PLAY ENJOYED.—The Cornwall York Point Women's Institute presented the three act comedy "The Old Dairy Homestead," to a very appreciative audience in Cavendish hall on Thursday evening. The different parts were all well taken. Mrs. George MacDonald as "Jason" owner of the homestead, handled the part to perfection and showed by her clever acting, in the second scene, wonderful understanding of masculine disgust, at failure in the ignition of a "wet" match. Mrs. Ewen MacMillan, as the town constable, gave one the impression that a ghost must surely have crossed her path, sometime, so realistic was her fear when she encountered the apparition of "my wife Susan." Mrs. Wm. White, as "Willie Work" worked her way to the hearts of her audience from her first appearance as did Mrs. Prizelle, who as the Pinkerton detective, handled easily the dual part of peddler and "plain cook." The rather difficult part of "Maud" the heroine, in the hands of Mrs. Vickerson left nothing to be desired, while "RUBY" the waif acted by Mrs. Hazen Howard was very well done indeed. Mrs. Dean MacEwen carried on the schemes of Malcolm Gray, the villain, in a masterly manner, while Mrs. Fred White sustained the part of "Becky" the old maid, very cleverly. "Mrs. Glimmer" the dashing widow and accomplice of Malcolm Gray brought out real acting on the part of Mrs. Bain, whose beautiful stage appearance, added just the right touch of color to a very interesting entertainment. Miss Teresa Cass and Mr. Francis Cass, of North River, acted as accompanists in the absence of Mrs. Leslie MacEwen.
