

SPREAD ON BREAD!

An old couple in England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth received the first tea sent there from China. They threw the liquor away and spread the leaves on bread!

Those who read the little folder in Blue Bird Tea packages make no mistake about the proper way to make tea.

The Lamp Must Not Go Out

More than half a century ago Florence Nightingale lighted the lamp of service for suffering humanity. Borne aloft during the war by forces of the Red Cross, this lamp is now prepared to cast its beneficent rays over our country at peace. Its success in ministering to the sick, comforting the distressed, and succoring the helpless, depends on your interest and your support. The lamp must not go out.

OF FOODSTUFFS, BUY ONLY FOR YOUR NEEDS—providing no surplus for waste. Of clothing, buy what you need, without resorting to what would have been called, before the war, foolish extravagance. Of all commodities, buy to match your requirements—that there may be no stoppage of useful industries nor unnecessary personal deprivation.

WOMEN DO NOT ANY LONGER PATRONIZE a store because of the fact that it is supposed to be the best store. They appraise the stores through their own experiences with them, and through the enterprise shown by the merchants in keeping the store-message always in evidence through advertising.
