Hon. R. W. Scott, secretary of state, Ottawa will probably go to Quebec to be present at the tercentenary celebration. Miss Mary Scott expects to leave early in August for a trip to British Columbia, and Miss Frances Scott is leaving soon to spend the month of July in Prince Edward Island.

The eyes, not only of Canada, but of the world will be fixed during the present month upon Quebec and the Tercentenary of its establishment. The life story of Samuel de Champlain, the founder is told in the opening article of the July number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., and the narrative of the great explorer's life will be found entrancing reading. Of equal interest to sportsmen, if of less importance to the country, is the fine story of "The Trail of the Kawazingemas" by Harry Anton Auer, author of "The North Country." Mr. Auer describes in beautiful language the trip he took into the north country with his father and mother and tells of the joys experienced in camping and fishing far away from civilization. There are many other papers of interest to sportsmen and the whole number is one worthy of the high position the magazine has attained as the foremost publication of its kind in the Dominion.

Advertisers say that there is no better medium than the Rural Daily (formerly the Weekly) Guardian. The reason is that it circulates everywhere throughout the country districts of the Province, reaching an entirely different class of readers from that of the Morning Daily.

Mrs. Wm. Warren of New Glasgow, P. E. I., her daughter Ella Jean and sister Miss Sadie J. Glover, have returned home from visiting friends in Tyne Valley, the guests of Nelson and Mrs. Waldron. Miss Glover has recently graduated from Charlottetown Business College, and intends returning to her home in Gaspe Quebec shortly.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the pupils of Greenville School, at the home of A. D. McPherson, where they gathered and presented their teacher Miss Janie McPherson with a nicely worded address accompanied by a beautiful gold watch and chain and also a considerable amount of cash. The teacher, though taken completely by surprise, thanked the pupils for their kindness and thoughtfulness.

The continued period of hot weather and absence of rain of late has led to the result of making dust inches deep on the country roads. The dust nuisance in Charlottetown is kept fairly well in control by the watering carts but on Thursday Water Street became a great annoyance from the fact that 35 railway car-loads of salt were stretched along its length from the str. Manchester Shipper to the Railway Station. Notwithstanding its name Water Street was that day one of the driest streets in the City and the residents of that locality suffered very much from the dust.

A correspondent writes: It has been with a great deal of satisfaction that the travelling public has seen the extensive repairs that have been made on the roads and bridges in this province, and especially the citizens of Springfield for the work put on Haslam's hill concerning which publicity has already been given. It is a pity, however, that the efforts of the road makers of this district had not been placed upon the bridge just round the corner on the Rattamary Road. Three gaping holes six inches wide greet the passer-by and one would crave for the skill of a "Jehu the son of Nimshi" to enable him to reach the opposite side intact. Probably the dust raised by the Government road machine while at work on this section of the road so blinded the eyes of the statute laborers that they were unable to see these growing chasms but surely there is "sand" enough in the present government to see that the safety of the travelling public is no longer thus menaced.
