Millview and Vicinity

Mr. W. L. Jenkins, Millview, purchased a Pontiac sedan.

Mr. Walter Bourke, city, was a visitor to Millview on Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Mellish, Union Road, was a recent visitor to Millview.

Miss Queenie Mutch, Earnsccliffe, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser, city, are spending a few days the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Fraser, Vernon.

The many friends of Mr. Wilfred Drake, Millview, are pleased to know he is recovering from a serious attack of pneumonia.

Miss Olive Smith, Boston, who has been called home by the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. William Smith, Millview, arrived Wednesday night.

On the morning of June 13, there passed peacefully to its eternal abode the soul of Mr. Alexander McDonald, one of the most highly respected citizens of Cherry Valley. Although the deceased had not been in normal health for some time, hopes were held out for his recovery. All that medical aid and kind nursing could do was of no avail. He was attended in his last illness by Rev. P. D. McGuigan, who administered the last rites of the Catholic Church of which he was ever a devoted member. He lived a blameless life, and was always ready to lend a helping hand. The funeral, which took place from his late residence on Thursday, June 12th, to St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, was largely attended. Services were conducted by Rev. P. D. McGuigan, after which all that was mortal of a good Christian man were laid to rest. He leaves to mourn their loss, one sister, Sarah, and brother John, both at home.

Seldom, if ever, were the people of Millview and vicinity more shocked than on the morning of June 12, when they learned that Myrtle Blanche beloved wife of Mr. Wm. Smith, Millview, had passed peacefully away, at the early age of 44 years. She was sick about a week, and all that medical skill and kind nursing could do was of no avail. The deceased was a lady held in the highest esteem by a host of neighbors and friends from far and near. Her disposition was most kindly and charitable and she was a very liberal contributor to all good causes. Her mother love for her children welled up to the full in her breast and this was responded to by every one of them to a high degree. Endowed with a keen and well balanced intellect, she took an active interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the community, and her opinions were always worthy of more than ordinary consideration. She will be greatly missed by her many friends, and in the home that vacant chair can never be filled by one who has been such an admirable wife and mother. She leaves to mourn their loss, a grief-stricken husband and twelve children, namely: Olive, Raymond, Hazel, Joseph, George, Margaret, Milton, Kitchener, Calvin, Lois, Helen and Lavinia, also her mother, Mrs. Joseph Storey, and two sisters, Mrs. George Jenkins and Mrs. George McEachern, and one brother, William J., all of whom reside in Millview. The pallbearers were: W. L. Jenkins, Samuel Drake, Albert Drake, Vincent Grant, W. C. Sheidow and Charles McKenzie. The impressive funeral services at home and grave were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Littlejohns. The remains were then taken, followed by a large concourse of people, to Pownal cemetery and tenderly laid to rest to await the glorious resurrection morn. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. Smith and family in this their hour of sad bereavement. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The donors were: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Drake, Mrs. Worth and Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. L. Currie, Jenkins Bros., Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Acorn and Aunt Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Storey, the family, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. William Storey. Not now, but in the coming years, it may be in the better land, we'll read the meaning of our tears, And then, some time we'll understand.

The HIGH COMPRESSION Motor is no "new problem" for CASTROL

Castrol solved the lubrication problems of high-speed, high-compression motors over ten years ago

AMERICA has adopted, finally, the principles of motor design that have been so popular in Europe for many, many years.

America must now adopt the principle of lubrication which is part and parcel of the problem of the high-speed, high-compression motor.

That principle is CASTROL.

The speed and stress of the high-compression engine called for a quality of oil that taxed the scientific resources of the engineers of Europe to the utmost. The Research Department of C. C. Wakefield & Co. Limited, however, once more solved a problem when they perfected the grades of Castrol which were already famous throughout Europe.

For that reason a great many leading manufacturers of famous high-compression engines today specifically recommend CASTROL—including such famous names as the British-made Rolls-Royce, Sunbeam, Vauxhall, Bentley; also Bugatti, Hispano Suiza, Isotta Fraschini, Mercedes.

You have used CASTROL in the older model motors. You have observed its astonishing silky durability. You have experienced its marvelous heat resisting qualities.

That was because you were using a super-oil, perfected to meet the exacting demands of the high-compression engine.

With your new car, you cannot risk experiment. The experiments were made for you many years ago. CASTROL has been tested and proved by years of experience and is the frankly specified oil of many of the world's leading manufacturers of high speed motors.

Sold by leading garages and independent service stations everywhere.

reports were read dealing with League affairs in Charlottetown, Sydney, Halifax and Montreal. The resignation of J. O. Hyndman, head of the Charlottetown division, was accepted at his earnest request and this branch will be reorganized in an effort to put it on a firmer footing.

CHARLOTTETOWN REPORT The report of President J. O. Hyndman, Charlottetown, was read in his absence by Colonel C. G. Williams, Dominion secretary. The report set forth that conditions had not improved after the visit of Captain Morris, organizer, and as it seemed impossible to carry on the Institute he suggested it be closed and the proceeds used elsewhere to better advantage to the League. Business people of Charlottetown were burdened with so many appeals that the League suffered. The report dealt with the commercial disadvantages under which P. E. Island suffered from lack of transportation facilities and Mr. Hyndman asserted that he could not see his way clear to spend further energy in trying to carry on under the circumstances. The Navigation School at Charlottetown had only five students last year and it was recommended that it be closed as not warranting the expenditure involved. Captain Morris commenting on the report said that he would be sorry to see our province in Canada without a branch of the Navy League. The League had a very desirable property which cost $15,000. He maintained that with the establishment of a Sea Cadets Corps, Charlottetown would respond and would be glad to continue the branch. As regards the nautical school he did not feel that citizens thought it worth while to support it for the small number preparing to write examinations for certificates. Last year $631 was raised in subscriptions, which comparatively speaking was as good an average as for any city in Canada. Sea Cadets Corps must be organized.

WHEATLEY RIVER Malcolm Rackham appointed chairman. Archibald Barrett, Acting Secretary. Robert Wares was re-elected auditor for ensuing year. Supplement voted, $150. Contingent expenses, $150. Malcolm Rackham re-elected as trustee. ANNUAL MEETING NORTH TRYON SCHOOL Supplement $100. Expenses $39. New Trustees and Secretary J. Wellington Thomas. D. J. Thomson, Chairman and thirty three ratepayers present. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of a graded school. Teacher resigned.
