PLAY ENJOYED.—Light House Nan was presented by the Hunter River Dramatic Club, Tuesday Feb. 14th, and proved one of the great hits ever achieved in the town. Speaking of Tuesday night's play, one can unlose a flood of memories without feeling any science-stricken. Every part down to the smallest detail was well carried out and the team was faultless. Too much praise cannot be given Miss Helen Hodgson in the manner in which she took the difficult part of "Light House Nan". She was ably supported by Mr. John McQuaid, alias Neil J. Paul Ramsey, as Hortense Elbow, took her part in a charming manner who was the hero of the play. Miss Florence Silliphant as Lady Sarah Chumley Choke, also performed her part in a very pleasing way. Mr. Robert MacIntosh, as Mr. Elbow, took the part of the kind benefactor in grand style. Mr. Clarence McGowan, as Sir Arthur Choke, proved himself a "bally good actor, grand character player."

Morrison, R. G. S. Mitchell performed the nuptial ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride was attended by her father, who was wearing a traveling suit with hot to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. CHAMPIONSHIP GAME, tonight at Arena 10 to 11, between the Cousins and the Post Office, as each team has one game to their credit, no doubt the final game tonight will be in a class all by itself, and all lovers of good, clean hockey should be on hand.

ETHEL WAS FOXY.—A neighborhood story down Lisburn way has to do with a father who one evening when his three small daughters were having too much fun jumping about and playing in their beds, went to the bottom of the stairs and threatened to spank them if they didn't become quiet. The girls remained quiet for a few minutes, then the fun broke out again. After this performance had been repeated several times the father went upstairs to carry out his promise. Without making the trouble to light a lamp, he administered three spanks and went back downstairs. Next morning the eldest of the girls complained bitterly: "I don't see why you spanked me twice, she said, 'I didn't,' the father replied, 'You surely did.' 'How could that be?' 'After you spanked me under the bed and came in at the front and you missed her altogether.' Exchange.

A RURAL FABLE.—A farmer, being short of team, hitched a mule and an ox together to help with the hauling. When the farmer had gone a mile down the road the ox stopped, lay down and refused to go further. The farmer said nothing, simply unhitched the animal, returned it to the stable and made the mule pull the wagon, the rest of the day. That night the farmer calmly un hitched him, and the ox spoke to the mule confidentially: "What did the boss say today?" he asked. "Nothing but 'I heard,'" replied the mule. The next day the ox was hitched with the mule again. This time he lay down at the end of half a mile. Again the farmer calmly unhitched him, and put him back in the stable and made the mule do the hauling. "What did the boss say this time?" asked the ox the next day. "I didn't hear him say anything," replied the mule. But he's leaning over the fence out there talking to a butcher."

A LADY BISHOP.—The only lady bishop in the world has placed the blame of women's immodesty on man's shoulders. Where we suspect it rightfully belongs Bishop Alma White, however, has not blamed man as such, so much as the professor. This we agree with Bishop White. However, if the time should ever come when ladies' suitors would not have to endure the entire onus of the fault of immodesty, an argument that should induce the why sex to be a little more modest, that offer an excuse for a

REASON FOR HIS DECISION

HALIFAX, Feb. 17.—Hance J. Logan, M. Jimmie Evans' Record

Jimmie Evans, the popular little Tab Comedian, who opens a two or three weeks engagement at the Prince Edward Theatre next Monday evening, has a remarkable record of Maritime Province successes. The following engagements have been successfully filled during the last three years:

Table showing engagement records: HALIFAX ST. JOHN 58 weeks, SYDNEY & VICINITY 24, MONCTON 12.

Jimmie is welcome again in any of these places. He is not a wonderful comedian; nor has he a remarkable company. But his is a clean enjoyable show with a clever band of entertainers, while Jimmie has a "way with him" that "gets them."

If Jimmie "made good" as described, his little troupe of seventeen Vaudevillians will surely be welcome in Charlottetown.

A crowded house will doubtless greet Jimmie next Monday.
