A RAID THAT WAS SENSATIONAL
 Strongly Fortified Pool Room in New York

is Entered by Detectives—The Plans Were Well Matured—Battered Their Way Into the Joint With Axes.

NEW YORK, April 2.—In affecting an entrance into an alleged pool room in the basement of a six story business building on West Third street yesterday two detectives were forced to chop a hole through a floor in the rear room of a saloon and drop into the room below, where other detectives were holding the alleged proprietors and inmates at bay with their revolvers. The alleged proprietor William Daly, and a dozen others were arrested.

According to the story told by the police, the place was very cunningly fortified and guarded. An elaborate system of signals had to be given by several sentries, it is alleged, before a would-be footer could gain entrance to the room. Pocket telephones, electric buttons "buzzers," secret slides and "mazes" figure in the story. When the visitors finally satisfied the sentries that he was all right it is said he was passed along to a room, the door of which was immediately bolted. It is said that there were five of these rooms leading direct to an alleged pool room and that in some of the enclosures there were three or four doors built to bewilder an invading party.

Detective Sergeants Kerr and Fogarty disguised themselves as truck drivers and it is alleged frequently visited the place, where they claimed to have placed bets on the races at Beggings. They were there yesterday when detective Sergeants Valley and Collins dropped through the ceiling.

Valley and Collins dressed as laborers, entered the cafe, which is an elaborately decorated one. Valley had a crowbar and sledge hammer and Collins was equipped with two axes and sledge hammer. Each carried a "jimmy." They went at once to the rear room. They promptly arrested the outer sentries and while one detective watched the prisoners the other battered down a door.

As soon as the blows were heard in the inner room Kerr and Fogarty drew their revolvers, and backing to a corner covered the crowd.

Meanwhile Valley, after battering down one door, came to a second. This, though built of oak, soon gave way, and the detectives found themselves in room which had three doors. Cutting through one of these doors the detectives and their prisoners entered another room, which also had three doors. They were in the "maze."

It was then that the detectives decided to go up stairs to the rear room of the saloon, where Valley cut through the floor. Several policemen, who had been attracted to the place by this time watched the prisoners while Valley and Collins and a uniformed policeman dropped through the hole into the alleged pool room.

Those arrested besides the alleged proprietor were his alleged manager and employees. The others found in the place were not arrested.

SIR HECTOR.

The remains of Gen. Sir Hector MacDonald were buried at Edinburgh without any of the pomp of war or sound of drum among which he had expended his life. The burial of Sir John Moore was not more pathetic than Hector MacDonald's. "Not a drum was heard, nor a funeral note as his corse to the rampart they hurried." It will be the fashion to draw long faces and say that MacDonald dishonored his life so that he was ashamed to face his fellow man. We do not believe one word of the charge. To tell the world that man that was virtually an invincible man that had one of his legs broken at Paardeberg and on the same bloody field contracted sunstroke so that even the natural force of his mind was abated, should indulge in childish tricks with school girls is to tell us what we believe to be a lie. Parsons and prudes may assert the contrary, but that does not alter our belief and nothing will until the charge against the dead soldier is established on oath by more than one witness. In the meantime, let the hero of scores of desperate battles rest in peace, and let the voice of disreputable slander be hushed. Sir Hector, of his own motion, has gone to the final tribunal; let the slander-mongers leave him there. Hundreds of times he risked his life for the flag, as became the brave soldier his was and he will be remembered with pride centuries after those who now bound and blacken his memory will go down to the vile dust, unwept, unhonored and unsung.

THE SPRING FEELING.

Weariness, Lassitude and a Desire to Avoid Exertion.

There are few people who have not experienced what is aptly termed the spring feeling. Languor and weariness, loss of appetite, touches of indigestion, pimples and irritation of the skin. They all come with the spring. All these ills are banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They enrich the blood, brace up the nerves, and charm away all spring weariness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best tonic medicine in the world. They make new, rich, red blood, strengthen men and women and make the roses of health bloom on pallid cheeks. Here is proof: Miss Catherine Johnston, Garner Mines, N. B., says:—"I was very much run down, and so weak that I would frequently have to lie down. My appetite was poor and food distasteful. I often suffered from headache, and the least exertion left me completely used up. I used a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and since then I have felt like a new person. I do not know of any medicine equal to these pills. In this climate a tonic is an absolute necessity in spring, and health will be gained and money saved by using only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Don't take a substitute. It is a good idea to send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed prepaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

WORE ONLY AN ULSTER.

St. JOHN, April 4.—In St. John there have been vague stories of a "hugger-man" who shows a disposition to gather to his breast, ladies, on unfrequented streets. On Saturday the reports took a more definite form by the clear statement of several ladies that a man clad in a winter, and no other garment, caught hold of them on Harding street. He threw back his robe as he caught one of them. The ladies screamed, and the man fled, and at last accounts had not been discovered or identified.

HALIFAX WICKEDEST PLACE.

HALIFAX, April 5.—Frasgellet Gale addressed a large congregation of men in the Grafton street Methodist church last evening. His sermon was powerful and strong, and was listened to with interest. In the course of his remarks he took occasion to say that on account of its great licentiousness, Halifax was "the most wicked place in the province, and was a blot on the fair name of the Dominion."

TALKING ABOUT CANADA.

London, April 5.—In a debate in the House of Commons on the shipping bill, Sir E. G. Rollitt, who visited Canada last summer, remarked that the United States taxed Canadian shipping, not because Canada failed to light its own coast, but because Great Britain failed to perform its national duty.

HAD NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Mrs. S. West, Drayton, Ont., states: "I got terribly run down, and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Tonic I used three boxes with great benefit, gaining eleven pounds. It made me strong and well and I had such an appetite that I wanted to be eating half the time."

PORTLAND GETTING SCARED.

PORTLAND, April 4.—Otawa despatches announcing the opposition of Hon. A. G. Blair, Canadian minister of railways and canals, to the project of the Grand Trunk, which has asked the government for authority to reconstruct its lines, is of much interest here. It is understood that the company's plans, if carried out, would divert most of the trade from Canada to Europe via this port, to some shipping point in Canadian territory.

DONT PAY TOO MUCH

On too little when you are buying a vehicle. There are some local builders who claim, because they build a few jobs per season, that they should get very high prices. If you buy their vehicles at their prices you would pay too much. Some factories without much reputation and using cheap culled stock are willing to almost give their wagons at any price a purchaser would offer. That class of vehicles are no good at any price. To be safe and pay a FAIR PRICE buy from us.
