Joe E. Brown In "A Very Honorable Guy" At Prince Edward

Joe E. Brown is in town today, to begin a three day engagement at the Prince Edward Theatre in his latest First National picture, "A Very Honorable Guy".

The picture is based on the hilarious comedy by Damon Runyon, the famous sports and short story writer, and is said to furnish Joe E. with the funniest vehicle in which he has ever played. Joe has the role of a tin horn gambler whose reputation is so good that he is able to sell his own body to get a stake, the contract giving him thirty days of grace to deliver his own corpse.

With a month to live, Joe E. is said to go through some of the most exciting incidents and uproariously funny situations that any one man ever experienced.

Alice White, the petite blonde, is Joe's running mate, playing the role of a gold digging chorus girl whose affections vacillate between Joe and a mad doctor according to which one happens to be in the money.

Others in the cast include Robert Barrat, the doctor who buys Joe's body, Alan Dinohart, the brains of a band of crooks, Irene Franklin, Hobart Cavanaugh, Harold Huber and George Pat Collins.

Lloyd Bacon directed the picture from the screen play by Earl Saldwin.

Wallace Ford, As Supreme Egotist, Grand In New Film At Capitol

There is a generous quantity of laughs and chuckles in "Swell-head," the new Columbia picture which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre. Plenty of hits, a winning amount of runs and no errors at all should be chalked up for this picture.

The antics of Wallace Ford, playing the role of Terry McCall, an egotistic ball player, provide entertainment of a superior kind. Flanked by Barbara Kent and the lovely Dickie Moore, Ford struts his cocky stuff through some reels of genuinely interesting film.

Terry McCall, home-run king, has a vocabulary limited to "I" and "me." His bragat-manner not only puts him in bad with Mary Malone, his girl friend, but it almost ruins his brilliant baseball career. There are some dramatic scenes where Terry, suffering a head injury he has sustained accidentally at the hands of Rube, an ex-teammate and former love-rival, finds that he is going blind and when, blinded and almost disgraced, he gropes his way back to the bedside of Mary's little brother in time to help him through a dangerous illness.

The solution—the final reformation and reclamation of the inveterate swell-head—is a novel and altogether satisfactory twist in a picture you shouldn't miss. Ben Stoltz directed; William Jacobs did the screenplay from a story by Gerald Beaumont.

CALL ME SWEETHEART!

He was crazy... about himself... until the right girl showed him he was a wrong guy!

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. E. P. RAMSAY

The following item was taken from a California paper:

"Following a serious illness of six months duration, Mrs. E. P. Ramsay, of Anaheim, passed away Saturday at a local hospital at the age of 63 years. For the last four years her husband has published a fraternal magazine in Orange.

Funeral rites will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hilgeland funeral chapel, Anaheim. Interment will be made in Loma Vista Cemetery.

Born at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Mrs. Ramsay came to the United States at the age of 18 years. For the last six years she and her husband have resided in Anaheim.

She leaves to mourn, besides her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gregory, Charlottetown, and five brothers, Chester Gregory, in New Glasgow, N.S., Percy, Oliver and Seymour in Charlottetown, and Jacob in Montreal.

MRS. MARY MACKAY

It was with a feeling of deep regret that the people of Clinton and surrounding districts learned of the death of Mrs. Mary Mackay, wife of the late Alexander Mackay of Clinton. She was a loving wife and mother, ever ready to help in time of sickness and need. She was born at Black River, New Brunswick, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Campbell of that place. In early life she went to Boston, Mass., and lived there for a number of years, being married there to the late Alexander Mackay, later coming to Prince Edward Island to reside. She was a member of the St. John's Baptist Church in Boston. She was a long sufferer, having been bedfast for three years. She bore her sickness with Christian patience and fortitude. Her pastor, Rev. Mr. Somers often visited her during her illness, and she never tired of having him read the fourteenth chapter of John to her. She will be sorely missed in the community. More so by her son, Bertram, with whom she resided on Clinton. The other members of her family are: Mrs. Percival Jordan, Sanford, Me.; Miss Alvelda, Portland, Me.; Percy in Wheeling, W. Va., and William, Mulberry, Florida, one son Harry having predeceased her, also nine grandchildren.

Her funeral was beautifully conducted by Rev. Mr. Somers on Easter Sunday, and despite the roads, was largely attended. A solo, "Sometime We'll Understand," was beautifully rendered by Mr. Roy Phillips. There were some beautiful floral tributes. The pall bearers were: George Dinnes, Wesley Heaney, David O'Connor, Louis O'Connor, John Whitehead, J. A. Harding. Interment was in New London Cemetery.

APPOINTMENT POPULAR—Mrs. Louise Bonnell is receiving the congratulations of her many friends on her election to the office of Right Worshipful Grand Mistress of the Loyal Orange Benefvolent Association of Prince Edward Island.

BEEDE SHOWERED—A miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Richard W. Anderson, nee Miss Millicent Mutch, R. N. was held on Thursday, May 2nd at the home of Mrs. E. H. Anderson, 119 Euston Street, City. Little Miss Myrtle White attended the door. After the guests were assembled the bride was ushered into the living room where a prettily decorated wagon drawn by Misses Edith and Myrtle White laden with gifts which were presented to the bride by Mrs. Ivan Horne while Mrs. Reginald Attkin read the accompanying humorous and singing "Auld Lang Syne" the evening and laughter. Many beautiful and practical gifts were received. Although taken by surprise the bride gracefully thanked her many friends for their kindness after which the remainder of the evening was spent socially. A delectable prepared lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the Misses Edith and Myrtle White, Ann Duffy, June Higgins, Mrs. L. G. Anderson and Mrs. Belle Moore. After wishing the bride many years of happiness and singing "Auld Lang Syne" the evening was brought to a close by bouncing the bride. The guests then departed after thanking the hostess for a very pleasant evening.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of the late Margaret Laura Peters, daughter of the late James Horsfield Peters, formerly of Charlottetown, took place on May 4th at St. John's Church, Gagetown, N. B. The service was conducted by Rev. H. J. Hoyt assisted by the Very Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, N. B. The chief mourners were her nephew, Dr. O. R. Peters of Rothesay, Mrs. Duvernet of Digby, and the Misses Louise and Pearl Peters, nieces of the deceased and John Holmes, a grand nephew. Miss Peters had made her home with her niece at Glenora, Gagetown, the home of her brother Thomas Sherman Peters, for seven years following his death. On the death of her niece Mrs. Holmes, she accompanied the Misses Peters to Rothesay where they made their home at the Rectory, until the Rev. J. H. A. Holmes was made Dean of Fredericton, from which date they have resided at the Deanery in Fredericton. Miss Peters was buried in the family lot of her late brother. Many beautiful flowers showed the love and esteem of her

Portable Radio May Open North

(By The Canadian Press)

SASKATOON, May 9—A "vest pocket" communication system that will make the Northland safe for the novice was an accomplishment of the Saskatoon committee of a portable radio transmitting set promises to play an important part in opening up 2,000,000 square miles of Canada's unsettled area.

The invention is the brain-child of Ronald Baker of Saskatoon, a year old superior of radio work in the Saskatchewan Department of Natural Resources. While only 35 pounds it will bring long distance communication to the camp of the mining engineer, the trap per, explorer or forest ranger whose vocations take them into far-away inaccessible places.

Designing equipment light enough to be carried around is a hobby with Saskatchewan's youthfulness authority on radio. He is possessor of a degree of Bachelor of Science at the University of Saskatchewan. Good, portable equipment, he explains, is invaluable for forestry work. It can be carried to the scene of a fire and used for sending reports and requesting supplies.

The science of radio communication, the youthful scientist believes, will banish isolation and play an important part in the development of far-flung northern sections of Canada. Employed in connection with aircraft, it is rapidly taking the place of the canoe, dog team, pack-horse and "moose-horn" telegraph.

Radio will play an important part in fighting forest fires, he believes. It is admirably adapted to tower work where two men can spot smoke, determine the exact location by triangulation and radio the position to the air base where action can be efficiently decided upon.

The sending outfit is compactly built into a suitcase box with a handle attached to the top for carrying purposes. Mr. Baker became interested in radio as a hobby when 12 years of age. Since graduation this year he has not ceased his studies. Last winter he attended a school of aeronautics at Oakland, Calif., where he became an authority on "blind flying."

Woman Operates Huge Coal Mine

(By The Canadian Press)

BIENFAIT, Sask., May 9—In the national aristocracy of business, Miss Jessie Hamilton, demure student of mining detail, occupies a niche among the top for women's claims to a choice of professions, she stepped from a Manitoba country school into the heart of Saskatchewan's coal fields and emerged Canada's first woman coal mine operator.

The hum of hoist engines, each capable of lifting 500 tons of coal each day, penetrates the trim office she occupies in her vast holdings a few miles west of here. Miss Hamilton, who stepped into the breach to carry on the work, and plans laid by her father, explains it was all a matter of necessity.

The training she received before the death of her father, R.L. Hamilton, one of the early pioneers in this coal mining district, stood her in good stead for the career she was to adopt. She is a graduate in arts of the University of Alberta and also attended the University of Manitoba. For a time she taught school at Mile 24, south of Churchill in northern Manitoba.

Keenly efficient, Miss Hamilton came to her rank as mining mistress not alone by right of heredity but by a succession of achievements that rank her as a leader in a man's vocation. Since the opening of the mine site, in 1928, there has been a continuous record of such achievements in which the new owner has played no small part.

Shortly after opening the new mine, thousands of gallons of water poured in on miners in the workings. Electric pumps were installed capable of pumping out 71,000 gallons each hour. New cutting and shearing machines were employed and other improvements carried out to make the mine one of the leading shaft operations in the field.

Miss Hamilton is modest about it all. She does not like the suggestion she is possibly Canada's first woman mine operator. She has sufficient confidence in the men working for her to accept the responsibility and undertake a matter so vital associated with a sizeable mine.

CONFLICTING DIVORCE LAW

(By The Canadian Press)

EDMONTON, May 9—Sections of the Divorce Act and the Alberta Evidence Act in direct conflict with Justice W. C. Ives has pointed out.

Under divorce law, he said, a petitioner must disclose his or her misconduct when applying for a decree but at the same time a petitioner may not be asked by counsel or the court any question pertaining to his or her misconduct.

His Lordship explained this came into direct conflict with the Alberta Evidence Act. At the same time, however, the divorce law demands previous acts of adultery on the part of the plaintiff be disclosed.

Meteorologist Passes

TORONTO, May 8—Frank L. Blake, 81 retired astronomer of the Meteorological service at the Toronto Observatory, died last night after a long illness. For many years he gave the correct time daily to many points throughout the Dominion.

In his early days after his education here was completed he took part in the survey which opened the Northwest to settlement and was actively engaged in the subdivision of Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and other important Western Canada centres.

During the war he instructed students of military aviation in the use of instruments and in observations necessary for night flying.

Montague Celebrates

Leadon skies and clouds that at times threatened a downpour of rain, accompanied by chilling north west winds, did not prevent the citizens of Montague and surrounding districts from participating wholeheartedly in the Empire-wide Jubilee celebrations on Monday. At no time in the town's history has there been such an enthusiastic and elaborate demonstration. Flags and bunting lined main street, where a gigantic parade took place. School children, waving Union Jacks, played an important part in the joyful display of loyalty. Every citizen in Montague co-operated in making the day a real success.

At two o'clock the parade started to form up in front of the Memorial School. A detachment of the R.C.M.P., known as C Squadron, under command of Lieutenant A. F. Campbell, followed L. J. C. Watson, R.C.M.P., in lead of the parade. The Montague Legion Band played the National Anthem as the parade was ready to start. Following is a list of the various units and organizations taking part in parade: R. C. M. P., Light Horse, Montague Legion Band, under direction of H. W. Ives, Canadian Legion B.E.S.L., in charge of President Simon Nicholson, Town Council, School children with flags. Then followed decorated floats representing Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Masons, Oddfellows, Curlers, Brudenell School, Ford and Dodge Cars, Poole and Thompson, Dredge No. 9, L. B. McIlhenny, Montague Horse Races, Seed Potatoes, McLaren's Flower Shop, McLean Theatre, Crown and Pony, Race horses with sulks, Truckmen.

The pleasing aroma which followed the Boy Scout float made it a very popular one. The float depicted a camp scene in a wood during preparation of breakfast. A frying pan of bacon and a pot of coffee held over a real fire made every one wonder if they had really eaten today.

The Girl Guides demonstrated first aid and proficiency on their float, which was also very attractive. The flower float was a thing of beauty. There were also some very original ones. It would be difficult indeed to make special mention of any one float, as each one reflected the utmost credit upon those responsible.

The parade ended its way to the music of the Band, through main street to the eastern extremity of the town and there turned and paraded west as far as the Christian Church, while the throngs on the streets cheered and waved flags. The parade returned to the school grounds and formed about a specially constructed platform, where His Worship Mayor Lane, after a few remarks, introduced the speaker, Mr. John A. Dewar.

After the speech, Mayor Lane presented Jubilee medals to the following: Miss Edna Daley, W. A. McLaggan, Leslie Hunter, M.L.A., Montague Annex, M.L.A., John A. Campbell, M.L.A. It was regretted that Mr. J. E. McDonald, M.L.A., was not present to receive his medal. Mayor Lane congratulated each recipient after he pinned on the medal. Others on the platform were: Lieut. A. F. Campbell and Simon D. Nicholson. Two Boy Scouts, Sandy Reynolds and Ronnie MacDonald, held likenesses of Their Majesties at each corner of the platform while another Scout, Willis A. McGregor, held the Union Jack. At the conclusion of this part of the celebration all joined in singing God Save the King.

John Dan MacPherson, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. MacPherson, of Galedonia, charmed his listeners with his bagpipe selections.

The success attending the whole celebration was due in no small way

Swordsmen Plan National Meet

(By The Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, May 9—"Em gards!" That time-honored greeting challenge for the first time in Canadian fencing history will ring out here in a national fencing meet when masters of the blades from the east and west duel for Dominion honours and places on Canada's Olympic team.

Canada's best swordsmen will meet here May 28, 29 and 30 in the Dominion fencing championships—the first time a western city has been selected for a title meet. Heretofore, Montreal and Toronto have alternated in holding these bouts but through the efforts of the Manitoba Fencing Association, western Canada will be the venue this year.

Award of the fencing premiere to the west is expected to give impetus to a sport that rapidly is gaining in favor west of the Great Lakes following many years of indifferent public interest. Many fencers of ability are being developed and fencing has made rapid strides.

Under the able direction of Dr. R. M. Cornelius, president of the Manitoba association, and George Braund, founder of the Blades club, the sport is regaining public favor and its sponsors hope, soon will rank with cricket and curling in public interest. Five clubs, already have been organized here.

Two years of effort on the part of Dr. Cornelius resulted last March in making the first Manitoba championships an annual event. Four major titles were decided—the men's foil, sabre classes, the boys' championship and the women's foil title. The provincial meet was well attended.

Association officials believe a large number of fencers throughout the west who have never had an opportunity to compete in a national tournament will be able to do so this year. A large contingent is expected from eastern Canada where fencing has been a leading sport for decades.

Indicative of the interest shown here, large crowds attend weekly bouts of the Blades club, eager to learn of the "thrust," "parry," "riposte," "touché" and "tunge." Two military clubs furnish a keen capability of fencing and two women clubs to the untiring efforts of Simon Nicholson, President of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. and his executive, which comprised the committee in charge of the arrangements. The Canadian Legion greatly appreciate the splendid co-operation of Mayor Lane and the Town Council in making the unprecedented celebration a success.

In the evening the largest number that ever looked the E. C. F. Hall gathered to see the minstrel show which was put on by the Legion Band.

The well constructed Jubilee beacon, which was in charge of the Boy Scouts, drew a large crowd to witness the beauty of the flames and sparks against the darkened sky.

A dance was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall after the minstrel show.—H.

*SUNDAY CHURCH SERVICE—On Sunday evening last almost a capacity house greeted the pastor the Rev. C. Hughes, B.A., in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, the reverend gentleman taking as his text, "Launch out into the deep." Special stress was laid on the fact that if men today obeyed the command of God as did those poor fisher folk the art of war would soon be no more and the vast amount of money so spent could be utilized for better and more useful purposes. Featuring the service in the way of variety, the spice of life, were two solos, one by Mr. McPhee and the other by Mrs. Hubley. Both were exceptionally well rendered, thoroughly enjoyed and greatly appreciated.
