

My Nerves Are Upset

For Loss of Appetite
Nervousness
Exhaustion
Retarded Convalescence
Anemia
Malnutrition
Bronchial Troubles

How often you hear people say that! The cause may be indigestion, worry, overwork, strain, or late hours.

There may be nothing organically wrong with such cases, yet nervous ailments are always stubborn and frequently perplexing.

If you suffer from "nerves" and are dejected, irritable and "jumpy", take Fellows' Syrup. In a short time it will rebuild your nervous system and dispel your dreary outlook on life. You may thus be spared a long siege of illness.

CAUTION—Ask for it by name and be sure of getting the genuine.

 July 28, 1931.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. McMurrer, Charlottetown, P.E.I.
 Dear Friends:—It was with feelings of sincere regret that we learned of your intended departure from our midst.
 During your long stay among us you have earned the love and respect of all, young and old, and your going leaves us sad. We will miss your cheery greeting, your kindly interest, and your neighborly kindnesses. We know that the good Fairy who waved her wand over your home on Sydney street will find you in the Sacred Heart Home and grant you many happy years together. We are comforted by the thought that you have found new and good friends in an abode so close to Him who doeth all things well. We will not worry over your comfort for we all know with what zeal and devotion the good Sisters look after their care.
 We trust to be able to visit you often, but let us forget us, we have brought you both tokens of remembrance. Kindly accept same from your neighbors who do not forget you.

GLACIER GIVES UP ITS DEAD
 (British United Press)
 VIENNA, Aug. 26—The tragic discovery of two perfectly preserved human bodies up the Blackstone Glacier tells a story of the indomitable courage of two men who fell into the glacier crevasse twelve years ago and awaited death by playing cards.
 After the manner of glaciers the great icefield gave up its dead after twelve years. The bodies of Professor Koben and Dr. Anlaf, for whom time and age had stopped long ago, were found crumpled over a pack of cards just as they had looked on the fatal day of their mysterious disappearance more than a decade ago. Examination showed that the game had progressed until the players' fingers were frost-bitten a few minutes before death overtook them.
