

NEVER NEGLECT EVERY-DAY ILLS.

A cold is one of the everyday ills of life. People of all ages, in summer and in winter, are liable to catch a cold, and the beginning of catarrh of some internal organ—head, lungs, stomach or pelvic organs. Any remedy that will cure a cold should cure the many effects of a cold. That's why Smith's Triple Cure is so popular, why people are so enthusiastic after experiencing its wonderful curative power. Smith's Triple Cure promptly cures colds and catarrh wherever located, because it acts directly on the depressed nerve centres, giving strength and vigor to tired nerves, removing the congestion of the circulation and imparting renewed vitality to the mucous membranes.

Picture to yourself the horrors of bronchial catarrh—the terrible cough, disgusting expectoration, wheezy breath and loss of strength, or the tortures of female catarrh—the swollen bowels, shooting pains, offensive discharges, displacements and burning distress, and then realize, if you can, how thankful these sufferers are for Smith's Triple Cure which has delivered them out of their troubles. Is it any wonder that Smith's Triple Cure is rapidly displacing all other catarrh treatments in hospitals and sanitariums and is prescribed by the medical profession generally? It meets a want felt for centuries, yet felt now in this strenuous life of ours as never before. Smith's Triple Cure cures catarrh sufferers of all ages, makes the sick well and the weak strong; it builds up healthy digestion, makes strong nerves and enriches the blood. That's why all the world is talking about it in the homes and on the streets. Smith's Triple Cure consists of four separate preparations, three remedies taken internally acting on the mucous membranes, stomach, liver and digestive organs, purifying and enriching the blood, and a catarrh cream used locally in allaying all inflammation and killing all disease germs in the nasal passages, throat and lungs, a full two weeks' treatment of complete relief, sold for only 50 cents by all dealers, the greatest value for the money ever offered. If your druggist won't supply you, send 25 two-cent stamps by mail today, and we will send it postpaid and guarantee safe delivery. Address W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James St., Montreal.

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 24, 1905.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER IN EASTON.

The Boston Herald of the 18th instant prints a capital portrait of Sir Charles Tupper and an interview with him on the occasion of his recent visit to that city en route from Winnipeg to London. The Herald tells that Sir Charles Tupper still looks the strong and aggressive war horse that he has always been, though his manner is frank and affable. "A fine old British gentleman, one would be tempted to paraphrase of him at first sight, and after having heard him discourse on the loyalty of the colonies, and the greatness and future of the federated Empire which he believes to be, the characterization would seem not inappropriate." As Sir Charles was eighty-three years of age in July last, it will be pleasant news to his many Canadian friends that he is still so robust and energetic. His loyalty and devotion to Canada and the Empire is something that all who know him will take for granted.

The first subject touched upon in the interview was the Blaine-Bond reciprocity treaty of which a renewal is now being sought. "I prevented the Blaine-Bond treaty from going into operation years ago," said Sir Charles, "and certainly I do not think it wise to have a treaty made between the United States and Newfoundland, which is a British Province, unless Canada is a party to it."

Touching upon the proposal of reciprocity between the United States and Canada, Sir Charles pointed out that the Republic had in the past refused all overtures from Canada toward that end.

"Today," said Sir Charles, "the Canadian people are comparatively indifferent as to reciprocity with this country." As to the Chamberlain movement in Britain, Sir Charles said in part:

"It is very likely that he will be defeated at the next election, but that he will succeed eventually I do not doubt. No question that has ever been brought before the British public has made the enormous progress that the policy of Chamberlain has. Not since the days of Sir Robert Peel has there been such advance in an idea. And the more closely it is examined the more I am satisfied that it will be found essential to the unity and welfare of the whole British empire."

Sir Charles Tupper has no fear of the Northwest becoming disloyal, or Americanized by the influx to that region of immigrants from the United States. On this subject he said:

"No, they will not annex us! If Mr. Chamberlain induced them, in part, to go over into Canada, it is not likely that when they have got there they will turn around and adopt a policy which will take away the preference they enjoy."

"I have had large experiences with Americans coming into Canada. They are the most intelligent and the best class of people; they are acquainted with the prairie country, and they have the information and the experience calculated to make them the most successful. And I have found, too, that they very soon learn that under Canadian institutions, under British institutions, there is no system of government that could be more attractive; and so they, become very good Canadians."

"I have sat at the side of American capitalists who have come into Canada and gone into the House of Commons; and there were never more enthusiastic British subjects! Our system of government they considered as able to stand comparison with that of any in the world."

C. C. RICHARDS & Co.

Dear Sirs,—We wish to inform you that we consider your MINARD'S LINIMENT a very superior article, and we use it as a sure relief for sore throat and chest. When I tell you I would not use without it if the price was one dollar bottle, I mean it.

Yours truly,
CHAS. F. TILTON.

Last year's surplus in the federal treasury was sufficient to defray the entire cost of the tunnel, with half as much more to the good.

The Patriot seems perfectly satisfied with the performances of the winter steamers. The people are not. The Patriot is a party journal, not the people's journal.

One of our profitable winter industries, if we had communication with the mainland would be the smelt fishery. It is paralyzed and thousands of dollars lost to our people for want of the tunnel.

Whether it is better for the Island and for the Maritime Provinces for the Dominion to expend nine or ten millions in a tunnel to connect the three Provinces or to spend a like sum in the far West?

Senator Wark, now 101 years of age, is his own barber, shaves himself twice a week and makes a good job of it too. Until he became a centenarian, one year ago, he used an ordinary razor, but since entering upon his second hundred years he has used a safety razor.

Suppose the tunnel to cost $10,000,000. The annual interest on that sum would be, at 3 per cent $300,000. Our population is less than one fifth part of the whole population of Canada, and our share would therefore be under $60,000 a year, a matter of 17 cents per head.

H. McMillan of New Haven, whose brief letter appears in another column suggests the desirability of the S. S. Stanley making an effort to reach Port Mulgrave in the Strait of Canso, and on the line of the Intercolonial. We do not know the ice conditions at Port Mulgrave or in St. George's Bay at the present time, but we give Mr. McMillan's letter publicity believing that every possible effort should be made to reach some port on the other side while Pictou remains closed.

The re-election of Hon. S. E. Reid in the Fourth District of Prince yesterday by a good majority was very generally expected. The new Commissioner of Agriculture is personally popular, and his Government has but recently been triumphant at the polls in a general election. It seemed therefore rather a forlorn hope to oppose him. But perhaps the Opposition were buoyed by their success in previous by-elections, a number of which within the past three or four years had gone against the Government.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA

Quilms, nausea, longing for food yet dreading to eat. You may have the real thing, but Ferrozone will cure you like it did S. D. Huntington of Hamilton, who says "I frequently was attacked with such acute dyspepsia that I thought it must be heart disease. I used Ferrozone and got relief. I kept on using Ferrozone and was cured. My digestion is in perfect order, and I can eat anything to-day. Nothing is as good as Ferrozone for dyspepsia and those bothered with weak stomachs. Price 50c. at druggists."
