IS CONVICTED PUPILS SHOW PROGRESS AT RECITAL

SUMMERSIDE, P. E. I. June 16.—The jury returned a verdict of theft in the case of the King vs Harris Fye charged with breaking and entering a fox pen on the ranch of Wm. Miller, Lot 16, and stealing a female silver fox belonging to Hazel Miller. The case for the defence occupied the court most of the time yesterday. The prisoner was on the stand all the morning. He stated that he caught the fox in a trap and that he did not know it belonged to the Miller ranch. He was not in the vicinity on the night of the disappearance of the fox. Other witnesses for the defence were Roy Fye, Mrs. Harry Fye and Mrs. Albert Bagloe who corroborated the evidence of the prisoner as to his whereabouts.

Mr. W. E. Darby addressed the jury for the defence and Mr. H. Strong, K. C., for the Crown. The Chief Justice in his charge to the jury complimented Mr. Darby on the manner in which he had conducted his first case in the Supreme Court and on his address to the jury. His Lordship pointed out to the jury the change in Criminal Code with reference to foxes kept in captivity. That they are regarded as stolen goods if it can be proved that they were removed from the fox pen. If the prisoner found an escaped fox he would not come within the law.

Following the return of the jury with the above verdict, the jury for the case of the King vs Jelly was empanelled. This case will open this morning when the court meets at 10:30. This is a charge of offering an indignity to a dead human body. The jury are George Bowness (Foreman), Jos. L. Gallant, Phillip James Williams, Everett Ramsay, Alex Deegan, Bruce Curtis, Harman Phillips, Percy Allen, Artemas Wright, John Toombs, R. B. Rankin, Harry B. Collett.—S

The Kirk In Assembly

(By Burning Bush in the Toronto Globe)

Peterboro, June 13. It is a rather difficult task to describe the reception of the Knox College report in the Assembly. The Commissioners had waited eagerly expectant from the early portion of the afternoon. From time to time the information drifted through that the committee had not completed their finding. When the Rev. William Barclay at last arrived he spoke of the attempt that they wished to make for the peace of the Church.

The committee, he stated, had decided not to hear witnesses, but seek to review the documents and bring in a report that would seek to unite the parties in dispute. It was not expected that a final solution could be so quickly decided, especially as the committee had not the time to explore the evidence that last year's Commission reviewed. However, a letter so definite in its terms and so momentous in its import arrived through the Moderator, and this became the pivot of their further deliberations.

With great calmness and remarkable poise Mr. Barclay gave the recommendations which were planned to give full justice to all concerned. It provided for a strong committee to investigate the whole state of affairs to come under purview; the Moderator of Assembly to be the official head for all academic functions and the meetings of Senate and Board; a Vice-Principal to be appointed to care for all administrative detail; the whole terms of the report of the Knox College Board to be altered or excised so that no reflection should be cast on the last Assembly. And the committee also recommended that the Assembly should inform the Church that the grounds on which Dr. Eakin was removed from the principalship had nothing to do with doctrines or morals.

It was a momentous decision of the committee, because it was representative of both sides of opinion, but agreement had been reached in their period of deliberations that, in the interest of the future of our college and Church, a new and complete inquiry, covering the whole field, past and present, should be begun. Professor Eakin rose to speak immediately, and protested against the committee's report. Ignoring the wide sweep of the committee's recommendations, he asked for a trial.

Dr. Stuart Parker rose and joined in the protest. He said he was bitterly disappointed with the report of the committee. "I am ashamed of it," he said, "and did not expect that an old school chum like Mr. Barclay, the Chairman, would present such a finding." He further

INDUSTRIAL

Mr. T. E. McNutt explained the object of the meeting as being for the election of officers for a Manufacturers' Association. Major C. L. MacKay remarked that on April 13 a meeting had been held to organize the manufacturers into a co-operating group and that an advertising plan had been drawn up to encourage local industry. Committees which had met local manufacturers most of whom were ready to co-operate in a united effort had been favorably received. Twenty-two local firms had signed the agreement. Four or five firms had not signed, but several of those probably would later. It was decided that a fee of $15 should be charged to finance the advertising campaign. The purpose of the meeting was to form a local association. It would be the duty of the new organization to carry out the agreement signed by the members. The organization would reach the public through newspaper advertising, and through departments of the Provincial Government working with the Women's Institutes.

The matter was discussed by Messrs A. Irwin, D. A. MacKinnon, Robert Tomlins, J. D. Jenkins, M. R. Bethune, A. Lohnes and Wm. Rowe. The opinion was expressed that there was a general disposition in the province to purchase imported goods, which should be overcome. It was decided that the organization should be called the Prince Edward Island Manufacturers' Association.

Mr. Archibald N. Campbell, Canoe Cove, is at present in the Prince Edward Island Hospital undergoing treatment. She expects to remain for a few days.

Mr. Fred Conroy has arrived from North Battleford on a two weeks visit to his mother, Mrs. (Dr.) Conroy.

Mr. Robert Devereaux left this morning on a visit to Boston and New York.

Mr. E. McLeod, train dispatcher of Chicago, left on return yesterday morning after visiting his former home in Belfast.

Mrs. H. A. MacLean of Calgary, and her cousin, Mrs. George Cornwall of Winnipeg, have arrived at North River on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. MacLean is staying with her mother, Mrs. John Stevenson, and Mrs. Cornwall with her brother, Mr. Harry Scott, and sister, Mrs. Henderson.

Rev. Dr. John Pringle, a Yukon veteran who has recently retired from the ministry of the United Church returned to Prince of Wales College yesterday morning after protested that the recommendations accepted the decision of the Assembly of 1932. Then Dr. Parker introduced a motion that threw confusion into the Assembly. Its terms were: "That the prayer of Dr. Eakin be granted and that he be given his trial."

The Vice-Chairman, Dr. Shortt of Barrie, calmly told the Assembly that he was not a partisan in this case. But the recommendations of the committee provided for a complete trial of every phase of the whole case. "There are things so mysterious in connection with the whole affair" that he felt they must be revealed. Dr. Eakin must stand or fall by the decision of that inquiry.

The Assembly was confused by the amendment. Rev. F. W. Gilmore of London said: "I would be sorry to see that the Presbyterian Church denied a trial to any man. I think that the language of the board of the college has hurt the consideration of this case, but I will vote for a trial." Then General W. St. Pierre Hughes rose to point out that the recommendations would not only provide for a trial, but "will deal with the whole question of Knox College in the past and also in the present."

Dr. Lloyd Morrow's case was brought forward by the Rev. W. F. McConnell of Paris. Mr. McConnell said that he was prepared to vote for the amendment, but, in justice to all concerned, he thought that Dr. Lloyd Morrow should also be given a trial. Dr. George Ross of Ottawa made a rather significant speech: "I have supported Dr. Eakin's side throughout, but I am surprised at the spirit shown by Dr. Eakin and Dr. Parker with regard to the committee's proposal."

Amid great tension of feeling the vote was taken. When the clerks returned the result of the voting, Dr. Parker asked that the vote be taken by roll call. The Moderator ruled him out of order, since no request had been made prior to the vote. Dr. Parker then rose and very passionately exclaimed, "I dissent! I dissent!" He called upon all who had voted for a trial to register their dissent. Thus ended a sedentary that the greatest percentage of minister and lay commissioners wish had never been held.

OFFICER

He was reeling off prices when King announced his identity and asked the skipper to come up on deck. When they arrived above, the schooner was under way. The captain had pressed a button giving the signal to start the auxiliary motor as they came out.

In some way, also, he had managed to inform his crew of the officer's presence, and King was confronted with several revolvers in the hands of sailors. The crew of the patrol boat could do nothing in the face of the guns bearing on their commander and were forced to stand by as he was given his choice of leaving or remaining a prisoner.

King finally leaped to the deck of his own ship and the liquor ship swung aside and nosed seaward, outdistancing the patrol boat and escaping to the safety of the legal limit.

theory lie in the fact that the boys and the boat disappeared almost simultaneously. The yacht seen had a dingy in tow, and was going in the direction of Nova Scotia. The R. C. M. P. in Nova Scotia have been asked to keep a lookout for the boat and its occupants. The bicycle of the Moore boy has not been found.

The younger boy was wearing a navy blue sweater, blue trousers, tan sneakers, and had no cap. A check-up with his relatives in Hunter River revealed that the boys had not visited them.

One theory which has been advanced is that the boys have gone on a fishing trip, and fearing the consequences of their misadventure are awaiting a favorable opportunity to reappear. Both the City Police and the R. C. M. P. have carried out an extensive search, and would welcome any information as to the boys whereabouts.

Delegates Return From Winnipeg

Mrs. Walter R. Shaw, of Cornwall, and Mrs. S. J. Rose, of Lakeville, have returned home after attending the Federated Women's Institute convention at Winnipeg from June 5th to the 9th.

The Island delegates are loud in their praise of the hospitality extended. At the convention sessions were held morning, afternoon and evening, and the delegates also held joint sessions with the members of the Manitoba Women's Institute.

The objects of the Federated Women's Institutes were to co-ordinate the various provincial units, to act as a clearing house for the activities of the various federated organizations, to raise the standard of home making to develop agriculture, to promote educational, moral, social and economic measures, to encourage co-operation and community efforts, and to initiate nationwide campaigns in accordance with the objects of the Federation. Needless to say, these objects were further promoted during the convention.

As already announced in the press the 1933 convention will be held in Charlottetown, the invitation from the Government having been unanimously accepted by the delegates.

The delegates from this province met quite a number of Islanders in Winnipeg, and Mrs. Rose, a number of her relatives from Scotland. The delegates will give an extended report of their experiences when the provincial convention is held.

Capt. Charles Fitzgerald of Charlottetown, the well known yacht racer, recently completed an express cruiser for Mr. Glen Jenkins. The new craft is 33 feet 5 inches long, has beautiful lines, and has a speed of from 15 to 18 knots, being fitted with a forty-five horse power engine. She can carry thirty passengers and has been christened "Joyce".
