OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of the Ear, Head Noises or ordinary deafness, send them this formula and hand it to them. It is a simple, safe, and effective means of curing the ear, and is perhaps the best remedy for the disease. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are able to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used in the treatment of the catarrh of the ear in the old English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious in sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Take this home and add to it 3/4 ounce of Epsom salt, 1/2 ounce of sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will bring out quick relief from distressing head noises, and the nose should be opened by breathing become easier and hearing improve as the inflammation in the ear is removed. The following formula used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system and has the action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

CARNIVAL LAST NIGHT.—The Carnival at the Arena Rink last evening was, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, largely attended. Many of the costumes were picturesque and some of them very attractive. The ice was in good condition and the skate most enjoyable. The following prizes were awarded:—1st, Miss Ruth Gough, "Queen of Hearts"; 2nd, Miss Alice McLeod, "Japanese Lady"; 3rd, Miss M. Jack Turner "Cowboy"; 1st Mr. Harold Meek, "Sir Walter Raleigh."

SUCCESSFULLY REPEATED.—The Follies of 1920 was repeated last evening before another appreciative audience in the Strand. The program which was full of snap, was one of the best staged in years and reflects a great deal of credit not only on the promoters but also on those who took the various parts. The programme last night began promptly at 8.20 and was finished at 10.20 exactly two hours. It will be repeated this afternoon as a matinee.

SOME FACTS ABOUT LIGHT WEIGHT CARS

In the February number of Motor is a valuable contribution to automobile literature on the possibility of lighter than any of the present ones. The author, M. C. Norine, M. S. A. E., predicts a gradual lowering of weight so that the average car will weigh around 200-250 pounds per passenger carried instead of from 400 to 1,000 pounds as at present. He shows how the use of the system and the use of lighter weight cars, will be made more economical. He states, the mileage per gallon of gasoline will be twice what it is now, tires will last longer and there will be more owners of cars. He goes on to say that a light car is not necessarily a cheap or diminutive car, and that the future light weight car, must be dignified and commodious.

THE PRINCE'S TOUR.
(Halifax Chronicle)

Arrangements for the Prince of Wales' tour to America are merely tentative, but it is possible to indicate its main lines. The Prince is expected to sail on H. M. S. Zeal and will be visited early in May. The Prince will make a complete tour through the North and South Islands, and then the party will go to Australia. The Prince's suite will be made much the same as that on the Canadian and American tour.

THINKING OF SPRING

I do not mind the winter weather, when I am seated by the fire, with some chatty volume in my hand, or with my dulcimer or lyre. But when the auto must be started, and I must crank her half a day, the winter finds me broken hearted and yearning for the bloom of May. In spring I merely press the starter, and my pistons whiz to beat the band, but now, pale and frozen hard, I turn a rusty crank by hand. Last night, alas I failed to drain her, and now the water's frozen hard, and it has cracked the steel container. I hand out language by the yard. I call aloud for spring-time zephyrs, for azure skies and babbling rills, for pastures with their grazing heifers, and sunshine gliding verdant hills. I cry, "Send back the spirit of roses, O Mother Nature, send it back; pray, pray, can these winds that freeze our noses, and put our motors out of whack?" I like to hear the north wind howling through long dark nights, to wake the dead I like to hear the frost king growling when I am safely tucked in bed. But when I try to crank the auto, upon a bleak and bitter morn, I yearn for sylvan nook and grotto, and warm winds blowing through the corn.—Walt Mason.

Hooking the Radiator to a Volcano

Reprinted from Science of the Month by Henry Smith Williams, M.D., LL.D.

Hearst's Magazine

It is well known that Italy is suffering from a shortage of coal. It seems not impossible that this may prove a blessing in disguise, inasmuch as it is rumored that an effort is being made to tap a new and inexhaustible source of energy by boring into the earth. It is well known that the interior of the earth is hot, and it has many times been suggested that it might be feasible to make borings and tap this great reservoir. This could be done anywhere, but probably to a better advantage in a country like Italy where there are volcanoes giving evidence of heat reservoirs comparatively near the surface.

There is no difference of opinion among geologists as to the existence of the internal reservoirs of heat. Everywhere on the earth's surface where tests have been made it has been observed that the temperature increases as we descend after reaching a depth beyond which fluctuations of surface temperature are no longer felt. It requires no great imagination to conceive the benefits that would follow from making this source of heat available. But there are obvious practical difficulties. Boring into the earth is an expensive and even hazardous labor; and until some pioneer effort has been made that will convince capitalists of the feasibility of the project we shall have to content ourselves with the coal mines rather than dig a little deeper and tap far more important sources of heat supply.

It is to be hoped that the present coal shortage in Italy or elsewhere will lead to the inauguration of experiments on a really extensive scale. In this day of great engineering projects it should be feasible to sink a shaft deep enough to get to a region of superheated strata if not into actual reservoirs of molten rock; and when this is done it will surely be possible to devise apparatus for utilizing the heat for the generation of steam and electricity. When this has been once accomplished the feat will be duplicated in a thousand regions and we shall be able to view the strike of coal miners with entire equanimity.

IN MEMORIAM

LATE EDWARD C. ELLIS.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Edward C. Ellis at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Sliker, 825 Main Street, Malden, Mass., on Dec. 31st after a short illness of ten days. The late Mr. Ellis was born in Hidesford, N. H., 47 years ago, the last of the family of John and Elizabeth Ellis. In 1868

DEATH OF MR. HERBERT THOMSON.

In the sudden death of Mr. Herbert Thomson, aged 51, which occurred on Saturday, Jan. 10th, Campbellton has lost one of its most highly esteemed citizens. While attempting to stop his gasoline engine, his foot became entangled in the belt and threw him to the ground with such violence as to break his leg near the ankle, and cause serious injuries to his head which resulted in his death.

There are left to mourn a wife and a family of eight all of whom were around his bedside, and who are now left to cherish the memory of a kind and affectionate father, whose thoughtfulness and clever disposition won for him many friends by whom he will long be remembered.

There are also left to mourn, three brothers James and Robt. of Campbellton, Thos. of Howland, and two sisters, Mrs. Robt. Caruthers, and Mrs. D. D. Campbell of O'Leary.

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Wm. Lockhart, who delivered a comforting and impressive discourse from Psalms 73-17. Until I went into the Sanctuary of God; Then understood I my own end.

The remains were taken to Minniscamuck Cemetery.

Dear father, thy hands are clasped in death.

We have kissed thy marble brow, And in our aching hearts we know We have no father now. 7047

DOROTHY MALONE.

A deep gloom of sorrow was cast over the parish of Kelly's Cross when it became known that the death of Dorothy had entered the City Hospital and called from this earth Dorothy, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Malone, at the early age of eighteen. The deceased was attending P. W. College, where, by faithful application she was qualifying herself for the honorable duty of instructing the youth in the public schools. But God had ordained otherwise. Stricken with Spinal Meningitis she was removed from Notre Dame (Convent to the hospital where, in spite of all that the best medical skill and kind attendance could do, she gently breathed her last, on the morning of Feb. 5th, after a brief illness of only two weeks.

The funeral, which was very largely attended despite the inclement weather, took place on Sunday afternoon to St. Joseph's Church, Kelly's Cross, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Thomas Curran, D. D.

The pall-bearers were: Frank and Joseph McGuigan, Art and John McQuaid and N. Cameron and T. Cain.

And now, free from the trials and tribulations of this life, she sleeps her last sleep in the quiet little graveyard and within the shadow of the Church, where in the innocence of her girlish heart, she oft adored her Eternal Father.

Besides a grief-stricken father and mother she leaves to mourn their loss nine brothers: John of Bridgewater, Mass.; Joseph of Boston, Mass.; Alphonsus, Jerome, Patrick, of Haverhill, Mass.; Ephraim of Brae, P. E. I. Thomas of Lowell, Mass.; Philip at home, and Anthony of Bridgewater, Conn; and three sisters: Margaret of Ch' Town; Teresa at home, and Mrs. John Whelan of Haverhill, Mass.

To the sorrowing family and to the Guardian extends deepest sympathy.

May her soul rest in peace.

MRS. PETER CRAIG

In loving memory of Mrs. Peter Craig, nee Ada McDougall, Argyle Shore who died February 17th 1916. Dear one who has left us, lonely is our lot, But God who has bereft us will forsake us not. Sad the days and dreary without thy care and love Rest waits for the weary in, the home above.

Inserted by her sister and brothers 7037.

FREE CASH PRIZES

$5,000 AWAY

We have already given away $5,000 FREE. $200.00 more IN CASH and numbers of Merchandise Prizes will be GIVEN AWAY at an Early date.

1st Prize, $50.00 in Cash. 2nd Prize, $40.00 in Cash. 3rd Prize, $35.00 in Cash. 4th Prize, $25.00 in Cash. 5th to 10th Prizes, Each $10.00 in Cash.

TOGETHER WITH MANY MERCHANDISE PRIZES

Herewith will be found the picture of a Log Hut in the Woods. At first glance all you see is a man, a woman and a dog. If you look closely the faces of 8 other persons will be found. Can you find them? It is no easy task but by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found all the faces on this picture." Write these nine words plainly and neatly, as in case of ties, both writing and names are considered factors in this contest.

This may take you a little of your time but at TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and many merchandise prizes are given away. It is worth your time and a little trouble over this matter. Remember all you have to do is to mark the faces, cut out the picture and write on a separate piece of paper the words, "I have found all the faces and names on this picture."

WE DO NOT ASK YOU TO SPEND ONE CENT OF YOUR MONEY IN ORDER TO ENTER THIS CONTEST

Send your answer at once; we will reply by Return Mail telling you whether your answer is correct or not, and we will send you a complete Prize List, together with the names and addresses of persons who have recently received over Five Thousand Dollars in Cash Prizes from us, and a list of a simple condition that must be fulfilled. (This condition does not include the sending of any of your money.) Although these persons are entirely unknown to us, they are our references. A list of names and addresses of persons who have won prizes will be sent to you.

THOUGHT CURB 9A PANTOMIME

Two English officers, accompanied by an American Lieutenant, were out light-seeing the other afternoon, and as they wandered their way down Broad street were amazed at the crowds standing in front of the subterranean, where the glaze over on Broadway the party was giving a concert as a part of an effort to sell tickets for the police field day, the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch writes. A little farther down was an orator selling War stamps, while the building and the hobbles' slinging but I wasn't get the idea of this pantomime.
