SOMEWHAT UNUSUAL—After the experience of a certain woman in Summerside on Wednesday evening became known to the public generally the chosen few who like a drop of hooch at times and do not always have the money to pay for the drop, are rejoicing in the presence of an easy-mark in the town. According to the story, which is vouched for by a good authority, a woman and child arrived in the town on Wednesday evening from the western end of the Island, having planned to leave the next morning for Boston. In celebration of her departure the woman had taken several drops of joy water, too much, so that when she tried to repose on the lounge of the boarding house parlor where she stayed, she could not keep her balance and rolled over onto the floor. After she had been taken to her room and the effect of John Barneycorn somewhat worn off, the woman started in for a tour of the town, eventually encountering Hawkshaw the village detective. Not being able to withstand her charms, Hawkshaw accompanied the western vamp to the boarding house and in the secret sanctity of the kitchen loaned her five dollars, taking the woman's watch as security. On Thursday morning, accompanied by the child and an aching head, the woman set out for the bright lights of Essex St., notifying the boarding house keeper through that she had the original five spot given her by Hawkshaw and that she would cherish it as a valued souvenir.

The ambulance was sent out and Mr. Bishop was removed to the Prince County Hospital, where he is resting as comfortably as could be expected. Mr. Bishop is eight-two years of age.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE—What was considered a miraculous escape from death was made by Thomas Patterson and family on Wednesday afternoon when motoring from Summerside to Freetown. When nearing Freetown, through some inexplicable reason, there was a short circuit in the wiring system between the timer and the carburetor and the car was set afire. Just as Mr. Patterson had gotten his wife and family to a place of safety the car blew up with a tremendous report; the only parts left worth salvaging were the wheels and the axles. Neighbors came to the assistance of the party and a team was secured to drive them back to Summerside.
