N. H. L. moves into High gear Over weekend

(Canadian Press) The National Hockey League will move into high gear during the week-end with inter-games scheduled, featuring the opening encounter for the Boston Bruins...

The Bruins are booked to meet Maple Leafs at Toronto tonight, while Montreal Canadiens will take on Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal. Tomorrow New York Rangers will meet the Red Wings in Detroit.

Boston so far, has not yet played against other N.H.L. teams, and as a result, eyes of sport fans are fixed on the Queen City to see how the present holders of the Stanley Cup will shape up.

They should Rangers defeat Detroit, the league leadership. The New York team would then have a hold on first place, and provided the Canadiens defeat the Black Hawks, the hold would be unchallenged.

If the Red Wings defeat the Manhattan heroes, they will only consolidate their claim at the top of the ladder. The Americans are idle over the week-end.

Weather ideal For Western Football finals

REGINA, Nov. 7-(CP)—A sudden about-face by the weatherman has provided an ideal setting for tomorrow's Western inter-provincial football union playoff opener between the champions, Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the young, ambitious Regina Roughriders.

The best-of-three series for the Western continues in Winnipeg Tuesday, with a third game in Winnipeg Nov. 15 if necessary. Snow, sleet and rain fell all week, but today a bright, warm sun was shining.

After indoor drills during the week, Coach Dean Griffing says Bombers are "in for a licking." Commenting on his team's condition after a light signal practice outdoors yesterday, Griffing said "no team will stop my squad if they keep this up. There is more harmony and ambition in the camp than ever before."

The Regina backfield will be bolstered with the return of Ray Powell, 210-pound plunger who has been out for a month with a shoulder injury.

Bombers come to town today with a reported injury-riddled club but Roughriders refuse to listen to that talk. "They're no cripples," declared Griffing, "although we

Doctors put O. K. on Lew

NEW YORK, Nov. 7-(AP)—Three doctors assigned by the New York State Athletic Commission gave Lew Jenkins a thorough going-over today and announced that the e is nothing wrong with Lew that a little serious training can't correct.

The Sweetwater, Texas, batter thereupon was ordered by the Commission to start working out immediately in preparation for the lightweight title fight with Sammy Angott here Dec. 19. The alternative, they said, would be forfeiture of $1,500 posted by Jenkins when the fight was arranged.

Jenkins had contended he still was suffering from a cracked vertebrae, received when he fell from his motorcycle several months ago.

P. W. C. turns Down invitation To Wolfville

An invitation from Acadia University to play an exhibition football game at Wolfville was turned down "regrettably" yesterday by a Prince of Wales College team. Earlier a similar invitation from the New Glasgow N. S. high school was also declined.

The college boys said they "would like nothing better" than to go on a road trip but time and finances stand in the way.

Millionaires on Top of C. B. H. L.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Nov. 7-(CP)—Sydney Millionaires broke the three team tie for top spot in the Cape Breton Hockey League tonight when they shredded Glace Bay Miners 3-2 in a see-saw tussle. Handicapped by having four players watch the game from the sidelines, two because of injuries and two because of transfer difficulties, the Millionaires opened the scoring with an early goal by George Boothman.

The Miners even late in the same period on a solo dash but Sydney took over the lead in the second period when Jack Archibald counted on a pass from Bill McGregor. Jim Gray hung up the winning tally in the final frame, receiving a pass from McGregor. The two-goal margin was added thin in the dying minutes of play with a goal by Allan Foster, but the Glace Bay rally that saw six players up the ice petered out.

McManus was outstanding in the Sydney case.

Middies favored To beat Irish

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7-(AP)—Future for the first time in 11 years of their colorful football rivalry, Navy's forces will rely on two seaworthy lines and a fleet of fast, hard-running backs in an effort to sink Notre Dame tomorrow before a record and capacity crowd of 66,000 in Municipal Stadium.

Just as Notre Dame's game with army this year was a sellout week earlier than usual, so this clash with the Middies has attracted unusual attention.

The game itself shaped up as a battle between Navy's running attack and sound, set-on-pieces defence and a Notre Dame passing game built around sophomore Angelo Bertelli.

Navy has two lines of about equal strength—they have allowed only one touchdown in six games—and 13 backs good enough to set action.

The largest regiment of midshipmen in the history of the naval academy—3,110 men—will parade before the game.

Rough Riders at Home to Argos

TORONTO, Nov. 7-(CP)—The opinion seems general here that the chances of Toronto Argonauts for the Eastern Union Football championship rest on the calibre of kicking provided by Jim Folwell and K. Jek.

The Argonauts pulled out of Toronto this evening for the first part of the two-game, total-point series. The Middies earlier, will be pitted in one of the east's top games. The Ivy League will bring together Yale-Cornell, Columbia-Penn and Dartmouth-Princeton.

Lazzeri given Release by Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7-(AP)—Tony Lazzeri, one of the best of the mighty Yankee sluggers of the 1920's to remain active in baseball, has been given his requested release by the San Francisco Seals of the Coast League.

"I'd like to get a manager's job," the veteran second baseman explained. "I may go back to the national association meeting next month, but if I can line up something."

Lazzeri was signed by the Seals last season as a utility infielder, after he had managed the Toronto club of the International League in 1940. He played 102 games for the season.

Twenty years ago that dainty little mare Jeanette Rankin 2:03 1-2, was the money winner of the year. She was by San Francisco 2:07 1-4 and was trained and raced by Lon McDonald, one of the finest gentlemen that ever sat in a sulky.

Charlie Flemming, son of Vic Flemming, has been engaged to train and race the half-mile track stable of W. N. Reynolds, wealthy tobaccoist of Winston-Salem, N. C. during the 1942 race season.

Sapper Loses Princess

Sapper Henry Norrington of Toronto isn't going to marry his Russian princess. She says it's because he hasn't a commission and her parents say "we'd not believe he was the man for our daughter."

The London Sunday Pictorial says Sapper Norrington is a lucky man, commenting: "Hard luck, Mr. Norrington, although we can't help feeling you're darned lucky to get rid of your princess if she really believes that a common private would disgrace her. She's certainly disagreeable every Russian woman now engaged in the struggle for life and death against the common enemy."
