Overdoing a Good Thing

On defense, it is all very well to be guided by the bids previously made by the opponents, but it is not wise to be bound by those bids! Consider this case:

I-10

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 30 on sco

	♠ 10 8 4 ♥ A K J 3 ♦ 9 4 ♣ A 10 8 2
♠ A Q 7 3 ♥ 8 7 6 2 ♦ Q 10 8 ♣ 7 4	N W E S	♠ 9 5 2 ♥ 10 5 ♦ A K J 2 ♣ J 9 6 3
	♠ K J 6 ♥ Q 9 4 ♦ 7 6 5 3 ♣ K Q 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 NT	Pass	Pass
Pass

West decided to keep his tenace in spades—an excellent idea! — and therefore led the heart eight. To camouflage the heart situation, declarer put up the king from dummy and then tried to run the clubs. Four clubs and four hearts would give him the contract on the spot. Unfortunately, however, East turned up with a club stopper and now it became necessary for declarer to cash a spade trick. He led a spade from dummy and put up the king. West won and led another heart.

South was now in a highly uncomfortable position. If he won with the heart queen and tried for a spade trick, the enemy would be virtually forced to shift to diamonds as their only possible salvation, since they could count four heart tricks, three clubs and one spade for the declarer. After due thought South saw only one chance, and though it was a slim chance he went out for it. He took the heart in his own hand and laid down the spade jack, hoping that the defender who held the spade queen would conclude that South was now out of hearts and was trying to establish dummy's spade ten as an entry to the last two hearts.

To his shame, West took precisely that view of the matter and held up the spade queen! Now, with the spade trick home, declarer quickly led a heart to dummy.

West might have reasoned that South would not have left two heart tricks in dummy if he had had no way of reaching them! The shift to diamonds was mandatory, as the only chance.
