Sgt. Observer Charles MacArthur

Dear Charlie:—

We your friends of Cornwall and vicinity have gathered here tonight to wish you God speed as you again leave our community. We all have been very glad to welcome you home again for a short time and are sorry you are not remaining here permanently, but we are proud that you have offered your services to your King and Country and to the cause of freedom.

As you take up your further duties our best wishes go with you. You have always been appreciated in this community for your straight forwardness, honesty and example, and we hope as you continue your service you will be blessed with health, happiness and success.

We ask you to accept this small gift as a token of our esteem and friendship.

Signed on behalf of those present, Miss Dolphie MacLean, presented the guest of the evening with a well filled purse. Sgt. MacArthur responded, thanking all present for the kindness shown him, made special reference to Mr. and Mrs. MacLean, who had given their home for the occasion.

SOME PRIVILEGES ENJOYED BY EMPLOYEES OF LEVER BROTHERS IN CANADA

For its employees, both inside and outside the armed services, Lever Brothers in Canada decided to set out now the present and future benefits enjoyed under its Job Security Program. The following is a summary:

Men and women who were employed by the company at the outbreak of war and join the armed services are considered to be on leave of absence.

Where pay and allowances in the armed services are lower than pay married men were receiving, the company makes up the difference. Promotion up to the rank of Army Major or its equivalent entails no reduction in the company allowance.

Upon joining the Forces, single enlisting employees receive two months' pay from the company plus an annual retaining allowance of one month's pay.

If single men marry after joining the services they immediately become eligible for benefits as married men.

Married men and men with declared dependents who were on the pre-war payroll and who are discharged from the Forces due to disability will be given special benefits. If the earning power of a disabled man is reduced, the company will add to his pay so that with a disability pension it will come up to the amount of standard pay now applying to his old job. The company will make every effort to find him suitable employment, but if this is impossible and he finds work elsewhere, the company will nevertheless consider a special allowance. Until the disabled man is fit to resume civilian work the company will bolster his disability pension.

Under the Superannuation Fund, to which the company and its male employees make equal contributions, a pension is provided at retiring age. In case of death, widows (or depencents) and children of members receive a generous pension. In addition, all widows of married employees receive four weeks' pay and dependents of unmarried employees receive two weeks' pay. Where a man is killed while serving in the Forces, his widow receives the same pension as if he had died as a civilian.

In cases of accident or sickness, whether or not workmen's compensation is applicable, the company makes payments dependent on length of service, to men and women employees.

The company maintains a completely equipped health center in its factory in Toronto and pays half of standard ward service where employees subscribe to group hospital plans under the sponsorship of Provincial Hospital Associations.

Among miscellaneous benefits are good service awards, special payments for employees attending Reserve Army training camps, special payments to employees on jury duty, and the lending of work clothes to workers.

LONDON, Nov. 7—(CP)—Allied fliers now are using a super-flare—called a "target indicator"—which can be seen by night or day from the sub-stratosphere through almost total cloud.

The new device, particularly valuable in night fog, made possible the record raid last night on Duesseldorf, the air ministry said, when the mist was so thick that attack would have been difficult without it.

Pathfinder planes, reaching the target at zero hour, light the area with flares whose colors are changed for each raid to prevent the Germans faking them. Red and green was used over Duesseldorf.

Active Month For Police Force

Forty-seven arrests, resulting in forty-three convictions, were made by the City Police during the month of October, according to the report of Chief A. Birtwistle submitted at last night's monthly meeting of the City Council.

There were three convictions for speeding with motor vehicles, one for driving to the common danger, one for switching the marker of a motor vehicle, two for common assault, one for keeping disorderly premises, three under the Prohibition Act for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, and thirteen convictions under the Excise Act, twelve of these being against proprietors of spruce beer parlors for unlawful possession of beer or malt liquor not brewed in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Fines of fifty dollars and costs were imposed in these Excise cases.

Arrests for drunk and incapable during the month totalled twenty-two, for drunk and disorderly seven, for drunk in charge of a motor vehicle one. Sevan men were arrested and convicted on vagrancy charges. Total collections in fines and costs were $424.35.

Of sixteen bicycles reported stolen, thirteen were recovered, the report states. Bicycle licenses issued to date number 695.

Forty-seven searches were made during the month under the Prohibition Act. Beer or malt liquor seized under the Excise Act and destroyed by dumping amounted to approximately 700 gallons.

Three vicious dogs were destroyed during the month.

The report notes that the Hallowe'en celebration on Oct. 30 was "a very orderly affair, property damage being slight. All members of the force were on duty, assisted by six firemen, a number of A.R.P. wardens, and two extra patrol cars."

IN MEMORIAM

DOUGLAS EDWARD AITKEN

On October 15th, there passed away, Douglas Edward Aitken, the fifteen years old son of Rev. E. Melville and Mrs. Aitken. The funeral service was conducted in First United Church, Hamilton, and was in charge of Rev. Hiram Hull, D. D. Associated with him were the Revs. John Mutch. D. D., and Charles Endicott, D. D. On Tuesday afternoon October 19th, a special service was held at Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, and was conducted by Rev. Thos. E. MacLennan. Rev. T. A. Wilson and Flt.-Lieut. E. R. Woodside. The body was laid to rest in the People's Cemetery, near the resting place of his grandmother and little cousin.

Douglas was a noble lad, who knew how to make friends and keep them. When he came from Calgary to Hamilton, he said he liked Hamilton but he missed the mountains. He was a kind boy, and ready at any time to help anyone who needed such services as he might render. People who visited him during his illness were impressed with his cheerfulness and with his Faith in God. He had a good mind and showed great determination in carrying out his plans. He had decided to become a minister and had planned his courses at school and college to fit him for what he hoped would be his life's work as a missionary.

When he knew there was no cure for him, he showed an amazing courage and exhibited a fine spirit. He was never afraid. Of him it could be truly said: "He grew in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man."

He made his own plans for the funeral service, selected the persons who should take part in it and expressed a wish for the solo, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". He also named those of his friends to be his pall-bearers and when he was doing all this there was not the slightest sense of fear.

Many tributes were received from his friends in Hamilton, and from East and West. No finer tribute could be paid to any young lad than came from those who knew him and loved him, "a singularly beautiful character."

The sympathy of their many friends is extended to his loved ones, who will miss him very much from the family life, and the prayers of all who knew the family will be offered for them in their great bereavement. They will be sustained in the memory that Douglas will be among the young lads who "Serve the Lord day and night in the Temple", and who will be there to welcome them to the Eternal City.

Mother Not to Blame for the Children's Colds

Despite all the mother can do the kiddies will run out of doors not properly wrapped up; have on too much clothing; get overheated and cool off too suddenly; get their feet wet; kick off the bed clothes, and do a dozen things the mother cannot help.

Half the battle in treating children's colds is to give them something they will like; something they will take without any fuss, and this the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy used by Canadian mothers, for the past 48 years.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.

Attention Farmers Near Charlottetown

Starting Monday, Nov. 8th, we will be buying Turnips and Potatoes daily at market prices at our Charlottetown warehouse.

Our trucks are available to haul your produce direct from your farms.

We will take your Potatoes field run and grade them and pay you prevailing market prices for the Number Ones and Number One Smalls.

A lot of farmers near Charlottetown have asked me what I am doing with my marvelous Potato Crop: I am selling practically the entire crop now as I do not consider the differential between today's price and next spring's price more than offsets the normal shrinkage and the cost of grading the second time. I am satisfied, with the ceiling price as it is and will be, that today's prices are very profitable from a grower's standpoint.

Do not expect us to take your Turnips without getting your Seed and Table Stock Potatoes.
