FUNERAL TOMORROW—The funeral of the late Mr. Neil MacDonald will take place from the home of his sister, Mrs. Lem Matheson, Wheatley River on Thursday, Feb. 2, at 1 o'clock. Interment Highfield Cemetery.

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday morning, a man charged with soliciting passengers contrary to vehicle by-law, had his case adjourned until Friday. A case against a man driving without license was also adjourned until Friday.

HEAR MR. NORMAN SOMMERVILLE, K. C., speak at Red Cross meeting in Hertz Hall tonight at 8.30. Also musical programme—7868-11.

COLD TURKEY, have delicious salads and all kinds of cake at the High Tea, Thursday, Feb. 2, in the Baptist School room.—7873-2-1-21.

MAY HAVE STATION—Truro may soon have a radio broadcasting station. A Prince Edward Island station has been in communication with Truro parties relative to a change of location to Truro. The question is to come before the annual meeting of the Board of Trade to be held in the Civic Building February 10. Another interesting question scheduled for the annual meeting is that of Wednesday afternoon closing of retail stores.—Truro News.

MAGDALEN SERVICE—The D. G. S. Montclair sailed from North Sydney yesterday for the Magdalen Islands. This is the second trip of the steamer this month, the first one being from Souris, because of the exceedingly mild weather there is not sufficient ice formed at the Magdalen Islands to allow the aeroplane to make her proposed trip which was scheduled to take place about the middle of the month. All mails on hand, except of course the air flight letters, were forwarded to North Sydney and will be conveyed by the Montclair as above.

ROCKY POINT—The boys who dammed Smith's Creek have had all their hard labor frustrated as the high tides and recent thaw caused their dam to give way, rendering their splendid sheet of ice useless.—The ice-bank has again been called into action between Rocky Point and Charlottetown, the ice which was traversed on Friday by teams being broken up by the storm of the past few days. Unless much colder weather prevails, crossing will be very unsatisfactory.—The "flu" has been hovering around. There were quite a few victims, but no serious cases.—Miss Norma Currie, student at C. B. C., is to be congratulated on securing third place in her class at Christmas.—Miss Freda Burdett, who spent her holidays at her home in Fairview, has returned to P. W. C.—Miss Austina Mutch has again resumed her studies at P. W. C.—Mr. Andrew Murphy, who has been confined in his bed for over a year, shows very little signs of improvement, though not suffering so severely as formerly.—What might have proved a serious accident occurred at Long Creek while Angus McEachern was threshing for MacMillan. The engine blew to pieces, particles flying long distances. Fortunately no one was hurt.—Ringwood Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Mutch. The President presided. Meeting opened by singing and playing "Ode", and repeating "Creed" in unison. Ten members answered roll call, there being also twelve visitors. Minutes read and adopted. Committees reported favorably. School committee purchased water fountain. Sick Committee delicacies for sick. Buying Committee appointed to purchase material for a "swing-bee", in the near future at the home of Mrs. J. Dolron. Scenes of laughter occurred when an article for sale was auctioned off by the President. Business over a message from our Island postess, L. M. Montgony, was read by the Secretary. Need-

STILL AT LARGE—No arrests have been made as yet in connection with the brutal assault on Mrs. Mary Trainor yesterday morning. As the lady was not wearing her spectacles, she was unable to identify or give a description of her assailant.

NOTHING TAKEN—It has been discovered that some person or persons had gained entrance to Davis & Fraser's pork packing plant. The intruders went in through a window. Nothing was taken.

WAS GIVEN SENTENCE—Earl Lund, one of the accused who was acquitted recently in the liquor stealing case in the Supreme Court appeared before Magistrate Donald MacKinnon yesterday on a charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor and was fined $200 and costs or three months. The other three accused had been previously sentenced and are now in Queen's County Jail. The trial under the Prohibition Act was a sequel to the trial in the Supreme Court.

HOLD SOCIAL—The Young Men and Young Women's classes of St. James Sunday School, and a number of invited friends, held a very enjoyable social in the Church Hall last evening. A sing song and a program of games kept the young people pleasantly entertained for several hours. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Guild. Greatly adding to the interest of the function was the music supplied by Miss Winnie Leavitt, violinist, Mr. Fremont Archer, piano, and Mr. Raymond Archer, banjo. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very successful evening to a close.

THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND—Put in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

MARITIME LIFE MAKES IMPORTANT GAINS

Attains New High Records in Assets and Reserves. Over twelve Millions in Force

The MARITIME LIFE continues to hold its record position. During the past year its investment portfolio was strengthened by the addition of high grade investments, and after further provision for depreciation has been made by writing down security values to those allowed by the Department of Insurance, the Company is in the unrivalled position of having Assets of $125 for each $100 of Liabilities to Policyholders.

Large additions were made to the Reserves held under the Company's Policies, this item showing an increase of 19.3% to $995,475.00. Assets increased by 14.4% to $1,337,367.12. Insurance in Force now amounts to $12,317,674.00.

Witness told Savidant that he had better go after the job of booth keeper in the Park. Savidant had been afraid he would lose his sight. Later Savidant came to see the witness on the matter of having witness help him get the job of keeping the refreshment booth. Witness said he would do his best to help Savidant, and the latter left. No other person was in the shop except Harry, while witness and plaintiff were talking. Witness had told Savidant to go and see Mr. Hennessey and the other councillors. After Savidant left, Harry came in and asked, "What's that fellow want?" I told him he was after the restaurant booth in the Park. "Why, he said, that's the man that took the bag of flour, I'd help him." Witness knew that his son was referring to the incident that happened three years before. Councillor Hennessey told witness that Savidant had an accident with a gun while handling Leo Frank's goods. Hennessey had been at Leo Frank's residence just before it happened. Mr. Savidant's application came up for the position among other applications. There was some discussion on the matter, as some councillors desired to have the booth removed. Councillor Reardon proposed that Savidant should have the position on account of his blindness, and gave him a splendid character. Witness had heard different. "I got up and said, 'Gentlemen I don't know what his character is now, but some time ago he came into my store and helped himself to a bag of flour, and I believe he lost his sight by meddling with things that did not belong to him.'" I then sat down. Savidant jumped up. He was somewhere behind me and what I heard was: "I can explain about that bag of flour and more than that, I did not lose my sight at the fox ranch." I had not spoken about the fox ranch. Then Councillor Hennessey corrected it—that it was Brighton Road.

Witness recalled nothing else. He had not said that Savidant had shot himself. Witness had got the identification of the man who took the bag from his son, Harry. When witness made the statement at the meeting, he believed it to be true, otherwise he would not have made the statement. Witness had no feeling of hostility and ill-will against Savidant at the time of the Council meeting. On cross-examination, Mr. Day stated that Harry first went out Spring Park Road, and later went out Chestnut Street, going east, not toward Leo Savidant's home. During the next three years witness had not discussed the matter. Savidant had told witness that he had been injured by a small gun. Witness had promised the plaintiff assistance. Harry's mental condition was good. Witness had not heard of Harry bowling against himself on the alleys. Witness had received anonymous letters telling him that Savidant was not a suitable man for the job of booth keeper. Witness had begun to feel that plaintiff was not a proper man for the job. Counsel pointed out that Councillor had stated that Mr. Day had said "That looks like the man who came in my store."

Russell MacKinnon, butcher, knew Harry Day. Harry Day had told the witness that. Frank Savidant had taken the bag of flour.

Leo Savidant stated that he had the overcoat which he was wearing at the present time in 1929.

STEAM CARS ON RAILWAYS

The Tasmanian Government Railways some months ago purchased two 100 horse power Sentinel-Cammell steam rail cars to maintain the evening service on the main line, between Hobart and Launceston. The cars were an almost immediate success, for their running cost works out at a little over sevenpence a mile, and the railways have saved several thousands pounds in that direction, as well as showing a profit on the service in which the steam cars are engaged. In view of the success of the small rail coaches, the Government has decided to purchase, at a cost of nearly 23,000 pounds, two more Sentinel-Cammell cars, each of 200 horse power. The Railways Department, emphasises that to compete with the private motor car and retain some portion of the passenger traffic, it must give every attention to the comfort and convenience of the travelling public.

Witness told Savidant that he had better go after the job of booth keeper in the Park. Savidant had been afraid he would lose his sight. Later Savidant came to see the witness on the matter of having witness help him get the job of keeping the refreshment booth. Witness said he would do his best to help Savidant, and the latter left. No other person was in the shop except Harry, while witness and plaintiff were talking. Witness had told Savidant to go and see Mr. Hennessey and the other councillors.
