SATURDAY excursion tickets are being issued by the Prince Edward Island Railway, during the winter as well as the summer. This is an improvement in the right direction, and one that should be patronized by the public in order that the practice may be continued. We are pleased to know that so far the Railway has an increase in passenger business, which no doubt is due in part at least to the issue of these tickets.

HON. A. R. DICKEY delivered a lecture on "The British Empire and what it means" before the students of Dalhousie in the Orphans Hall on the evening of Feb. 1st. The lecture was very interesting and instructive and well delivered. On Friday evening in the Sodales Debating Society, Dalhousie the following question was debated "Resolved that it would be to best interests of Dalhousie College to be placed under the jurisdiction of the Presbyterian Church." The speakers in favor of the resolution were D. L. McKay and F. A. Morrison and against were M. J. McPherson and J. Proudfoot. The resolution was lost by a small majority.

EASTERN NOTES.—The weather prophets are about giving it up. The first days of February and no signs of snow. January was a very windy month and a number of rainy days, but the prevailing southerly and westerly winds prevented any ice forming on the northern shores of the Gulf from coming down in this direction, hence the absence of snow. Had the unfortunate Gaspeia struck this winter in her attempted navigation of the Gulf, she would probably meet with a certain amount of success, and the possibility of its winter navigation considered proved. The want of snow seriously interferes with the winter work of the farmer and many are getting uneasy about the possibility of getting their supply of wood, rails and timber for the coming season.—Mr. Cameron, representing Fennell & Chandler, paid a visit to this section on the 1st day of February, and that with a wagon showing the peculiar winter.—The pack pedlar still carries his load from door to door, indifferently used, still persisting in forcing his wares and his presence on unwilling customers.—A variation lately in the shape of a "maid reader and fortune teller" paid us a visit, but left nothing as tangible for the people's hard earned money as the despised and dusky oriental who seeks his fortune among us.
