APPEAL COURT UPHOLDS CRITIC

In a Dramatic Case the British Appeal Court

Holds That the Fairness of the Criticism Was a Matter for Critic and Not for the Jury to Decide.

LONDON, May 13.—The appeal court has reversed the judgment of the court below in the case of the manager of a fifth-rate travelling show against the Western Morning News, in which the trial jury gave the plaintiff a verdict of £750 damages and costs for printing an adverse criticism of the show. Costs are also granted to the newspaper. The court held that the criticism was fair, and that the jury did not have the right to substitute its own opinion of the merits of the play for the critic's opinion, or to test the fairness of the criticism by any such standard. The court added that it was of the highest importance to the public that a critic be saved from such a possibility. The verdict was against the evidence, and the trial judge had misdirected the jury.

THE BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Discussed in the Synod of Toronto and Kingston

Principal Carew Wants it Made a Text Book and Principal Gordon Gives Expression to Similar Views.

TORONTO, May 13.—Principal Carew addressed the meeting of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston today on the Bible of our educational system. He would not admit that the Church cannot reach the masses without the aid of the State, but he did not think voluntary schools would do in this Province. It was not the Government or Legislature that stood in the way of greater use of the Bible, but they needed the backing of the public. The one thing is to have the Bible made a text book.

Principal Gordon of Queen's University said that the system of voluntary schools prevails in Newfoundland. The Government grants are given to the churches in proportion to the school attendance. He had no hesitation in calling it the poorest system in British North America. In the Maritime Provinces there is no separate school system, but Catholics and Protestants are educated together. If there is any advantage in the Ontario system of separate schools, it should give a large scope to religious instructions. He did not think full advantage had been taken of the privileges in this respect given under the school laws and regulations. Before asking for futher legislation the freedom always enjoyed should be exercised more widely.

The children in many parts of the country are sadly neglected in respect of religious teaching. The fact is the children in the mission schools of Trinidad and India are better taught. He strongly urged the practice of memorizing scripture and thought there might be in addition a systematic study such as the International Lessons. Such graded lessons are quite practicable and could be carried out under the existing provisions of the Department of Education.

The ignorance even in high schools regarding biblical references is grevious. As an instance he said that recently in a certain high school where the pupils were reading "Evangeline" a lamentably small number could give the reference "Wrestling as Jacob of old," "Touching the hem of His garment."

CARNEGIE UNPOPULAR.

SYDNEY, May 13.—Through his utterances recently on the industrial future of Cape Breton, Andrew Carnegie has got himself into bad graces of its citizens, and Mayor Richardson tonight, speaking for Sydney, gave your correspondent permission to make public the fact that he would recommend the immediate return to Mr. Carnegie of his fifteen thousand dollar library gift to this town.
