Real Estate Versus Black Foxes

The Black Fox Industry has proven to be an exceptionally good investment, but well selected Real Estate is better because safer. A $1000 fox may die or escape, but Real Estate in a city which is increasing its population at the rate of 14,000 per year, and which has a building programme of $12,000,000 this year cannot depreciate in value.

Nearly all great fortunes have had their basis in Real Estate. It has been true in all countries, it is now especially true in Canada. We buy at rock bottom prices, and make a specialty of syndicate large properties. You can get into one of our syndicates at 75 p. cent. less than you can purchase a portion of the same, or a similar property from the ordinary lot vendor, and then we step by you and make the resale, so that you know where you are getting off again.

We now have a Syndicate in the process of formation that already has in it many of the best financial men in both New Brunswick and P. E. I. The property is a quarter section in Regina, the Queen City of the West. It is situated West of the three million dollar Parliament Buildings and the G. T. P. million dollar hotel. This quarter section has already been subdivided, and as soon as the remaining shares are sold we shall begin retelling the lots at double our price to the Syndicate. The Syndicate who purchased the adjoining property made $200,000 for the shareholders.

Cut out the attached coupon, and mail it to us today.

INTEREST IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Elections will be held next Tuesday in numerous States and cities throughout the country. Interest in the outcome centers largely in New Jersey and Massachusetts, where governors and other State officials are to be elected, and in Maryland, where the voters are to choose a United States senator, State controller and clerk of the court of appeals.

Official Washington is looking forward to the results of the election with many evidences of anxious interest. The President is most largely concerned in the outcome in his home State of New Jersey, where, through Secretary Bryan, he has made known his attitude regarding the situation.

With a governor, eight State senators and sixty assemblymen to be chosen in a three-cornered contest, the political battle in New Jersey is complex. The views of the political managers on the outcome of the election vary greatly. The State chairman of each of the three political parties battling in the State is claiming the victory for his candidate. With Acting Governor James F. Fielder waging a fight for the Wilson policies, ex-State Senator Everett Colby carrying the Progressive banner, and former Governor Edward C. Stokes leading a reunited and strongly recruited Republican army, to predict the result of the contest would be sheer guesswork.

Even more complex than the situation in New Jersey is that presented in Massachusetts, where the gubernatorial race is being run with sever entries. Eugene N. Foss, the present governor, is seeking re-election as an independent. Charles S. Bird, who was a candidate last year, is again the standard-bearer of the Progressive party. The Republicans have nominated for governor Congressman A. P. Gardner, well remembered as one of the leaders of the insurgent movement against Speaker Cannon. The Democratic candidate is David I. Walsh, the present lieutenant governor. The election is regarded as most important because of the effect it will have upon the future of the Republican and Progressive parties. Public sentiment in regard to the Wilson administration will hardly be reflected either in a Democratic victory or defeat, since the State platform of that party makes no reference to the administration or the tariff bill.

The election of a United States senator to succeed the late Isidor Rayner is the big feature of the Maryland campaign. William P. Jackson, Republican, was appointed to the position by Governor Goldsborough pending the election of a successor by the legislature, but with the adoption of the Constitutional amendment providing for the popular election of United States senators, the Governor decided to substitute the choice of the people for his own personal selection. The candidates for the senatorship are Blair Lee, Democrat; Thomas Parran, Republican, and George L. Wellington, Progressive.

CAUGHT BY THE DICTAPHONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The mysterious little black book supposed to contain the "confession" made by ex-state Senator Stephen J. Stillwell in Sing Sing prison, and embracing charges against Tammany Hall leaders here and in the state legislature, was expected to reach the hands of district attorney Whitman today, through John A. Hennessey, while graft investigator for Wm. Sulzer and now fusion orator in the city campaign. It was Hennessey, who visited the convict Senator in prison. Their conversation, he had declared, was recorded by a dictaphone, secretly installed and it is a record of

This that is contained in the black book, which the district attorney will make the basis for an investigation. Hennessey has quoted vague excerpts from the book in campaign speeches, withholding certain matters, he said, in view of his promise to Stillwell. By virtue of a subpoena however, the district attorney will have full access to it.
