

The Royal Bank of Canada

General Statement 30th November, 1927

Table with columns for LIABILITIES and ASSETS, listing various financial items and their values.

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE: We have examined the above statement of Liabilities and Assets at 30th November, 1927...

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT: Balance of Profit and Loss Account, 30th November, 1926...

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN: Perhaps love is blind, but it manages to find its way to the ministers. We use this adjective advisedly.

New Universities Dictionary COUPON: How to Get It. For the Mere Nominal Cost of Manufacture and Distribution 1 Coupon 98c and

The Public Forum

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

CITY ELECTIONS

Sir,—I notice that several candidates for the honour of representing their fellow citizens in the City Council are already in the field.

A CITIZEN

The Government's MANDATES: Sir,—At the beginning of 1928 we are reminded that Shakespeare has stated: "Time is the nurse and breeder of all good."

THE GOVERNMENT'S MANDATES

Sir,—At the beginning of 1928 we are reminded that Shakespeare has stated: "Time is the nurse and breeder of all good."

AN ABSTAINER

Modern Etiquette: By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is the suffix "in-law" used in good society? A. It should be omitted whenever possible.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

A GLAD NEW YEAR

May it give you all good things you wish and may it give us the opportunity of continuing those pleasant relations with you which have meant so much to us in the past.

EASTERN SECURITIES COMPANY LIMITED: Charlottetown, P. E. I. Montreal Saint John, N. B. Halifax, N. S.

Hunter River And Vicinity

Messrs. Stewart Woolner and Sterling Brown were among the students returning last week from Dalhousie to spend the holidays at their homes in North Rustico and New Glasgow, respectively.

In Memoriam

IVAN HUNTER DUVAR: On Dec. 13, there passed away at the home of his parents in Charlottetown, Ivan Hunter Duvar, of Cornwall, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunter Duvar, and grandson of the late Colonel John Hunter Duvar of Hanover, P. E. I.

REV. WILLIAM DEATHE

Rev. William Deathe, of Guysboro N. S., passed away at the Rectory at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had been ill for some time, suffering with heart trouble and Bright's disease.

A Man Of Rare Attainment

Honored politically and professionally during his lifetime, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears here, made a successful career in the medical profession.

Poultry

We will be buying five, and dressed poultry daily until the end of the season. Highest prices paid.

THE GABBS

FRED LIPPO CLAIMS HE'S LEAVING TOWN BECAUSE HE GOT A BETTER JOB BUT SOPHIE SAYS HE GOT FIRED.

LEAVE IT TO SOPHIE TO SPREAD THE BAD NEWS IF THAT OLD MAD FRENCH MAN'S WORD ABOUT ANYBODY THE WHOLE TOWN WOULD DROP DEAD!

I KNOW THIS MUCH ANYHOW—THE LIPPOS MUST BE HARD UP OR THEY WOULDN'T BE SELLING EVERYTHING—MRS. LIPPO TRIED TO TELL HER SQUIRREL COAT ONLY THIS MORNING.

IT'S A NICE COAT AND IT'D LIKE TO HAVE IT—I WONDER IF SQUIRREL FUR WILL STAND THE RAIN?

DID YOU EVER TRY SRYING AN UMBRELLA?

Quebec State Ball A Brilliant Affair

QUEBEC, December, 27.—History repeated itself in historical Quebec tonight, and the centuries of splendor, the hundreds of years between 1535 and 1860 came back to the eye, as well as to the imagination, at the gorgeous ball given at Parliament House by His Honor Narcisse Perdeau, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, tonight.

In Memoriam

IVAN HUNTER DUVAR: On Dec. 13, there passed away at the home of his parents in Charlottetown, Ivan Hunter Duvar, of Cornwall, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunter Duvar, and grandson of the late Colonel John Hunter Duvar of Hanover, P. E. I.

REV. WILLIAM DEATHE

Rev. William Deathe, of Guysboro N. S., passed away at the Rectory at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had been ill for some time, suffering with heart trouble and Bright's disease.

A Man Of Rare Attainment

Honored politically and professionally during his lifetime, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears here, made a successful career in the medical profession.

Poultry

We will be buying five, and dressed poultry daily until the end of the season. Highest prices paid.

THE GABBS

FRED LIPPO CLAIMS HE'S LEAVING TOWN BECAUSE HE GOT A BETTER JOB BUT SOPHIE SAYS HE GOT FIRED.

LEAVE IT TO SOPHIE TO SPREAD THE BAD NEWS IF THAT OLD MAD FRENCH MAN'S WORD ABOUT ANYBODY THE WHOLE TOWN WOULD DROP DEAD!

I KNOW THIS MUCH ANYHOW—THE LIPPOS MUST BE HARD UP OR THEY WOULDN'T BE SELLING EVERYTHING—MRS. LIPPO TRIED TO TELL HER SQUIRREL COAT ONLY THIS MORNING.

IT'S A NICE COAT AND IT'D LIKE TO HAVE IT—I WONDER IF SQUIRREL FUR WILL STAND THE RAIN?

DID YOU EVER TRY SRYING AN UMBRELLA?

To You All: A Happy New Year!

IT is our sincere hope that 1928 will bring to you and yours health, prosperity and all the good things of life—and that your happiness may endure for many, many years.

MOORE & McLEOD Limited

WELCOME: 32 JAN-SS-28

colleagues, accompanied by their Lt. Summerside, spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord, North Tryon.

After the march past and presentation, the quadrille was danced with the utmost grace. But not before a charming, powdered lady of the Pompadour type had been carried in a sedan chair past the hosts and the guests of honor.

The quadrille was followed by a fine minuet, danced by ten youthful couples, and then there was general dancing. Supper was served at midnight in the Parliament Cafe, which had been suitably decorated for the purpose.

The entire Parliament buildings had been set aside for the gala night. It was a sight such as has not been witnessed since many, many years before the war days.

Guests arrived from all parts of Canada, but the society of Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa were the most numerous represented.

Special trains came from east and west throughout the day, and the hotel accommodation was almost exhausted.

Lord Willington, as Charles I. wore blue breeches, black satin tunic slashed in cloth of silver, black satin cape, embroidered in silver, large hat with black plumes. Lady Willington, as Queen Henrietta Mad, was in a gown of green and gold shot taffeta, with full skirt, finishing in long train; bodice, with square-cut décolleté, ornaments, diamonds and pearls. She wore a large ornament of diamonds in her brown hair.

Capt. the Hon. Inigo Freeman-Thomas, as the Duke of Buckingham, was in a court dress of the period; Hon. Mrs. Freeman-Thomas, as the Duchess of Buckingham, wore a court gown of white and silver brocade.

His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Perdeau, who with His Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Willington and Mrs. McKenna and Miss Yvette McKenna, stood on the dais of the throne to receive the guests, wore, as Louis XIV, a rich costume of green and gold, with a brocaded satin coat. It was worn over a long waistcoat of white satin, embroidered with gold, knee breeches of green and gold satin, and, over all, a cloak of black velvet, powdered with fleurs de lys, embroidered in gold, and lined in cloth of gold. He wore black silk stockings and the black-tongued shoes of the period. Also a grey wig, with the long curls with which Louis set the fashion.

On they came, a gorgeous, ever-changing stream of picturesque humanity. Tall Hussars of Murat's regiment, red-coated infantrymen of the eighteenth century, Admiral Nelson and Admiral Rodney, General Wellington and General Blücher.

There were practically all the wonderful women of the period of the three great French kings—Louis XIV, Louis XV, and Louis XVI. Bonnie Prince Charlie was there and so was Rob Roy, and William Shakespeare and Abraham Lincoln. As soon as they had passed the dais, they walked on downstairs, upstairs again and up to the gallery to watch the newcomers. The band of the Royal 22nd Regiment played intermezzi, sotto voce, so as not to drown the voice of the officer.

There passed gold-faced generals of cavalry and silver-galooned cadets of infantry. Tall-hatted poets of the early nineteenth century passed, with ladies of the early Victoria era. The great Queen herself was there, both in her younger and older days, the first accompanied by the Prince Consort. Chopin and Beethoven walked side by side, while George Sand was escorted by Alfred de Musset.

It was hopeless to make an order of centuries, as was first intended. There were over a thousand guests, representing practically all the historical characters of over three hundred years. Beside a notary of Upper Canada of comparatively recent time, of Francis Baring, there were Roundheads of Cromwell's time and cavaliers of the King, all friendly, all in great humor.

Earlier in the afternoon their Excellencies, accompanied by their Lt. Summerside, spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord, North Tryon.

Miss Edith Lord, of R. T. Holman, Summerside, spent Xmas with relatives in Tryon.

E. H. and Mrs. Boulter and charming little daughter, Kathleen, Mis-couche, spent Christmas with Mrs. Boulter's parents, Jas. A. and Mrs. Chisholm, North Tryon.

Sunday the 25 being stormy and Monday roads were none too good. Tryon had a rather quiet Christmas yet by the smiling countenance. Tuesday morning I believe everyone enjoyed themselves.

Mr. Goldie Delaney, Linkletter Road, spent Christmas with his parents—Parker and Mrs. Delaney, N. Tryon.

Miss Rose Smith, North Tryon, spent Christmas at her home in Kelly's Cross.

The Albany rink is being rapidly completed, and soon will be ready or the water—strange, this time of year! Was behind his lunch counter. But cheer up, Dad, you will have it colder before Spring. "It won't be long now"—Elsmae of Z.

If Hair is Turning Gray, use Sage Tea: That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of our Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and rustrous.