P. E. Island Not Represented At Liberal Meeting

MONTREAL, Oct. 13 — (CP) — Organization and publicity played a major role in assuring the success of the Liberal Party of Canada in the last two Federal elections, Defence Minister Claxton said today.

"We have need of continuous contact with the people through party organization," he said during a surprise visit to the biennial convention of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada.

The Liberals "want" a fight in every election if the Opposition wants it that way," he told the 500 delegates.

"We must use one success as a stepping-stone to another," he added. "We must never stop."

He assured the Federation that the Liberal Party would wage "an all-out fight" to win the eight Federal by-elections Oct. 24.

Tracing the history of the party from 1940, he said the Liberals decided "not to play politics" during the Second World War. Three years later, they lost four out of four by-elections and a poll showed the Liberals held only 27 per cent of the popular vote.

nate crown lands as a "national forest" but Resources Minister Gibson said it was not the Government's intention to do that now.

He gave assurance, too, that the Government does not intend in any way to invade the jurisdiction of the Provinces, to whom it turned over the forests in 1930.

Purpose of the bill, he said, is to help in a constructive forestry program by "close co-operation" with the Provinces.

Prime Minister St. Laurent will address the Federation tonight at the main convention banquet.

Earlier today, executive secretary W.J. (Bill) Mulock of Ottawa urged the Federation to strengthen its political stand by organizing new clubs, promoting regional meetings, recruiting new members and improving Provincial-Liberal relations.

and agreement" with the Provinces.

During a 2 1/2-hour debate on the measure, the only dissenting note in a chorus of approval on the purpose of the forestry legislation came from Charles Gillis (CCF-Cape Breton South).

As he saw it, he said, the measure contemplated setting up "just a small research area to spend Government money for the benefit of those who are exploiting the forests for profit."

He also criticized export of unfinished wood products.

"We should process our own wood and thereby create industry," he said.

In the Maritimes, perhaps 80 per cent of pulpwood output went to the United States to be processed and returned as finished goods.

"You are sending your real wealth out in exports," Mr. Gillis added.

Mr. Gillis expressed the hope that the measure would result in more research into the processing of timber in Canada, and he also sought that it make provision for having the lumber industry contribute to research.

General commendation of the principle of the forestry move came from other members in all sections of the chamber including Gordon Graydon, acting Progressive Conservative leader, and Social Credit leader Solon Low.

Resources Minister Gibson, while noting that natural resources are under the jurisdiction of the Provinces, said the Federal Government realizes it has a direct interest in developing resources. It now runs a number of forest experimental stations, and it participates in the running of the pulp and paper research institute at Montreal.

without extra remuneration. The Cabinet changes, Premier Jones stated last night, even up the representation with respect to Counties. Queen's formerly had three, (Hon. Messrs. Jones, Large and Cullen); Prince had formerly two—neither with portfolio although Prince had elected ten members. Now Prince has five portfolio members, (Hon. Messrs. Baker, Arsenault and Darby). Kings, with slightly over one-fifth of the population, has one member with portfolio (Hon. Mr. Matheson) and two without (Hon. Messrs. Cox and Campbell). To make the above division possible one Government portfolio member (Hon. W. F. A. Stewart) has retired as Minister of Agriculture, and possibly may again become Speaker of the Legislature—an office now vacant.

Two of the portfolios have been held by the Premier who still holds the heavy Department of Public Works and Highways. It is not expected he will continue to hold the office of Public Works much longer.

One new portfolio holder, Hon. W. E. Darby, K.C., has been Law Clerk of the House and will be familiar with the workings of the Government. He was elected only recently by acclamation in Second Prince, to the seat vacated by Sen-

Fire Drill At S'Side Schools

In keeping with Fire Prevention Week fire drills were held in the Summerside schools yesterday. Fire Chief W. B. MacNeill visited both schools and with him were Deputy Chief Claude Kenny, Acting Mayor Henry Wedge, Councillor H. B. Schurman, chairman of the fire committee and Chief of Police Peter R. White. At St. Mary's Academy, where there are 350 pupils, the school was emptied in one minute and twenty seconds. The High School, which has 350 pupils, was emptied in one minute and forty seconds. At the High School Chief MacNeill made a number of recommendations to the supervisor Mr. Clarence Mercer in regard to the alarm system and the carrying out of fire drills.

Bees Fall Down On Job This Year

OTTAWA, Oct. 13 — (CP) — Woe to the sweet-toothed Canadian. Canada's honey crop is 31 per cent lower than last year's, a busy bee is a busy bee, it just depends on how much work he has to do. This year, the guilty party is the universal butt of abuse, the weather man.

Bureau of Statistics reports place the 1949 crop at 31,236,000 pounds, away below the near-record production of 45,145,000 last year and the lowest since the honey-short year of 1946, when only 23,185,000 pounds were produced.

The decrease, the Bureau of Statistics said, was partly because there were fewer colonies—496,150 this year compared with 569,900 in 1948—and partly because the bees hit only a 63 pound-per-colony average compared with 79 pounds last year.

From these figures, it might appear that the bees fell down on the job. But apiculturists figure a busy bee is a busy bee, it just depends on how much work he has to do. This year, the reduction in the number of colonies could be traced through the beekeepers. There were only 32,100 in 1948, and this apparently was because of lower honey prices.

But the reduction in output per colony from 79 to 63 pounds was simply the result of fewer bees. And that was because the weather man didn't send down the right amount of moisture, particularly in Eastern Canada and Alberta.

Some of the Provinces had bigger yields per colony, the reduction in numbers of colonies made production lower in every Province, with the largest reductions in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Nova Scotia.

Production by Provinces with 1948 output in brackets was: Prince Edward Island, 63,000 (64,000); Nova Scotia, 96,000 (125,000); New Brunswick, 160,000 (200,000); Quebec, 3,377,000 (4,831,000); Ontario, 10,655,000 (15,738,000); Manitoba, 4,800,000 (6,525,000); Saskatchewan, 5,200,000 (6,492,000); Alberta, 6,960,000 (10,254,000); British Columbia, 905,000 (9,000,000).

A colony of bees, otherwise known as a hive, consists of anywhere from 75,000 to 80,000 members. Between them this year, each of the tiny "factories" produced an average of 39 pounds of honey, the average for New Brunswick, to 113 pounds, the average for Saskatchewan.

This again is not their fault. The New Brunswick bees have to subsist mainly on alskie clover, which is cut down early as a hay crop, whereas the Saskatchewan bees get along famously on wild clover which is treated mostly as a weed, allowed to grow as it likes, and hence blooms for a longer period.

Production per colony in Prince Edward Island fell from 91 pounds last year to 84 this year; in Nova Scotia it fell from 87 to 40; New Brunswick 67 to 39; Quebec 57 to 44; Ontario 65 to 43; Alberta 125 to 110. It increased from 87 to 98 in Manitoba; 103 to 113 in Saskatchewan and 43 to 62 in British Columbia.

OCEAN BIRD

ator G. H. Barbour. It will fall to Mr. Darby, as Provincial Treasurer, to deliver the annual budget address in the Legislature, a duty which Premier Jones discharged for the past two years, since the resignation of Mr. William Hughes from that office.

Hon. Mr. Baker, who succeeds Mr. Stewart as Minister of Agriculture, represents the Fourth District of Prince and is a native of Margate, where he was born in 1896. He is a prominent farmer and fox breeder and entered the Government some months ago as a non-portfolio member in succession to Mr. Horace Wright.

Conspiracy Case Goes To Jury

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 — (CP) — The conspiracy case against 11 top United States Communist leaders went to a Federal court jury late today after a historic nine-month trial.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina handed the case to the eight women and four men jurors after instructing them that neither the Communist Party nor its textbooks were on trial.

The 11 defendants, and they alone, are before the bar of American justice, he said in a charge that lasted two hours and 15 minutes.

Judge Medina asked the jurors for "a just and true verdict no matter whom it hurts."

A guilty verdict would have far-reaching effects on the Communist Party as it now is set up in the United States.

Consistently, week upon week, the defendants have denied that they harbor, as is charged, plans for violent revolution to replace the American system of government with a Soviet-style dictatorship.

They called themselves, in the defence summation that ended yesterday, students of socialism, working for peace and a world of plenty.

Urge Appointment Of Ambassador To The Vatican

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 13 — (CP) — Appointment of a Canadian ambassador to the Vatican "without delay" is sought in a resolution adopted today by the Catholic Women's League.

Other subjects of resolutions adopted by the League, holding its 29th annual national convention here, include a distinctive Canadian flag, an active crusade against salacious literature, internationalization of holy places in Palestine and changes in the words of "O Canada."

The resolution asking the Government to establish full diplomatic relations with the Vatican states Canada's status makes it inconvenient for citizens visiting the Vatican to be compelled to ask the diplomatic services of the British ambassador.

The design of the Canadian flag would be half red and half white, the colors to be arranged diagonally and have a green maple leaf in the centre.

Salacious literature, objectionable comics and indecent pictures and radio presentations constitute a grave threat to the mental and moral welfare of youth, the resolution says.

The delegates approved a proposal to include in the words of "O Canada" suitable and proper references to "Almighty God or Divine Providence."

In all instances the resolves included the sending the copies of the resolutions to the Prime Minister and the appropriate Cabinet members. In the case of the Palestine resolution, a copy will be sent to the President of the new Republic of Israel.

Delegates heard a description of the work of "Our Lady's Missionaries" by Rt. Rev. D.R. MacDonald of Alexandria, Ont., 82-year-old founder of the new group which he described as the "infant" movement of the Catholic Church in Canada.

The C.W.L. financial report was presented by Mrs. W. J. Dundin of Montreal, national finance convener. The report stressed the needs of national headquarters to cope with the steadily-expanding growth of the office, the possible ways of new financing and internal changes in the financial set-up generally.

Most Rev. John C. Cody, Co-adjutor Bishop of London, national director of the C.W.L., took an active part in the discussion, offering several helpful suggestions.

One of these is that more emphasis should be placed on the solicitation of advertising for the C.W.L. national publications as a means of obtaining additional revenue. Another was increased subscriptions for the publication.

Shirley Temple Breaks With Actor Husband

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13 — (AP) — Shirley Temple, who as a winning, golden-haired tot charmed her way into the hearts of millions of movie fans, split today with her handsome husband of four years, actor John Agar.

"I have no comment, whatsoever," the 21-year-old Shirley said calmly. "We reached a decision last night. John is no longer living in our home."

Her lawyer, George Stahlman, said he is drawing up divorce papers. The complaint will allege mental cruelty.

Agar, 28, declared: "I have nothing to say other than that I hope the thing can be handled in a dignified manner. I haven't thought it out clearly as yet, but I do not think I will contest Shirley's divorce suit."

Hollywood has buzzed with rumors for several weeks that trouble was brewing. But they kept up appearances to the end. In public their marriage seemed the storybook affair it started out to be.

The wartime romance between the movie public's sweetheart and the tall, good-looking Air Force sergeant put her back in the spotlight she had vacated when awkward adolescence hobbled her screen career.

A crowd of 5000 jammed traffic outside the church where she took her vows. After the double-ring ceremony Agar gave his bride a kiss much longer than any of the censors would allow.

Shirley, who prefers quiet to excitement, moved into a home of her own and settled down to raise a family. Her daughter, Linda, was born Jan. 30, 1948. Continuing her movie work, she prospered, although she never approached the heights of her childhood. Agar, too, showed promise in a succession of roles but has yet to achieve stardom.
