NEW RASPBERRIES, ROSES AND GLADIOLI—The Guardian is in receipt of a cluster of large raspberries plucked from purple canes, Baby Rambler roses in white and crimson colors and Gladioli in cream color from Mr. T. J. Craig, Kinross-Orwell, which were gathered in his garden and is the result of the summer like weather experienced in this province, the "Garden of the Gulf," during this late autumn, as compared with the pre-winter blast, which has resulted in the Prairie citizenry donning mid-winter protection from the cold blizzard which raged throughout Saskatchewan and Alberta recently.

"REQUEM OF THE SEA" BY PROFESSOR FLETCHER—Professor W. E. Fletcher, A. R. C. M., etc, late organist and choirmaster of Trinity Church has composed an organ solo "Requiem of the Sea," which was heard for the first time at a recital given in St. Thomas, Ont., on Friday last and was enthusiastically received by a discriminating audience. The Requiem is said to be "an expression of thoughts and feelings experienced by the composer after a visit to the grave of Charles Flockton, noted actor, buried by request on the lonely High Red Cliff at Bay Fortune, Prince Edward Island."

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIALS—Twenty-eight years ago last Sunday Cornwall Church was dedicated for worship. Rev. W. B. Thomas was minister at that date. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. J. J. Teasdale of Fredericton, the afternoon sermon by Rev. T. F. Fullerton, and the evening sermon by Rev. J. L. Miner. The church cost $3,600 and was built by Neil McNeil of West River. The bell was presented by Hon. D. Farquaharson. The pulpit by Rev's. Samuel, W. J. and Benj. Howard in memory of their parents. The Bible was given by Mr. Geo. Carter and a Hymn Book by Miss Hannah Crosby. The dedication prayer was by Rev. S. H. Rice and the collection for the day $250. The church has continued during the 28 years of its history to attract large numbers of worshippers, and is a comfortable well kept and beautiful church, with beautiful memorial windows. One of the attractive features in the furnishings of this church is the splendid Kellow Memorial given by Miss Sarah Kellow of Charlottetown in memory of the Kellow family. It consists of three massive chairs of Golden Oak, a Communion Table and stand of the same material, and a beautiful vase. These fine tributes of love are much appreciated by the congregation and were fittingly part of the anniversary service, as some of the members of that family died at the time the church was dedicated.
