Trout Fishing Time is Near

Tips on the Habits and psychology of the Speckled Beauties.

SEASON OPENS APRIL 1ST. By George E. Case. (Authority on fish and fishing)

As the sun begins to get higher and the first of April, Red Letter day in the fisherman's calendar, grows near, a certain irresistible tingling to go to the old tackle box and just finger over the old pets steals over the confirmed angler.

Now is the time for all knights of the rod to glance over their fly-books, and other equipment. There are only a few more days to trouting time. April 1, is the day for the grand entry of Lord Salvaterra Fontinalis. All yet knights of the rod to the little lord of the stream who has attracted many a start from the demoralizing environment of city life and has filled many a book with the beautiful thoughts worked out beside some laughing stream while the angler has watched some of these creatures quietly waiting for insects to drop from overhanging alders or

Ghosts Out of a Job at Present

LONDON, March 22.—Now that spirits and spiritualism are occupying such an unusual amount of public attention...

There is no self-respecting royal family in Europe which has not had not its ghosts or ghouls. The question is, did these apparitions go away with their families, or did they stay on as caretakers of the royal palaces?

The White Lady of Potsdam, for instance, the apparition who appears to foretell death or disaster to the Hohenzollerns. There is quite good testimony to the fact that she appeared before the death of the father of the ex-emperor William II, and rumor has it that William himself saw her on that fatal day in July, 1914, when he declared war on France.

This White Lady carries a bunch of keys at her side, and she is supposed to be the ghost of Bertha von Rosenberg, who came to a violent end in the sixteenth century. "I wait for judgment," she said, on one of the only two occasions on which she has been known to speak, and now indeed she has got it. Still, if she is not yet satisfied, the question is, does her ghost still continue to wander through the halls of Potsdam, or has it taken up its residence with Wilhelm Hohenzollern and family in Holland?

The Russian Court was haunted by many a ghost, of which the most famous is the wrath of the great Empress Catherine herself. The story is that this wrath began its haunting even before Catherine died, and that she appeared to her husband, Peter the Great, in a Green Lady. If she has had to appear before every tragedy in the Austrian royal family during the past century, she must have been sadly overworked.

Put Back the Little Ones. The opening weather, as we all know, in spring, is erratic. Warm, balmy days cannot be relied upon enough to induce a rise of trout in the shallow spots and places where they are sunny some of the more hardy flies can be found around the middle of the day.

Keen Contests Are Expected in the Coming By-Elections in Great Britain. LONDON, March 24.—(Canadian Association Press.)—Undoubtedly the keenest of several by-elections now being fought is in Camberwell, where Dr. MacNamara seeks

Home-Made Bread

Home bread-making reduces the high cost of living by lessening the amount of expensive meats required to supply the necessary nourishment to the body. The increased nutritious value of bread made in the home with ROYAL YEAST CAKES should be sufficient incentive to the thoughtful housewife to give this important food item the attention to which it is justly entitled.

relection on receiving ministerial promotion. Dr. MacNamara will go forth in Premier Lloyd George's new programme aimed at labor's alleged absorption by syndicalism and socialism. Dr. MacNamara was originally elected for the constituency as a Liberal, but the Liberal organization reverted from him when helped out Sir John Simon. Camberwell Liberals are now supporting J. Carroll against Dr. MacNamara, but indications are that the election will rest largely by between Dr. MacNamara and Miss Susan Lawrence, Labor candidate, who will certainly receive a big woman's vote in such a working class district.

from the Dutch capital, with an enclosed check for $7,000 for the picture, which had proved to be an old master-piece. The check was turned over to the widow, who paid the dealer a liberal commission. Which? "Remember, Bridget," said the lady to the new maid, "there are just two things I insist upon: truthfulness and obedience." "Yes, Mum," said Bridget, "and when ye tell me to tell the callers that yer out whin yer in, which shall it be, Mum, truthfulness or obedience?" Another writer remarks: "Charlotte von Stern was, when Goethe first met her, several years older than himself." But later, of course, 'twas otherwise.
