and his supporters were in the unbiased judgment of the society, more convincing than those in favor of the resolution. The result of the vote of the society was 22 to 11 against the resolution. Mr. Stephen McQuaid in the capacity of

IN MEMORIAM FRANK E. MARTIN. The death occurred at the Charlottetown Hospital on Saturday morning November 3rd of Frank E. Martin the well known cabman of this city. About a year ago, his horse took fright and bolted throwing Frank to the pavement when he sustained internal injuries from which he never fully recovered. About two months ago, he entered the Charlottetown Hospital in the hope that he might regain his former health, but despite the tender nursing of the sisters and devoted attention of his aged mother he gradually became weaker until the end came, before which he was fortified by the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. Frank was a general favorite and will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends. His funeral took place on Sunday afternoon and despite the very disagreeable weather was very largely attended. The pall bearers were Messrs Geo. McQuaid, Dr. J. E. Blanchard, Fred Monaghan, Augustus Gallant. The services at the church and grave were performed by the Rev. Frank McQuaid. May his soul rest in peace.
