portant artists are scheduled to appear. For instance take the current week, which includes a Miniature Musical Comedy "The Pinch Kid," "Chas. Warren who recently starred in his own production, Miss Eva Taylor, leading lady with some of the most important Broadway companies; while for the week of August 18th, Mr. Keith has arranged a bill far superior and of broader scope, including many important names.
B. A. Rolfe, who is responsible for many of vaudeville's big successes will present here for the first time a monster musical spectacle entitled "The Purple Lady" by Frank Kennedy. This splendid attraction possesses all the requirements of an elaborate musical comedy, with pretty girls, catchy music and snappy dancing numbers. Mr. Ralph Lynn and Miss Louise Groody will portray the most important roles.
Another new dramatic sketch will be presented by Arthur Hoops, Ruby Hoffman and a carefully selected company, called, "The Open Window." It is a story of the underworld dealing with the crooks and contains more thrills and novel situations than a three act melodrama.
The comedy end of the programme will be handled by Jim Diamond and Sibil Brennan, who offer one of the brightest skits in vaudeville. Still another very amusing comedy will be given by Charles Mason and William Halliday, consisting of brilliant patter and funny parodies. Every Easter-er from the Battery to Harlem will welcome Hyman Adler, the famous Hebrew character in his original and clever specialty, "The Miser's Dream," in which he portrays several well known artists. John and Mae Burke do not need an introduction as they are known from one end of the country to the other.
Others will be Riesner and Gores, presenting an original musical specialty; Three Escardos in a thrilling equilibristic number and Frawley and Hunt, offering a novel gymnastic exhibition.
