NATIONAL WAR BONDS NOW FIVE BILLION

(Special to the Guardian)
 LONDON, August 16.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Right Hon. Arthur Bonar Law, in a statement issued today, announced that the subscriptions for National War Bonds had reached the stupendous figure of 5 billion. Hitherto the world's record was held by the great War Loan of 1917, yielding £948,459,000. "Most remarkable is the fact that the great result was achieved by regular, continuous week by week investment," said the Chancellor. Consequently we avoided the distraction of the money market and the upheaval of credit, which after a great loan renders it impossible to issue another loan for many months.
