

The SUMMERSIDE GUARDIAN

AND PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

AGENT: Mrs. John Pond, 31 Church Street - Phone 289
SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY

News, subscriptions, advertising, should be left with Mrs. Pond.

The Guardian may be bought daily at any of the following stores in Summerside:
Bell Bookstore, Water Street.
Gourlies Drugstore, Water Street.
Toronto Bakery, Water Street.

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by carrier boy at 2¢ per day, or 10¢ per week. Phone 289 for this service, give your order to the boy responsible for deliveries on your route.

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at a special rate, strictly payable in advance.

HORSE RUGS, Sleigh Robes, Whips, etc., sold at Brace's. L-659-2-4-21.

HORSE MEAT, Beef, Tripe, Mutton, Breeding Cubs and Meats, sold at Brace's. L-659-2-4-21.

PERFECT PICTURES when you send your films to us for finishing. Free enlargements. Over 1000 prints. Enman Drug and Photo Service, Summerside. L-618-2-1-4-8-11.

LOST somewhere between Summerside and Prince George's Bay, a red leather bag containing a ten dollar bill. Finder kindly return to Mrs. Mabel Chisholm. L-693.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stanley Bridge Dairying Co. will be held in the Masonic Hall, Summerside, on Tuesday, February 11th, at 7 p.m. H. S. MacEwen, Sec'y. L-661-2-4-31.

HOME ON LEAVE-Claire Kelly of the Signalers Corps stationed at Halifax, N.S., arrived home Saturday evening to spend a short fortnight with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kelly, Summerside.

MAKING GOOD RECOVERY from a recent accident is making a good recovery in the Prince George's Bay hospital. It was necessary to amputate the foot as it had become infected.

TENDERS FOR HAULING CRAM-Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to and including February 11th, for the hauling of Cram in the Kentville, N.S., district for season 1941 from May 1st to November 30th, 1941. Boundaries of routes and any other information may be obtained from the undersigned. Lowest or any tender necessarily accepted. W. L. Delaney, Secretary. L-484-1-29-2-p-5.

QUILT WEDDING-A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Monday at the home of Mrs. MacEwen. Rev. G. J. MacEwen officiating when Miss Cameron, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cameron, was united in marriage to Michael Edward Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watson, on Saturday evening for observation.

TENDERS FOR WOOD-Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to and including Tuesday, February 11th, for supplying the Summerside Dairying Association with 80 cords hardwood; to be piled and measured at factory. Wood not to be over three feet in length and not smaller than three inches; over three inches to be split. May tender for any part of the above amount. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. W. L. Delaney, Secretary. L-484-1-29-2-5.

CELEBRATE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY-Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Arsenault of St. Charles were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on Monday, Feb. 10. They are both enjoying good health. They were married at Montserrat Church in 1891 by Rev. Fr. Paul Lau Buisson, who had charge of the ceremony. Mrs. Arsenault is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Burns, who are still living. They receive many messages of congratulation on their anniversary.

DEATH OF MRS. FRANCIS HAGEN-There passed away at her home at 117½ Cross on Saturday, January 30th, Mrs. Francis Hagen in her 77th year. Mrs. Hagen had been in failing health for a number of years but had taken a stroke a few days before Saturday. She was before her marriage Miss Hughes of Kelly's Cross. She was a woman with many fine characteristics which endeared her to a wide circle of friends. Her husband preceded her about four years ago. Since her death she had received many messages of sympathy. The funeral was held on Saturday morning from her late residence to St. R. C. Church at Kelly's Cross. Rev. Fr. Keeffe officiating.

PERSONALS
-Mrs. Donald MacPherson of Borden was a visitor to Summerside on Saturday.
-Master Preton Kelly of Summerside spent the weekend with relatives in Borden.
-Miss Helen Kelly of Clearmont recently for St. John where she obtained a position.
-Miss Emma Myers of Halifax visited her old home in Westport the guest of Mrs. Maurine Myers.

MECHANIZATION COST
CANBERRA (CP)—Army Minister Bennett reported four divisions and corps troops of the Australian forces were equipped with 19,150 motor vehicles costing £4,500,000 ($16,300,000).

URGENT MORE ONIONS
LONDON (CP)—Country War Agricultural Executive Committees have advised growers this year to plant 14,000 additional acres of onions to maintain a normal supply.

BORDEN

Mrs. Norman Oatway was a visitor to Charlottetown on Friday who she visited her son, Fred, who is a patient in the Provincial Sanatorium.

Mrs. Harry Heffell and children Helen and Lloyd were visitors to Summerside on Saturday.

Mrs. Gerald Bowness and little daughter, Donna of Charlottetown spent the week-end in Borden. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Constable.

Mrs. Don MacPherson of Borden returned home on Saturday from a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. MacIvor of Summerside.

Mrs. W. A. Field has returned to Borden from a visit to relatives in Montreal.

Misses Jean MacIsaac, Eleanor Campbell, Betty Lynds and Doris Herring, of Borden were visitors to Summerside on Saturday.

Mr. Anthony Gallant, quartermaster on the S. S. Charlottetown spent the week end at his home in Muddy Creek.

Miss Bernice Sharpe, who has spent the past two weeks in Moncton, returned to her home here on Friday.

Friends here were sorry to learn of the illness of little Desmond MacIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacIvor of Borden. Desmond had an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. Jack Ferguson R. C. N. Y. R. who has been home on furlough left for Halifax on Monday.

Miss Grace Howatt of Carleton Place, who has been home on furlough, guest of Miss Glenn Bernard.

Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden left for Yarmouth on Monday where she will visit her husband.

The regular auction party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday with five tables playing. Ladies prize was won Mrs. T. Sexton, gents by Mr. Neil Derrach with consolation prizes going to Mrs. W. Laird and Mr. Emery Richards. After lunch had been served a vessel carrying a cargo of freestone which was won by Mr. Ralph Dorsey.

TWO MEN SAVE
(Continued from page 1)

water supply ran short. The 26 survivors struggled at the oars, discouraged when several ships failed to see their fares. Then came a rescue.

Capt. Sinclair Bege received the O.B.E., as does Chief Officer J. E. Embley. Captain Bege was commanding a vessel carrying a cargo of herring oil which was bombed and set afire. The crew was ordered to the boats when there was a fire-fighting party, under the captain, remained and saved the ship's cargo.

Embley, aboard the torpedoed vessel, took charge of the lifeboat tiller for six hours and buoyed up the hopes of the seamen with a lively run of chatter.

Five members of the tanker San Demetrio, temporarily abandoned when she was set afire by a raider, are among those awarded. The crew in one lifeboat re-boarded the vessel, got the blaze under control, repaired the engines and pumps and without a usable compass guided their ship to port. Chief Officer C. Pollard and Second Officer A. G. Hawkins received the O.B.E., the boatswain, W. Fletcher, AB O. Preston and Storekeeper J. Davies, the M.B.E.

The San Demetrio was one of the 38 ships in convoy attacked by a raider in the North Atlantic last November 5 and defended by the H.M.S. Jersey Bay, which went down holding off the Nazi attacker while the vessels scattered. Five ships were lost. The San Demetrio was given up as lost, but turned up in port unexpectedly.

The crew took to the lifeboats and stood off at a short distance watching the raider. Then they decided to take a chance and put the fire out. They sailed the ship to port by charting her way by the stars.

Already the youth of the democracies had responded in large numbers to the call. They had come from various parts of the Empire and from the United States demonstrating their faith in "their way of life" and their revulsion of the enemy's ideals. "And too we are prepared to give them better arms and better training than their adversaries," these factors coupled with their moral superiority in the knowledge their concept of life is richer than the enemy's will bring them victory.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous forebodings of the enemy's ruthless preparations to deliver his most terrific blow against us" he told of the difficulties which had to be surmounted.

In some training schools three advanced training planes were doing the work of four because there had been delays in the Canadian production of these planes. "Unfortunately I don't know why it has not been possible to produce these planes on schedule and I am not in a position to judge the delays." But one experienced officer had told him the other day: "There are some manufacturers who are either damn fools or damn lazy."

Despite the delays however the Government had assured a nearly adequate supply by making large purchases of advanced trainers in the United States.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous fore-

Weeks of effort to raise an R.C.A.F. plane with the bodies of two airmen from the bottom of Lake Muskoka were rewarded, when a diver attached a cable and the craft was hauled to the surface. Workers are hauling the plane by means of a derrick, set on a platform built on the ice by army engineers. Diver Barney Bristow made three descents into the deep water to fix a steel cable around the plane. A second plane, lost at the same time, remains to be located. It was thought both planes had crashed within a few feet of each other.

FLY THROUGH

(Continued from page 1)

By nightfall four German planes were officially marked up as shot down over Britain over the Channel and observers in a southeast coast town said a fifth had been chased across the channel by two Royal Air Force fighters and crashed.

Off Suffolk, a German bomber was shot into the sea, the Air Ministry said, after it had bombed a town, damaging houses, business buildings and public services, and causing a small number of casualties.

Two German fighter-bombers later were shot down in the latter Thames estuary and a fighter was clawed from the air off the coast of Kent, the same statement said. Some bombs were dropped in Kent.

In the southeast coast town, two bombs were dropped, two British fighters got to the attacker's tail, rode him to sea and dispatched him.

During the day Ronald Cross, Minister of Shipping, disclosed in speech to the Empire Society that long distance United States planes are to be used to help convoy British merchant shipping.

Miss Bernice Sharpe, who has spent the past two weeks in Moncton, returned to her home here on Friday.

Friends here were sorry to learn of the illness of little Desmond MacIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacIvor of Borden. Desmond had an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. Jack Ferguson R. C. N. Y. R. who has been home on furlough left for Halifax on Monday.

Miss Grace Howatt of Carleton Place, who has been home on furlough, guest of Miss Glenn Bernard.

Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden left for Yarmouth on Monday where she will visit her husband.

The regular auction party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday with five tables playing. Ladies prize was won Mrs. T. Sexton, gents by Mr. Neil Derrach with consolation prizes going to Mrs. W. Laird and Mr. Emery Richards. After lunch had been served a vessel carrying a cargo of freestone which was won by Mr. Ralph Dorsey.

TWO MEN SAVE
(Continued from page 1)

water supply ran short. The 26 survivors struggled at the oars, discouraged when several ships failed to see their fares. Then came a rescue.

Capt. Sinclair Bege received the O.B.E., as does Chief Officer J. E. Embley. Captain Bege was commanding a vessel carrying a cargo of herring oil which was bombed and set afire. The crew was ordered to the boats when there was a fire-fighting party, under the captain, remained and saved the ship's cargo.

Embley, aboard the torpedoed vessel, took charge of the lifeboat tiller for six hours and buoyed up the hopes of the seamen with a lively run of chatter.

Five members of the tanker San Demetrio, temporarily abandoned when she was set afire by a raider, are among those awarded. The crew in one lifeboat re-boarded the vessel, got the blaze under control, repaired the engines and pumps and without a usable compass guided their ship to port. Chief Officer C. Pollard and Second Officer A. G. Hawkins received the O.B.E., the boatswain, W. Fletcher, AB O. Preston and Storekeeper J. Davies, the M.B.E.

The San Demetrio was one of the 38 ships in convoy attacked by a raider in the North Atlantic last November 5 and defended by the H.M.S. Jersey Bay, which went down holding off the Nazi attacker while the vessels scattered. Five ships were lost. The San Demetrio was given up as lost, but turned up in port unexpectedly.

The crew took to the lifeboats and stood off at a short distance watching the raider. Then they decided to take a chance and put the fire out. They sailed the ship to port by charting her way by the stars.

Already the youth of the democracies had responded in large numbers to the call. They had come from various parts of the Empire and from the United States demonstrating their faith in "their way of life" and their revulsion of the enemy's ideals. "And too we are prepared to give them better arms and better training than their adversaries," these factors coupled with their moral superiority in the knowledge their concept of life is richer than the enemy's will bring them victory.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous forebodings of the enemy's ruthless preparations to deliver his most terrific blow against us" he told of the difficulties which had to be surmounted.

In some training schools three advanced training planes were doing the work of four because there had been delays in the Canadian production of these planes. "Unfortunately I don't know why it has not been possible to produce these planes on schedule and I am not in a position to judge the delays." But one experienced officer had told him the other day: "There are some manufacturers who are either damn fools or damn lazy."

Despite the delays however the Government had assured a nearly adequate supply by making large purchases of advanced trainers in the United States.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous fore-

Weeks of effort to raise an R.C.A.F. plane with the bodies of two airmen from the bottom of Lake Muskoka were rewarded, when a diver attached a cable and the craft was hauled to the surface. Workers are hauling the plane by means of a derrick, set on a platform built on the ice by army engineers. Diver Barney Bristow made three descents into the deep water to fix a steel cable around the plane. A second plane, lost at the same time, remains to be located. It was thought both planes had crashed within a few feet of each other.

Willkie received

By King and Queen; Visits Dublin

By Eddy Gilmore
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie left London early today on the first stage of his journey home, after a day in which he visited both the Prime Minister of Great Britain and the King and Queen of Great Britain.

It was an unprecedented conclusion to an unprecedented non-official visit to these islands. Now Willkie will fly home, via Lisbon.

Before he flew to Dublin for a surprise interview with Eamon De Valera, Willkie said he would ask him about the controversial subject of British use of Eire's ports and bases, which Mr. De Valera has refused. When he flew back to London this evening, Mr. Willkie said: "I got the information I wanted."

During the day Ronald Cross, Minister of Shipping, disclosed in speech to the Empire Society that long distance United States planes are to be used to help convoy British merchant shipping.

Miss Bernice Sharpe, who has spent the past two weeks in Moncton, returned to her home here on Friday.

Friends here were sorry to learn of the illness of little Desmond MacIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacIvor of Borden. Desmond had an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. Jack Ferguson R. C. N. Y. R. who has been home on furlough left for Halifax on Monday.

Miss Grace Howatt of Carleton Place, who has been home on furlough, guest of Miss Glenn Bernard.

Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden left for Yarmouth on Monday where she will visit her husband.

The regular auction party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday with five tables playing. Ladies prize was won Mrs. T. Sexton, gents by Mr. Neil Derrach with consolation prizes going to Mrs. W. Laird and Mr. Emery Richards. After lunch had been served a vessel carrying a cargo of freestone which was won by Mr. Ralph Dorsey.

TWO MEN SAVE
(Continued from page 1)

water supply ran short. The 26 survivors struggled at the oars, discouraged when several ships failed to see their fares. Then came a rescue.

Capt. Sinclair Bege received the O.B.E., as does Chief Officer J. E. Embley. Captain Bege was commanding a vessel carrying a cargo of herring oil which was bombed and set afire. The crew was ordered to the boats when there was a fire-fighting party, under the captain, remained and saved the ship's cargo.

Embley, aboard the torpedoed vessel, took charge of the lifeboat tiller for six hours and buoyed up the hopes of the seamen with a lively run of chatter.

Five members of the tanker San Demetrio, temporarily abandoned when she was set afire by a raider, are among those awarded. The crew in one lifeboat re-boarded the vessel, got the blaze under control, repaired the engines and pumps and without a usable compass guided their ship to port. Chief Officer C. Pollard and Second Officer A. G. Hawkins received the O.B.E., the boatswain, W. Fletcher, AB O. Preston and Storekeeper J. Davies, the M.B.E.

The San Demetrio was one of the 38 ships in convoy attacked by a raider in the North Atlantic last November 5 and defended by the H.M.S. Jersey Bay, which went down holding off the Nazi attacker while the vessels scattered. Five ships were lost. The San Demetrio was given up as lost, but turned up in port unexpectedly.

The crew took to the lifeboats and stood off at a short distance watching the raider. Then they decided to take a chance and put the fire out. They sailed the ship to port by charting her way by the stars.

Already the youth of the democracies had responded in large numbers to the call. They had come from various parts of the Empire and from the United States demonstrating their faith in "their way of life" and their revulsion of the enemy's ideals. "And too we are prepared to give them better arms and better training than their adversaries," these factors coupled with their moral superiority in the knowledge their concept of life is richer than the enemy's will bring them victory.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous forebodings of the enemy's ruthless preparations to deliver his most terrific blow against us" he told of the difficulties which had to be surmounted.

In some training schools three advanced training planes were doing the work of four because there had been delays in the Canadian production of these planes. "Unfortunately I don't know why it has not been possible to produce these planes on schedule and I am not in a position to judge the delays." But one experienced officer had told him the other day: "There are some manufacturers who are either damn fools or damn lazy."

Despite the delays however the Government had assured a nearly adequate supply by making large purchases of advanced trainers in the United States.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous fore-

Weeks of effort to raise an R.C.A.F. plane with the bodies of two airmen from the bottom of Lake Muskoka were rewarded, when a diver attached a cable and the craft was hauled to the surface. Workers are hauling the plane by means of a derrick, set on a platform built on the ice by army engineers. Diver Barney Bristow made three descents into the deep water to fix a steel cable around the plane. A second plane, lost at the same time, remains to be located. It was thought both planes had crashed within a few feet of each other.

Prominent

Educationist Dies in West

WINNIPEG, Feb. 4.—(CP)—Dr. W. T. Allison, 66, former professor of English at the University of Manitoba and one of Canada's leading men of letters, died at his residence here today.

Dr. Allison became head of the English department at Manitoba University in 1920. He was born in Unionville, Ont.

While he stressed the works of Canadian poets to his students, Dr. Allison's special study was John Milton, himself an author of verse. Dr. Allison published in Toronto in 1909 a volume of poetry under the title of "The Amber Army and Other Poems." Another of his works, "Milton's Poem of Kings and Magistrates," was published in New York in 1911.

He was one of the founders of the British Fellowship and was president of the Canadian Authors' Association in 1927-28.

Mrs. Colin Ashdown, Halifax, is a daughter, Carlyle Allison, news editor of the Winnipeg Tribune is a son.

Friends here were sorry to learn of the illness of little Desmond MacIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacIvor of Borden. Desmond had an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. Jack Ferguson R. C. N. Y. R. who has been home on furlough left for Halifax on Monday.

Miss Grace Howatt of Carleton Place, who has been home on furlough, guest of Miss Glenn Bernard.

Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden left for Yarmouth on Monday where she will visit her husband.

The regular auction party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday with five tables playing. Ladies prize was won Mrs. T. Sexton, gents by Mr. Neil Derrach with consolation prizes going to Mrs. W. Laird and Mr. Emery Richards. After lunch had been served a vessel carrying a cargo of freestone which was won by Mr. Ralph Dorsey.

TWO MEN SAVE
(Continued from page 1)

water supply ran short. The 26 survivors struggled at the oars, discouraged when several ships failed to see their fares. Then came a rescue.

Capt. Sinclair Bege received the O.B.E., as does Chief Officer J. E. Embley. Captain Bege was commanding a vessel carrying a cargo of herring oil which was bombed and set afire. The crew was ordered to the boats when there was a fire-fighting party, under the captain, remained and saved the ship's cargo.

Embley, aboard the torpedoed vessel, took charge of the lifeboat tiller for six hours and buoyed up the hopes of the seamen with a lively run of chatter.

Five members of the tanker San Demetrio, temporarily abandoned when she was set afire by a raider, are among those awarded. The crew in one lifeboat re-boarded the vessel, got the blaze under control, repaired the engines and pumps and without a usable compass guided their ship to port. Chief Officer C. Pollard and Second Officer A. G. Hawkins received the O.B.E., the boatswain, W. Fletcher, AB O. Preston and Storekeeper J. Davies, the M.B.E.

The San Demetrio was one of the 38 ships in convoy attacked by a raider in the North Atlantic last November 5 and defended by the H.M.S. Jersey Bay, which went down holding off the Nazi attacker while the vessels scattered. Five ships were lost. The San Demetrio was given up as lost, but turned up in port unexpectedly.

The crew took to the lifeboats and stood off at a short distance watching the raider. Then they decided to take a chance and put the fire out. They sailed the ship to port by charting her way by the stars.

Already the youth of the democracies had responded in large numbers to the call. They had come from various parts of the Empire and from the United States demonstrating their faith in "their way of life" and their revulsion of the enemy's ideals. "And too we are prepared to give them better arms and better training than their adversaries," these factors coupled with their moral superiority in the knowledge their concept of life is richer than the enemy's will bring them victory.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous forebodings of the enemy's ruthless preparations to deliver his most terrific blow against us" he told of the difficulties which had to be surmounted.

In some training schools three advanced training planes were doing the work of four because there had been delays in the Canadian production of these planes. "Unfortunately I don't know why it has not been possible to produce these planes on schedule and I am not in a position to judge the delays." But one experienced officer had told him the other day: "There are some manufacturers who are either damn fools or damn lazy."

Despite the delays however the Government had assured a nearly adequate supply by making large purchases of advanced trainers in the United States.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous fore-

Weeks of effort to raise an R.C.A.F. plane with the bodies of two airmen from the bottom of Lake Muskoka were rewarded, when a diver attached a cable and the craft was hauled to the surface. Workers are hauling the plane by means of a derrick, set on a platform built on the ice by army engineers. Diver Barney Bristow made three descents into the deep water to fix a steel cable around the plane. A second plane, lost at the same time, remains to be located. It was thought both planes had crashed within a few feet of each other.

Better white

Bread object Of search

OTTAWA, Feb. 4.—(CP)—A white bread with all health-giving properties of whole wheat bread and at no higher cost is the objective of a research program now nearing completion.

Canadian millers and bakers are awaiting the results of it before taking steps to market a loaf that is richer in vitamin B than the present loaf.

L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, said tonight the development is spurred to some extent by the prospective demand for vitamin-rich flour in the United Kingdom.

The British Government is said to be keen on getting the new type of bread into general consumption because of the strains and hardships of war and the need of providing the population with the best possible food.

If the plan to get more of the natural wheat into white flour is successful, research men said it will result in more flour from less wheat, possibly 75 pounds of flour from 100 pounds of wheat instead of 70 pounds at present.

Friends here were sorry to learn of the illness of little Desmond MacIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacIvor of Borden. Desmond had an operation for appendicitis last week.

Mr. Jack Ferguson R. C. N. Y. R. who has been home on furlough left for Halifax on Monday.

Miss Grace Howatt of Carleton Place, who has been home on furlough, guest of Miss Glenn Bernard.

Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden left for Yarmouth on Monday where she will visit her husband.

The regular auction party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday with five tables playing. Ladies prize was won Mrs. T. Sexton, gents by Mr. Neil Derrach with consolation prizes going to Mrs. W. Laird and Mr. Emery Richards. After lunch had been served a vessel carrying a cargo of freestone which was won by Mr. Ralph Dorsey.

TWO MEN SAVE
(Continued from page 1)

water supply ran short. The 26 survivors struggled at the oars, discouraged when several ships failed to see their fares. Then came a rescue.

Capt. Sinclair Bege received the O.B.E., as does Chief Officer J. E. Embley. Captain Bege was commanding a vessel carrying a cargo of herring oil which was bombed and set afire. The crew was ordered to the boats when there was a fire-fighting party, under the captain, remained and saved the ship's cargo.

Embley, aboard the torpedoed vessel, took charge of the lifeboat tiller for six hours and buoyed up the hopes of the seamen with a lively run of chatter.

Five members of the tanker San Demetrio, temporarily abandoned when she was set afire by a raider, are among those awarded. The crew in one lifeboat re-boarded the vessel, got the blaze under control, repaired the engines and pumps and without a usable compass guided their ship to port. Chief Officer C. Pollard and Second Officer A. G. Hawkins received the O.B.E., the boatswain, W. Fletcher, AB O. Preston and Storekeeper J. Davies, the M.B.E.

The San Demetrio was one of the 38 ships in convoy attacked by a raider in the North Atlantic last November 5 and defended by the H.M.S. Jersey Bay, which went down holding off the Nazi attacker while the vessels scattered. Five ships were lost. The San Demetrio was given up as lost, but turned up in port unexpectedly.

The crew took to the lifeboats and stood off at a short distance watching the raider. Then they decided to take a chance and put the fire out. They sailed the ship to port by charting her way by the stars.

Already the youth of the democracies had responded in large numbers to the call. They had come from various parts of the Empire and from the United States demonstrating their faith in "their way of life" and their revulsion of the enemy's ideals. "And too we are prepared to give them better arms and better training than their adversaries," these factors coupled with their moral superiority in the knowledge their concept of life is richer than the enemy's will bring them victory.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous forebodings of the enemy's ruthless preparations to deliver his most terrific blow against us" he told of the difficulties which had to be surmounted.

In some training schools three advanced training planes were doing the work of four because there had been delays in the Canadian production of these planes. "Unfortunately I don't know why it has not been possible to produce these planes on schedule and I am not in a position to judge the delays." But one experienced officer had told him the other day: "There are some manufacturers who are either damn fools or damn lazy."

Despite the delays however the Government had assured a nearly adequate supply by making large purchases of advanced trainers in the United States.

He warned against complacency and speaking of "the ominous fore-

Weeks of effort to raise an R.C.A.F. plane with the bodies of two airmen from the bottom of Lake Muskoka were rewarded, when a diver attached a cable and the craft was hauled to the surface. Workers are hauling the plane by means of a derrick, set on a platform built on the ice by army engineers. Diver Barney Bristow made three descents into the deep water to fix a steel cable around the plane. A second plane, lost at the same time, remains to be located. It was thought both planes had crashed within a few feet of each other.

BUCKLEY'S CAPSULES give you

3 INGREDIENTS to Relieve

HEAD COLDS GRIPPY ACHES, PAINS HEAD