MAY SEYMOUR FOOT LOOSE
 by BEATRICE BURTON ONEA

MAY SEYMOUR, whose husband, DR. JOHN SEYMOUR, killed himself because of her love affair with JIM CAREWE, returns to her home town after a year's absence.
 Heavily veiled, she comes late one fall night to the home of her lawyer, DICK GREGORY, and GLORIA, his wife. She tells them how the story of Dr. John's suicide has cast a shadow over her life. And so she has made up her mind to "sell out" and go to Europe where no one will know her story.
 She asks ULYSSES X. FORGAN, a wealthy widower who is in the real estate business, to sell her the real estate. Forgan advises her to live in it and face the people who have slandered her, but May says she wants to be footloose.
 She tells Dick to sell her stocks and bonds for whatever they will bring. All she wants, she explains, is enough money to dress the part of a wealthy widow and "land" a rich husband.
 A week later, with $8000 in her handbag, she goes down to Atlantic City for a short rest before sailing for Europe. There she meets MRS. CARLOTTA ROLKING, a grass widow, and her friends, HERBERT WATERBURY and DAN SPRAGUE.
 One night the four of them go to Adore's little supper club. May accidentally drops her bag, and her great roll of bills falls out. Waterbury offers to take care of her money for her, but she refuses to let him have it. That night on the way back to the hotel, he makes violent love to her. And May wonders if she is not in love with him.
 She buys herself some expensive new clothes, suited to the role of a Wistful Widow, and pays $600 for a black pearl ring.
 Waterbury gives luncheons and dinners in May's honor, and he shows her snapshots of his town in Brookline. He tells May that he is a widower with one daughter, and adds that he would like to see her sitting at the head of his dinner table. She wonders if he's proposing marriage, but decides he's not. But she wonders what life with him would be like.

"What's the matter? Afraid of the surf? It's wonderful," she cried.

THE STORY
 The foursome had dined late, and it was almost midnight before they left the splendid main dining room of the ambassador.
 Out of doors there was a white moon. A high wind seemed to blow the foaming breakers in from the ocean.
 "Oh, isn't it gorgeous?" May cried, wrapping her black velvet cape around her. Her eyes danced like those of a gypsy under her blowing hair.
 "You're gorgeous!" Herbert answered her. "Your eyes are blue-black diamonds tonight."
 He stopped dead in his tracks and stared at her.
 "You've lost those black pearls you always wear around your neck!" he said.
 "Oh, no, I haven't. I left them in my room at the Traymore," May told him.
 "Did you have them locked in the hotel safe?" Herbert wanted to know.
 May shook her head. "No, they're on my dressing-table. Don't worry about them. They're all right, I'm sure," she said carelessly.
 Herbert Waterbury groaned. "You're hopeless, child!" he said. "First you carry $8000 around in a bill. And now you leave a priceless necklace out in plain sight on a hotel dressing table!"
 "What if the chambermaid comes in to straighten up your room, and just naturally lifts it?"
 May shrugged her slim shoulders. "She won't," she answered. "There aren't many dishonest people in the world."
 Waterbury laughed then, in an annoyed sort of way.
 "You're the most careless woman I've ever known," he said. "I suppose this husband of yours took care of you like a child, when he learned to take care of yourself. Have you?"
 May thought deeply for a moment before she answered.
 She wondered which woman would fascinate him more—the crafty one she knew herself to be, or the helpless innocent May she thought she was.
 She thought she knew his taste!

ECZEMA IN RASH AND BLISTERS
 Had to Keep Hands Bandaged. Cuticura Healed.
 "Eczema broke out in a rash and blisters between my fingers and on the backs of my hands. The skin was red and swollen and used to peel off. It itched and burned badly and was awfully sore especially when I put my hands in water. I had to keep my hands bandaged."
 "I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. I purchased more and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed."
 (Signed) Miss Nettie Keeso, R. R. 1, Listowel, Ontario.
 Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes.
 Sample Each Free by Mail. Address Canadian Depot, "The Cuticura Sales Office," Soap Dept., Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c. "Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c."

A Simple Shampoo
 A simple and inexpensive shampoo, and one which leaves the hair soft, glossy and with a delicate aroma, is to take a basin of warm water and make a free lather using Baby's Own Soap. Rub well into the scalp, rinse with warm and then cool water. Dry in sun and wind if possible.
 This simple shampoo is excellent for hair and scalp and costs very little as Baby's Own Soap is sold at 10c a cake by most dealers.
 "Best for you and Baby too"

SMILES

 NOT PREPARED TO SAY
 "We're stopping at the same hotel I believe—where're the bath rooms in that place?"
 "Sorry I can't say—never stopped there on a Saturday yet."

WHY SHE LAUGHED
 "Mabel laughed at every one of my efforts at wit."
 "Yes, she has beautiful teeth."

AND HE WAS TAKEN A-BACK
 He: I just hate to think of my thirtieth birthday.
 She (trifle bored): Can you still remember what happened on that day?

LOOKING AHEAD
 Manufacturer: What's your idea in naming our product "Oulou?"
 Ad Man: Free publicity. Six letters, all vowels. Within six weeks it'll be in every cross-word puzzle that's published.

LOOKING AHEAD
 "What's the matter? Afraid of the surf? It's wonderful!" she cried.
 "Herby doesn't swim and I'm keeping him company," Carlotta explained gloomily.
 "Well, come on in, any way," May urged him. "I'll hold your hand, and take care of you!"
 She laughed like a happy child, as she saw the look on Herbie's face. She realized in a flash that he was afraid to go into the water. Had convinced her of that!
