SUMMARY

(Special to the Guardian.) LONDON, May 14.—The American note to Germany and the new turn which the Italian situation has taken by reason of the resignation of Premier Salandra and the Cabinet are features of to-day's war news. The firm attitude which the American Government has taken with regard to the German's submarine action against ships and citizens meets general approval here. The question now is not what the United States will do but what will Germany's answer be? It is believed in high official quarters here that Germany will not agree to reverse the submarine blockade policy and the conclusion drawn is that the United States will be compelled to sever diplomatic relations with her. The hope is everywhere expressed that the United States will not be foregone by the situation.

SUPPOSED GERMAN ATTEMPT TO BLOCK ST. LAWRENCE

(Special to the Guardian.) NEW YORK, May 13.—Sensational reports were going the rounds of the St. Lawrence river to-day to the effect that German agents were attempting to purchase a large steamship in order that the vessel might be blown up at a narrow part of the St. Lawrence River, thus preventing the departure of the large fleet of transports which are soon to leave Montreal. A steamship man said he had information from Montreal that the attempt to block the channel was to be made at a point near Three Rivers, Quebec. The plan was, according to the informant, to load the steamer with 10,000 tons of rock ballast and cement which when sunk would solidify and practically form a wall across the fairway.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Sensational reports were going the rounds of the St. Lawrence river to-day to the effect that German agents were attempting to purchase a large steamship in order that the vessel might be blown up at a narrow part of the St. Lawrence River, thus preventing the departure of the large fleet of transports which are soon to leave Montreal. A steamship man said he had information from Montreal that the attempt to block the channel was to be made at a point near Three Rivers, Quebec. The plan was, according to the informant, to load the steamer with 10,000 tons of rock ballast and cement which when sunk would solidify and practically form a wall across the fairway.
