EVENING

The sun with phantom fingers Has brought the day to rest;
But still the last beam lingers, By Mother Earth caressed.

The stars all brightly glowing Like diamonds stud the sky;
With admiration growing, We're lost in mystery.

And now the night is showing Her dark ethereal dress, The zephyr breezes blowing In mystic loveliness.

The quiet that succeeded The efforts of the day, Brought everything that's needed Our spirits to ally;

Pres. Hoover
Opposed To
Tariff Revision

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 8.— (By the Canadian Press)—As levers to shift the fortunes of the times, President Hoover today advocated temporarily higher taxes and federal action to spread credit.

Within a short time, bills were introduced in both senate and house to set up a reconstruction corporation with federal funds to lend to suffering industries.

The president said such action will "strengthen confidence." In addition to this agency, he asked a thorough overhauling of banking laws to loosen restrictions that hamper credits.

Under his tax plan, which is expected to be outlined in detail tomorrow by Secretary Mellon, the higher levies would remain effective only two years. Arguing the need of more revenue, the message disclosed the treasury expects to be more than $4,400,000,000 behind when the next fiscal year closes.

Gar Wood Out
To Break Record

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 9. (By the Canadian Press)—Gar Wood streaked his Miss America IX through the water at an unofficial speed of 100 miles an hour late today, but bent a propeller shaft while doing it.

Further tests of the boat prior to an assault on the 110 miles an hour world's speed boat record now held by Kaye Don of Great Britain, will be delayed pending installation of a new shaft, Wood said.

The racer kept his own time as he made one test run south bound on the measured mile course of Indian creek. Vibration of the boat became so great during the last part of the run that Wood stopped for an inspection and found the bent shaft.

Teacher: "I don't know why it is you always get these sums wrong, Tommy, when I give them to you for homework."

Tommy: "Please, sir, father says he never had those kind when he went to school."

Teacher: "You don't mean to tell me that your father did them, Tommy?"

Tommy: "No, sir, I didn't; but it slipped out."

The mistress of the house was interviewing a maid.

"And you tell me that you have had six places in six months?" she said.

"Yes, mum," replied the girl; "it seems as if the days of the good old mistress are over."

The flapper's brother was teaching her to drive a car.

"Jack," she complained, "that little mirror by the side of the windshield is in the wrong position. I can only see the traffic that's coming from behind."

WEDDING BELLS

On Wednesday morning, Oct. 28th, Miss Mary E. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
James J. Smith, of Maple Plains, P. E. I., became the bride of James P. Gilhooly, of 130 Fayett street, Lynn, Mass., at a Nuptial Mass held in St. John's Church, Swampscott, with Rev. Father Murphy officiating.
The bride was attended by her sister Mrs. Lauretta Kelly, of Swampscott, and the bridegroom by William Mooney, of Salem, Mass. The bride looked charming, attired in blue crepe carrying a bridal bouquet. The bride's maid wore beige and carried an arm bouquet of tallian roses. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frederick Brown, of Swampscott, after which the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Canada. Previous to their marriage, a reception was held for them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brown, at which Mr. and Mrs. Gilhooly were the recipients of many useful gifts, including cut glass, linen, silver, gold, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. Gilhooly is a graduate of Lynn English high school and is employed for a number of years with the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Co.

BONSHAW INSTITUTE

The annual meeting of the Bon-shaw Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. William MacRae, Nov.
18th. Meeting opened with the ode followed by the Creed. Twenty two members responded to roll call. Minutes of last meeting were read and signed. Miss Catherine MacLean gave a very interesting talk on the Junior Red Cross work for the crippled blind, which was greatly appreciated by all, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended Miss MacLean.

The minutes of 1st annual meeting and secretary's report were read and approved. New officers were appointed for the coming year. New committees were also appointed. It was moved, seconded and passed that the institute treat the school children at Christmas. A vote of thanks was extended Miss MacRae for keeping the flag for the past year. Luncheon was served by the hostess. Next meeting to be held at the home of Miss Jean Crosby, roll call to be answered by paying a nickel. Meeting closed with the National Anthem.

PULLETS FOR PROFITS

The relative value of pullets and hens as egg producers has been fairly conclusively decided in favor of the pullet, but owing to the interest in poultry which has developed during the past year or more all over Quebec the Federal Experimental Station at La Ferme made a special study of this phase of poultry work last year. Here are the results:

Table with 2 columns: Pullet, Hen. Rows: Number of eggs laid, Value of eggs laid, Cost of feed, Profit per bird, Pullet profit, extra.

It should be noted that the cost of feed for the pullet was reckoned from birth to end of pullet year, while for the hen it was only for the laying year—September to end of following August. Allowing six months for growing to maturity and deducting one-third of the feed cost the net profit for the pullet at $1.96 is decidedly more interesting and essentially fair as some allowance should be made for the cost or value of the hen at the beginning of the test. Keep pullets for profits and hens for breeding.

Lloyd George
Homesick
Will Return

LONDON, Dec. 8. (A.P.)—Gossip in parliamentary lobbies today said Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, veteran British statesman who is travelling in India, had decided to cut short his trip and return home.

It was rumored that he was seasick and homesick and would leave Ceylon on December 16, instead of staying until the end of January as he had intended.

Besides suffering from seasickness, his friends said the former Premier was chafing at his absence from political affairs, in which he long was leader of the Liberal Party.

INMAN—MANN NUPTIALS

A wedding of much interest was solemnized in Summerside on Nov. 25th at 6 p. m., when Rev. Mr. Campbell united in the holy bonds of Matrimony, Mr. Victor Gordon Inman, of St. Eleanor's, and Miss Ethel Mann, of Indian River. The bride looked charming in her bridal dress of blue georgette with velvet trimmings.
She was attended by Miss Doris Inman, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. Mr. Keith Mann was groom-smen. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the bride's home in Indian River, where a large number of invited guests were assembled to offer felicitations. A delicious wedding supper was served and a few pleasant hours were whiled away with music and song, when all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Inman many happy years of wedded life. Mr. Inman, who is a prosperous young farmer of St. Eleanor's, is a son of Major Inman. Miss Mann is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Mann, Indian River, and a very popular young lady as was evidenced by the many parties given in her honor previous to her marriage at which she received many beautiful and useful gifts. On Friday evening, Nov. 20th, Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Hickey, Indian River, entertained a large number who tendered her a miscellaneous shower. The rooms were tastefully decorated in blue and white. The bride-elect was led to the parlor by Miss Fanny Mann, while Mrs. Edgar Hickey played the wedding march. Little Miss Teresa McLellan as a dainty little flower girl, preceded Mr. Bernard Gillis and Miss Louise Shea, dressed as bride and groom and carrying a beautiful basket of gifts. Misses Elizabeth Gillis, Frances Shea and Katherine McLellan read the accompanying verses and presented the gifts. An address from the Women's Institute of Indian River was read by Mrs. Leslie Ramsay. This was accompanied by a beautiful silk bedspread. The bride-to-be made a nice reply, thanking her friends in a few appropriate remarks. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in music and dancing.—K.

Empire sentiment is already over-ripe for an all-British trade agreement, the British electors have just spoken on the subject with notable down-rightness, and it is difficult to see how anything but harm to the cause can result from further needless delay.

"Look," said the little boy's grandfather showing him an old coin out of his collection. "Here is a coin that is three hundred years old. It was given to me when I was about your age."

"Oh!" exclaimed the little boy.
"Fancy you keeping it all that time without spending it."

One of the most interesting events that has occurred at St. Malachias Church, Kinkora, for some time, was the marriage at 6:30 a. m. Wednesday morning, Oct. 14th, of Miss Be-gina Myrtle Kelly, youngest daughter of Mrs. George Kelly, to John Leo McGuigan, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Peter McGuigan, of Hope River.
The officiating clergyman was Rev.
Walter McGuigan, from St. Dunstan's University, brother of the groom, assisted by Rev. M. J. Smith Pastor. The bridal party entered the church to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Winnifred McIver. The young bride, who is possessed of a pleasing personality, looked charming in her gown of light beige georgette, with net and applique trimming, shoes, stockings and gloves all to match, black velvet hat with white ostrich plume. The young couple were attended by Miss Inez Connelly, cousin of the bride and Mr.
Clarence McGuigan, brother of the groom. After the wedding ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's mother, where breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the contracting parties, including Rev. M. J. Smith and Rev. Walter McGuigan.

Amid the cheers and good wishes, the happy couple motored to Borden, enroute to Boston and New York, on a short honeymoon trip.
The bride's going away suit was brown crepe satin dress, with model hat of brown felt, with accessories to match, also a beautiful northern muskrat fur coat.

The groom's gift to the bride, was a lovely pair of pearl Rosary, to the bridesmaid a purse, and the groom-smen a pair of kid gloves. On their return a reception was held at the home of the groom. The high esteem in which the young couple are held was shown by the large array of presents received including silver, cut glass, linen and cheques.

A fine tribute to the bride and groom was paid by young and old, married and single of the surrounding communities, who gathered to give them a chiravari. After shaking hands with the bride and groom and receiving a treat, they quietly withdrew, but before doing so they wished the young couple a happy time down the river of life. While supper was being served a varied entertainment of music, dancing and pleasant conversation was in progress in the different rooms of the house. Both young and old were tripping the light fantastic till the wee small hours of morning.

After spending a very pleasant night the happy gathering bid Mr. and Mrs. McGuigan good night, wishing them long and happy wedded life. The Guardian joins in fillicitation.
