Wartime Church Views Missions on Wider Front

ST. CATHERINES, Ont., June 7—(CP)—Reflecting optimism of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for its missions throughout Canada and beyond the seas despite the pressure of war, the report of the general board of missions was presented to the 66th General Assembly here today.

The report asked that the thanks of the Asembly be accorded to those appointed to various fields at home and abroad. These representatives of the Church had continued to render faithful service, "sometimes in the face of increasing difficulty and with inadequate income."

The General Assembly was also asked to express its appreciation of the Women's Missionary Societies' attitude from coast to coast in their general support and co-operation in connection with the general missionary work of the Church.

Change of Secretaries

It was pointed out that since the death of Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant in 1935 the major part of mission work direction up till last September was in the hands of Rev. Dr. J. W. MacNamara, Clerk of the Asembly. The report continued: "The executive placed on record the very deep appreciation of the general board of missions for the very faithful and efficient manner in which the duties of the office had been exercised by him (Dr. MacNamara) for a space of four years, in addition to his regular duties as Clerk of the Assembly."

Rev. Dr. W. A. Cameron, former minister of Central Church, Vancouver, who took over the duties of secretary of the general board of missions last September, reported to Assembly that the allocation to the board for its home and foreign missions was $225,000. Estimates passed by the board for its 1939-40 work totalled $252,302, and actual expenditures $248,788. "That there be no addition to the deficit from this source, the reserves were drawn upon to meet the over-expenditure," the report said.

The board submitted to Assembly a resolution expressing appreciation that the work among French-speaking people in Canada interrupted for some years, had been resumed by the board of missions. The proposed resolution added: "There has already been evidence of a new interest on the part of those whom we would serve and the prospects for the future are bright."

Home Missions

The report said the Presbyterian mission work had been expanded in the mining fields of Northern Ontario and Quebec. Drought in southwestern Manitoba last year and migrations to the north had created new responsibilities for the Church in certain areas. "If we fail them, no other Church is at present in a position to make this (spiritual) provision," the report warned.

Dealing with the work in Canada among non-English-speaking peoples, the board detailed progress among the Chinese in Montreal and the Hungarians in Toronto and other centres.

Across the Pacific the Korean Presbyterian Church had formed a union with the Presbyterian Church of Japan, which brought gains to both churches. In South America real progress had been made in British Guiana, the committee reported.

Ministry Educated

From the earliest time Presbyterians have prided themselves in an educated ministry as one of the strong bulwarks of the strength and abiding influence of their "Kirk": and nothing betrays and work detriment to their Church more than the carelessness and unfitness of those who serve. No prospective candidate need think that the path to the Presbyterian ministry is one of ease, free from the effort towards high attainment. In religion, as in all else, the best can be reached only by the loyalty and devotion to what is highest and best.

The attendance at the Asembly promises to be large. One in six of all ministerial members and presbyteries will be present, and an equal number of elders. Officers from every department of service will deliver their reports and be prepared to support them. Leaders in finance will give most gratifying statement, while some of the most glowing statements will be those of the gifted women who will stir the hearts of all the Fathers and Brethren by narrating the remarkable success of their service and devotion in giving the Gospel message through their departments to countless thousands at home and abroad.

Many problems will arise for solution, but these hardy sons of John Knox look eminently capable of solving them all.

New Species Wild Duck Nesting Here

An official of the United States Biological survey is in the province investigating the "ring-neck" species of wild duck, reported here for the first time last year. Harold S. Peters, Atlantic flyway biologist for the U. S. biological survey arrived here from New Brunswick. He is making a survey of principal nesting grounds in the province.

Yesterday, accompanied by a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, he found 12 pair hatching in the Avondale- Watervale areas of Queen's County. In addition the party discovered three odd males. Today they plan to extend the survey to King's County.

The species of duck under investigation, Mr. Peters said, was a former dweller on the plains west of the Mississippi River. About eight years ago they started moving eastward. In 1933 they had reached Maine and three years ago were reported in New Brunswick. Last year they were located here for the first time by members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Apparently they are back in larger numbers this year and seem to be adopting this province as a summer residence area.

It is expected Mr. Peters will go to Nova Scotia after he completes the survey here.

In Memoriam

MRS. CHARLES J. MacKINNON

The death occurred at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. MacKinnon, 2 Grafton St., Charlottetown Thursday evening of Mrs. Charles J. MacKinnon, aged 83.

On May 1st Mrs. MacKinnon left on a visit to her old home in New Glasgow. Here she took ill and on Wednesday she came back to Charlottetown accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. MacKinnon.

Although her condition was not considered critical, the end came very suddenly.

Mrs. MacKinnon and her husband came to reside with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. E. W. MacKinnon, Superintendent of the Canadian National Railways, P.E.I. division, and Mrs. MacKinnon in 1924.

Her husband predeceased her about five years ago.

She was a most estimable Christian lady and in her day had been actively engaged in church work, being a member of the United Church.

There are left to mourn three sons, John T. MacKinnon, New Westminster, B.C., W. H. MacKinnon, Stellarton, N.S., H. B. MacKinnon, New Glasgow, N.S., three daughters, Mrs. MacKinnon, Charlottetown, Mrs. E. T. Sullivan, and Miss Blanche MacKinnon of Boston, also one sister, Mrs. A. J. H. Fraser of New Glasgow, N. S., one brother in Winnipeg and several brothers in California.

A funeral service was held at St. Paul's Anglican Church last evening, conducted by the Rev. Ledrew Gardiner. Following the service the body was taken to the MacLean Funeral Home. It will be sent by train today to New Glasgow, N. S. for burial on Sunday.

MRS. HUGH F. CONNORS

The death occurred at her home, Longworth Street, on Saturday, June 1, of Mrs. Hugh F. Connors, formerly Miss Lillian Brown.

Born at Hunter River in 1868, a daughter of the late Gilbert and Mary Ann (Mahar) Brown, Mrs. Connors was educated at Hunter River school and Prince of Wales College, and subsequently taught school in Tignish and Covehead.

In 1896 she married Hugh Francis Connors. Mr. Connors, who died five months ago, was for many years a member of the Water Commission and had previously served on the City Council.

Devotedly attached to her family, Mrs. Connors' life was an example of unselfishness and kindness to all about her. She enjoyed the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends, and bore the ravages of a wasting illness with Christian cheerfulness and fortitude. The death of her husband last January was a severe shock to Mrs. Connors, who at that time was in precarious health.

She is survived by the following children: Gilbert F. Connors, Detroit; Hilda M. Connors, R.N., Detroit; Evelyn (Mrs. R. M. Peters), Timmins, Ont.; Fergus F. and Eleanor Ruth, Charlottetown; also one grandchild and three sisters, Mrs. Catherine Gallant, Rusticoville, Mrs. Amelia Buote, Rumford, Me. and Mrs. Andrew Doucette, Hunter River, to all of whom The Guardian tenders sincere sympathy.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, June 4, from the residence to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. C. McKenna, C.SS. R., thence to the Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were Jas. McInnis, James Smith, Daniel MacDonald Patrick McTague, S. T. Gallant and Frank Collins. Service at the grave was conducted by Rev. A. Loftus, C.SS.R.

PRINTED WOOL FEATURED

LONDON, June 7—Herringbone tweeds ousted checks for first place in woollen modes for summer sports wear as well as autumn fashions, and rich Indian prints on lightweight wool fabrics were one of the highlights of a style revue that was largely attended.

The dress parade to indicate the uses which are made of printed wools included a full-length printed corselet skirt with a plain hand-knit evening sweater, double-breasted dotted sports shirts for use with autumn tweeds, dinner dresses and play-suits in Indian prints. Several dresses, dressing-gowns and house-coats are done in prints usually confined to men's wool ties and scarfs.

Narrow double-breasted jacket closings, double pockets and Petersham pipings are featured details in autumn sports suit collections. Jackets are two to three inches above the wristbone, and skirts slim.

There are many heathery purple mixtures, also combinations; such as wine with blue and bright reds subdued by dark browns and greens, also black and white with a vivid crossbar.

16th Maritime Conference of United Church

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 7—(CP)—Addressing the 16th Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada at its opening session last night the retiring president, Rev. H.S.B. Strothard, Lunenburg, N.S., urged Christians to face the present world situation with courage and faith.

The church had sadly neglected its stewardship, he said. Christians had not been fully sensible of their responsibility but the present time of great urgency should arouse them to their duty.

Nationalist totalitarianism is in deadly conflict with the christian conviction that a man's supreme loyalty is to God alone, declared Dr. Strothard.

"The ancient issue between God and Caesar is raised now in a more critical form than at any period in the history of the church."

The ultimate victory remains with the forces of righteousness he stated. "That is why the Bible is pervaded with the quenchless optimism of faith in the triumph of God's righteous purpose."

The conference renewed a pledge of complete service and devotion to the task of conserving freedom and re-establishing order and justice in the world. A resolution to this effect was presented by Dr. George J. Trueman, president of Mount Allison University.

Fatalities Reach Five In N. B. Fire Accident

EDMUNDSTON, N. B., June 5—(CP)—Steadily growing since Monday afternoon, the list of fatalities caused by collapse of a high pulpwood conveyor was lengthened today when Ernest Martin, 29, died in hospital. Five deaths occurred previously.

Little hope had been held for Martin's recovery. John Charest and Emile Roussel remain in a serious condition but may survive. Willie Nadeau, 30, and Theophile Michaud, 40, were killed when the fire-weakened conveyor collapsed at the Fraser Companies Pulp Mill.

Archie Mignualt, 48, died a few hours later and Remie Couturier, 32, succumbed Monday evening. Xavier Volpe, 39, died yesterday.

Ten men were trapped on the conveyor while fighting a fire. Two escaped with minor injuries. The others were hurled more than 50 feet to the ground when the structure crumbled and were almost buried in wreckage.

A coroner's jury was sworn in yesterday, viewed the bodies of those who had died up to that time, and adjourned until Friday afternoon.

Daily War Survey

(By The Canadian Press)

The big German tanks which smashed a path for the German army through Flanders are meeting their match in Allied aircraft. The experience of warring men down through the ages is that whenever a new fighting device is developed some means is found to meet it.

French cannon-carrying aircraft are proving a match for the big tanks, all but impregnable to attack from the ground. The tanks are heavily armored on the sides, front and rear in order to avoid damage from fire of weapons on the ground. They are lightly armored on top, however, as it was not desirable to unduly increase the weight on the tank. The top is designed for protection against shell fragments and machine gun fire from the air.

Moreover the tanks provide a limited field of vision for their operators skywards and carry no anti-aircraft guns.

Thus aircraft may attack them without great danger, except when they are protected by infantry and anti-aircraft gunners on the ground nearby.

The use the Germans are making of their tanks, sending them smashing into the Allied lines in advance of their infantry frequently leaves them without such support.

The use of cannon mounted on aircraft against ground objectives is new. Although belligerents have experimented with the use of cannon for some time they have been used for the first time in the present war. They were installed with a view to firing on opposing aircraft, not on ground targets.

WATER FOR ROME

ROME —(CP) — The first section of a 20-mile aqueduct being built to increase Rome's supply of drinking water has been opened by Prime Minister Mussolini.

Expect Steel To Continue In Upswing

CLEVELAND, June 7—(AP)—The magazine, "Steel," reporting general buying "in the best volume since last fall," said today that United States steel production this week would continue the upswing begun late in April.

Mounting needs of warring nations and United States' plans for defence were credited for the advance.

"Domestic steel consumption and increasing demand for export combine to bring American steel mills heavy bookings, most of which carry request for immediate delivery," the review said.

"Although steelmakers are expediting deliveries on flat-rolled steel booked during the recent low-priced period, to meet the June 30 deadline, backlogs of this class of steel are being accumulated in many cases.

"Consumers are looking to the future in view of expected expansion of requirements for preparedness and there is considerable advanced buying to replenish inventory.

"Steel makers believe armament requirements and export steel will take precedence over domestic industrial needs and seek to protoect consumers now, rather than have their requirements come out when capacity is fully engaged on preferred tonnage."

Mill operations climbed 3½ points last week to 78½ per cent. of capacity, a gain of 17 points in five weeks. A total of 171 blast furnace stacks were in operation at the end of May, an increase of 16 over April. Daily pig iron production last month averaged 112,613 tons, compared with 104,635 tons for April.

The composite price of scrap advanced 17 cents to $18.38 a ton last week, a rise of more than 2 a ton since mid-April. "Suppliers are holding their stocks closely in expectation of an intensified demand," the magazine observed.

Seek Beer, Wine By Glass In Halifax

HALIFAX, June 3.—(CP) — Another step in the movement to legalize the sale of beer and wine by the glass in Halifax was taken today when papers were filed calling on the Supreme Court to order the city to hold a plebiscite on the question.

Notice was given that on June 25 a motion will be made before the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus ordering the city clerk to take a vote determining whether the people of Halifax want open sale of beer and wine.

The motion will be made by C. B. Smith, K.C., Halifax, on behalf of James F. Connelly, Halifax, who will appear as the prosecutor. Mr. Connelly is a member of the citizens' committee which called for sale of beer and wine by the glass in the city shortly after war was declared.

More than 7,000 citizens signed a petition asking for the sale of beer and wine, but the city council declined to hold a plebiscite, contending that the Nova Scotia Liquor Control Act did not make clear how funds were to be obtained to pay for the vote. The council made it clear, however, it was no ding out only in order that clarification might be made by the courts.

FREETOWN AND VICINITY

The women of this community are to be congratulated on the active part they are taking for the welfare of Canadian boys who are giving their all—themselves—for King and country. May God grant that the struggle will not be a long one and that those who are responsible for the outbreak of this war will look to the Prince of Peace who alone can bring peace to reign over our fair land.

Many of the women have been holding afternoon teas to raise funds for the Red Cross work. Last Thursday Mrs. Clifton Matheson was one of those hostesses inviting eight ladies to her home. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in knitting socks and sweaters for the soldiers.

The Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church have shingled the roof of the church here. Mr. John Jardine the genial contractor, very generously gave of his time and talents in supervising this work.

The many friends of Mr. Samuel Drummond regret to hear of his illness in the Prince County Hospital, and all earnestly hope he may soon be able to return to his home.

The sympathy of this community is extended to Mr. Walter Croken in the passing of his beloved wife at the early age of 23 years. Mrs. Croken had been ill for some months and although her death was not wholly unexpected, still the parting of loved ones from this sphere of life is always a heavy cross to bear. She will be much missed in the home where one little child will miss a mothers' love and care. The funeral, which was a large one, was held from St. James' Church, Summerside, June 3rd. Rev. Fr. Phelan McKenna officiated at the service. —F

HAPPY AS SCHOOLMARM

LONDON, June 7 — Miss Sheila MacDonald, youngest daughter of the late Ramsay MacDonald, who accompanied her father to Canada when he was Prime Minister, has decided to carry on indefinitely the job as voluntary headmistress she undertook three months ago.

When evacuated school children started to come back to London at Christmas they found that their school had been turned into an auxiliary fire station. Consequently they got no schooling.

Hearing this, Miss MacDonald resolved to start a temporary school. The first day only 12 children came to the small hall she had hired. Now there is an attendance daily of about 60 pupils between seven and 10 years old. Friends and the London County Council loaned equipment. The headmistress says the children "love it."

During the evening the Manager of the recent campaign for the Legion War Services Fund spoke words of appreciation for the splendid work done by Mr. McLaggan, as chairman for King's County, and also extended thanks to the members of the Branch and others who had assisted in making such a splendid showing for King's County. Advises Householders to Store Coal Early

OTTAWA, June 7 (CP) — J.McG. Stewart, coal administrator of the wartime prices and trade board, warned house-holders of the "advisability of securing their supplies of coal for the coming Winter at the earliest possible date."

He said that the supply of British anhracite will be considerably lower this year and consumers of blower coal in particular have already been advised to obtain their season's requirements at an early date.

Apart from the blower coal, there is no prospect of a shortage of fuel for domestic heating at the present time," he said. "In view, however, of the great strain thrown on the transportation facilities of the country in moving all other essential materials for war purposes, it is most earnestly requested that all consumers of domestic fuels place their orders for their season's supply at the earliest opportunity.

"Such action will not only secure to the consumer the benefit of the lower summer prices and be of direct assistance to the war effort of the country, but will be a direct protection to the householder himself if wartime demands on the transportation facilities should increase to the point where the normal coal distribution is hampered

SONG

O gather me the rose, the rose
While yet in flower we find it;
For summer smiles, but summer goes,
And winter waits behind it.

For with the dream forgone, forgone,
The deed forborne for ever,
The worm, Regret will canker on,
And Time will turn him never.

So well it were to love, my love,
And cheat of any laughter
The fate beneath us and above,
The dark before and after.

The myrtle and the rose, the rose,
The sunshine and the swallow
The dream that comes, the wish that goes,
The memories that follow! . . . .
