THRILLING TALE OF THE SEA.—A lad playing on some ice floes with some other boys at the water front yesterday tumbled in and his momentary disappearance into the icy brine gave his companions such a fright that they decided it would only be wasting time and perhaps life trying to rescue him themselves so they immediately ran to secure aid. When they returned with a rescuing party there was no sign of the boy, and it was decided that the youthful ice-floer had gone to Davy Jones' locker. Efforts to locate the body proved fruitless and the rescuers sadly wended their way to the home of the departed to apprise the parents of the catastrophe. Arriving there they found the "body" had gone there before them—very much alive—and feeling much better after having changed his wet clothes for dry ones. He gave a simple explanation. When the other boys left him he crawled out of the water and went home.

Easter Sermon at St. Dunstan's Cathedral

In St. Dunstan's Cathedral Sunday morning (Easter Sunday) Rev. William Monaghan preached from 1 Corinthians, V., 7-8: "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new leaven, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

The preacher said in part: Today the Catholic Church celebrates throughout the Christian world the most solemn feast of the whole ecclesiastical year. No longer has she reason to be sorrowful, but rather to be joyful and glad, for Christ is risen. During the past Lenten season, and especially during Holy Week she had clothed herself in the black garments of grief. She had stood shaken and sorrowful before the bitterness of the passion and death on the Cross of her divine founder. Today that sorrow is changed to joy. This happy morning she has nothing else to do but rejoice in the risen Savior.

There have been some who have dared to deny the resurrection of Christ from the grave—to deny that He by His own power united His soul to His body and came forth glorified out of the tomb for our salvation. To prove Christ's resurrection it is first of all necessary to prove that He really died. The proof of this is found in the testimony of Scripture. At the time of His bitter agony there were present many of His Disciples and many others who were not His disciples. It is recorded of the soldier that, when they found that Christ was really dead, forbore to break His legs. This in itself is conclusive proof. Moreover, the awful torments were of themselves sufficient to cause death without His crucifixion on the cross. The deep wound inflicted in His side was sufficient to cause death.

The proofs of Christ's resurrection are as undeniable as those of His death. It is recorded that He conversed with many besides His own disciples and that He remained on earth forty days after His crucifixion. More than 600 at one time conversed with Him. Even St. Thomas, who was not present when Christ first appeared, was finally convinced beyond the shadow of a doubt.

But it is not sufficient for us to know that Christ died and rose again from the dead. It must have some consequence for us. We find that our Holy faith is based first of all on the resurrection of our Saviour; secondly that very resurrection of our Savior is the symbol of our future resurrection to a life of grace in this world and to a life of glory in the next. If we now, during this holy Easter time, come to Confession in sincerity of heart, then we can say truly that we have resurrected with Christ. Then and not till then will the resurrection of Christ on Easter Sunday be of profit to us. Our sins are as it were great stones that must be rolled from our conscience and from our souls.

Easter Services

ST. JAMES CHURCH. Rev. Mr. McLeod preached at St. James' Church, morning and evening services Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated for the season. During the morning service the anthems "O that men would praise the Lord" (Nichol) and "Now is Christ Risen" (West) were rendered. In the evening the choir sang "Most glorious Lord of Life" (West) and "Awake, awake, with holy rapture sing" (West).

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL. All the services in St. Peter's Cathedral were well attended Sunday. They were bright and cheerful in accord with the sentiment of the season. The Rev. Mr. Light preached in the forenoon and the Rev. Dr. Hunt in the evening. Both dealt very ably with the fundamental fact of the resurrection of the Lord and Saviour of mankind.

At the 11 o'clock service the office of the Holy Communion was capably rendered by a large choir to a beautiful new setting and in the evening the canticles were sung to fine settings, the service concluding with solemn Te Deum, music by Dykes, Mr. E. A. Foster taking the solos. The hymns were all strictly appropriate to Easter. To Mr. I. W. Watson, organist and Mr. H. A. Tanton choir director.

Rev. E. P. Calder at Baptist Church

Summary of sermon in Baptist Church Sunday morning, March 27th by Rev. E. P. Calder. Text: "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept. The doctrine of the Resurrection holds of four fold argument:—

I.—The Argument of the Truth of Christ's Teaching. First—CONCERNING HIS DIVINITY—Jesus used but little argument about His Deity. He just took hold of everything in human life as only God could. He spoke in His own authority. "Verily, verily, I say unto you." He dealt with nature, men and spirits in His own inherent right as King. When those that followed Him asked an explanation, He said:

"Wait till the son of man is risen from the dead."

Second—HIS MIRACLES. A Gospel without miracles is like a house without nails, a mass of loose material. The facts of the Gospel are bound together by one great principle. God in the midst in the person of Jesus Christ doing what only God could do. The Resurrection is the crowning miracle.

Third—FULFILLMENT OF HIS OWN PROPHECY—He said that after His Resurrection several things would happen: the descent of the Holy Spirit, the world-wide success of His work. The prophecy ever since has been coming true.

II.—Argument for Man's Victory over Sin. The living Jesus was always sin's conqueror. The dying Jesus, sin's atonement. The risen Jesus, full conqueror of sin's dominion, sin's penalty and sin's authority over man.

III.—Argument for Man's Victory over Death. The grave is the boundary of all human philosophy. Jesus through His resurrection, gives us the doctrine of the future. Without it we would, as Paul says, be of all men most miserable.

IV.—Argument for the Home Coming of the Redeemed. His work was representative, hence His resurrection and ascension to the glory is the pledge that those who follow Him shall finally be with Him.

THE RESURRECTION IS THE LIFE OF THE INDIVIDUAL. Summary of evening sermon, Baptist Church, March 27th, Rev. E. P. Calder:—

Text—"If ye then be risen with Christ seek those things which are above." Col. 3:1. Paul views the Christian life as beginning in the New Birth because that is the resurrection of a soul from the death of sin into the life of the Kingdom of God. Life naturally has some ideals corresponding to its character. The Christian life is heavenly so its affections must be set on things above. The believer in Christ has died to the past. His old personality is lost. Henceforth he is a new man created in Christ unto good work.

Life has a prospect. When Christ returns we who are His shall appear with Him in glory. Such a life calls, first, to a victory of self and sin; second, it inspires us with a vision of a glorious future.

At the morning and evening services the choir rendered fitting Easter music.

Watt till the son of man is risen from the dead.

ting to the season. During the morning service the anthem "Why seek ye the living?" (Cooke) was sung, the solo parts being taken by Mrs. Trafnor and Mr. Charles Earle. Evangelistic Services At Baptist Church. A very impressive service was largely attended at the Baptist Church last evening. A bright service of song was followed by an eloquent and appealing address by Rev. E. P. Calder. The speaker based his address on the words "Come and See". He pointed out that the Christian Church began with testimony and through the ages it has been so propagated. Religion rests on these three words—the "Come and See" of Salvation and the "Come and See" of service. Following this theme with his usual wealth of vivid illustrations he closed with a moving plea. These services are nightly growing in interest, and attendance. All are heartily welcome.
