ISLANDERS IN MONTREAL.—At the Royal Victoria Hospital, the other day Rev. E. J. Rattee found two former friends, Mr. Robert McGuigan and Mr. John Cousins. He is pleased to report encouragingly about both. Dr. Gurvey says that Mr. McGuigan would have been home a week or more ago, were it not for a sharp attack of neuritis which has followed the operation, so that his friends in Malpeque may be assured that the delay is not caused at all by a failure in the operation or subsequent healing. Mr. John Cousins says that Mr. McGuigan was recovered in a short time. It was good to see them and to hear much of the news of Malpeque.

MCCARVILLE-HAMMILL.—St. Malachy's Church, Kinkora, was the scene of a happy event on Oct. 5, when Russell McCarville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis McCarville, Emerald, one of Emerald's most prosperous young farmers, now of Lower Freetown, led to the altar Catherine Hammill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hammill, one of the most popular ladies of Freetown. The wedding march was beautifully played by Mr. William Smith, Kinkora. After the nuptial mass, played by Frank Butler, Lot 7, the bridal couple returned to the bride's home and had breakfast, thence they motored to Summerside, returning in the evening when 6 o'clock tea was awaiting for them. Previously to the marriage the bride was waited upon by a large number of her friends and showered with a numerous lot of costly gifts, including silverware, cut glass, linen, etc., also a handsome sum of money. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Laura, and the groom was ably supported by his cousin, Alphonse Shreenan. All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. McCarville a happy and prosperous wedded life.

ESTABLISHING HOSPITAL.—Dr. G. A. Ings, son of the late John Ings, Charlottetown, P. E. I., but now practicing at Fort McMurray, Alberta, is taking up with the provincial department of health the question of establishing a small hospital in the northern town. It is understood that if Dr. Ings goes on with his project the government will likely give some financial assistance, as McMurray is not yet in a position to support a municipal hospital.

A MATRIMONIAL MIX-UP.—A P. E. Island woman some years ago journeyed to Boston. There she married a P. E. I. man and they moved back to the Garden of the Gulf. The husband died and the wife with the two children moved to New Glasgow, N.S., according to a New Glasgow paper, she conducted a boarding house and finally fell a victim to the wiles of the star boarder, to whom she was to all intents apparently honestly wedded by a Presbyterian minister in Truro. All went well for a few years and the domestic life was not indifferent to that of others, they living by turns in Westville, Stellarton and Trenton. Now the husband disappears with the wife of another man and two homes are disrupted. Then to make matters more complicated, just as the unfortunate woman is endeavoring to establish a residence, along comes a new woman who it seems was legally married to this casual before the Truro event. The Lethario who has left and had to match trimmed with grey ostrich tips. Mr. Rattee is a former Fanning School, Malpeque, graduate, also a Prince of Wales graduate. He was overseas then, and a half year with the Dalhousie College Unit.

ISLANDER DEAD

Mr. Barrach Woodside, Margate, who went to Montreal some days ago for medical treatment has died. General regret is felt for this early and unexpected death of a young man who was respected by all his friends. The body will be brought home for interment.—Y.

RATTEE-KINNEAR

The marriage took place Tuesday evening at five o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, 147 Stanley St., Loughquill, Que., the Rev. I. A. Montgomery, officiating, assisted by the groom's father, of Miss Frances Elizabeth Kinneare, second daughter of Rev. George F. and Mrs. Kinneare, to Rev. Neil MacLean Rattee, son of Rev. E. J. and Mrs. Rattee of Loughquill, formerly of Malpeque P. E. I. The ceremony was performed in the bay window of the drawing room, which was banked with palms, ferns and cut flowers. An aisle of ribbons was formed, through which the bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her away. The bride's sister, Mrs. Albert Grande played the wedding march. During the signing of the register the bride's cousin, Mrs. James Kinneare sang "Love Coronation". The bride wore a gown of white charmeuse satin, with tunic of silver lace and court train, lined with shell pink georgette, embroidered in butterfly design of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Opheelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Louise MacDiarmid, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of pale yellow taffeta with trimmings of gold lace and hat of black panne velvet and carried a bouquet of calendulas and maidenhair, fanned with mauve tulle. Little Beryl Grande, niece of the bride, as flower girl, was dressed in white silk and carried an old fashioned bouquet of sweetheart roses, tied with pink ribbon. Mr. Joseph Rattee acted as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls, to the bridesmaid a pearl and cameo ring and to the flower girl a gold locket. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl and cameo bar pin. Mrs. Kinneare, mother of the bride, wore a dress of taupe satin, with touches of henna, embroidered in steel beads, and with a corsage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Rattee, the groom's mother was in black satin. After the reception, Rev. and Mrs. Rattee left for Halifax, from whence they are sailing to British Guiana to engage in missionary work there, this bride travelling in a navy blue fringed suit, with grey fox fur and hat to match, trimmed with grey ostrich tips. Mr. Rattee is a former Fanning School, Malpeque, graduate, also a Prince of Wales graduate. He was overseas then, and a half year with the Dalhousie College Unit.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. DANIEL A. STEELE
Again a gloom of sorrow was cast over the community of Little Pond, when the news of the death of Mrs. Daniel Steele was announced Saturday morning October 1st. Mrs. Steele was in her usual good health until two days previous to her death when she was suddenly stricken ill and despite the best medical skill and tender nursing death claimed her for its victim. She was attended in her illness by her pastor Rev. Dr. Walker, who administered to her the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church. The deceased was one of Little Pond's most esteemed and highly respected members possessing a personality at all times pleasing and a mind inclined with a deep religious sentiment always ready to lend a helping hand where loving sympathy and kindly deeds were needed to console the distressed in this way she endeavored herself to all those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A large concourse of sorrowing friends came from far and near to her home to see her mortal remains and to attend the Requiem High Mass sung in St. Francis de Sales church, Wednesday morning by Rev. Dr. Walker, assisted by Rev. J. C. McLean, V. G.; after which all that was mortal of a devoted wife and an affectionate mother was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband, one son J. D. at home, and one daughter, Annie of the J. Hughes Co., Souris, also three brothers: Joseph and John McTear, Rollo Bay, and Aeneas McTear, Boston, Mass., and one sister Mrs. Alex. McDougall, Rollo Bay, all of whom have the sincere sympathy of their many friends. The pallbearers were Angus D. McDonald, James McDonald, William Fisher, James H. McCormack, Edwin McFarlane, James Norton, and the driver, Stephen Steele. Eternal rest give unto her O Lord. And let perpetual light shine upon her.
