is the "Apex" range, in cast iron body, with a polished steel top. This top will never dislodge in any way, and is easy to keep clean. The body of the stove is done in gray enamel. Next to it in the ranges exhibited is the famous Champion, the farmers stove. This splendid type burns both wood and coal, and, indeed, takes a larger of stick of wood than any other stove on the market.

There are also several smaller ranges, the "Glencoe" similar in principle to the "Champion", but on a smaller scale. Then there is the "Apex" similar in construction to the "Ajax" in gray enamel, but in a standard finish. The Fawcett Special--a range for these in search of a good stove at a reasonable price. It has all the equipment which the larger ranges possess. It should be noted that these ranges are all manufactured by the Enamel and Heating Products, Limited, of Sackville. There is also a Fawcett "Jubilee" circular--oxidized upper, with cast iron trimmings.

THE LEPAGE SHOE CO. AND GOFF BROS. LTD.

The splendid display of Goodrich Hi-Press rubber boots were displayed this year by the LePage Shoe Co. and Goff Bros. Ltd. is shown in a booth located in the central block, a little to the west of the main entrance. Among the displays featured are a pair of Hi-Press boots which were worn fifteen months continuously every day, except Sundays, and which were subjected to the hardest wear by a laborer cutting, storing and delivering ice in the city. The soles were well worn as was natural in the circumstances, but the uppers continued watertight to the knees and showed no signs whatever of cracking.

NESTLE'S MILK

The attractive display of Nestle's Milk is situated immediately to the right of the main entrance. It is decorated tastefully in blue and white, with the lights supplied with paper shades of the same colors. These matching the colours in the label on the can.

MISS WAUGHAN

This reproduction is literally covered with reproductions of attractive paintings, all done in passepartout. The subjects are chosen with rare taste and artistic insight by Miss Waughan, who herself is in charge of the booth.

2nd Canadian Overseas Siege Battery REUNION CH'TOWN ARMOURIES

Thursday, August 23rd
 Zero Hour 8.30 Pip Emma

Located in the South-East corner of the building is the booth of A. Horne and Co., displaying the Peace "Economy" Furnace with specially marked features, such as the Peace Air Blast, the direct draft damper, the double feed doors, the vertical shaker and dust damper. You will also notice that the Peace Firepot is practically vertical inside which makes it self-cleaning. One item to keep in mind is that practically all heat waste is eliminated with a Peace "Economy" Furnace. It is so constructed that you get every bit of heat that is possible to extract from the fire!

Also on display is the Peace "Brampton" Furnace, Number 18-34, Capacity, 10,000 cubic feet, Diameter of casing 34 inches, height 62 1/2 inches, supplied in either steel or cast iron radiators and is supplied with a vapor pan, which when filled with water provides ample humidity at all times. This furnace is well worth inspection.

The above firm have also on display the Anker-Holt Cream Separator with self-balancing Bowl and can be operated from a line shaft or belted direct to motor or gasoline engine. The Anker-Holt Cream Separator assemblies the easiest. No numbers or notches on discs. Kan't get out of balance. Easy to wash. Runs Easy, a child can operate it. Has a very short crank. Oils by splash system. Long lived years. The last word in cream separators. House folks praise it and so will you when you see it in operation in the Exhibition Building this week.

This booth is in charge of Mr. Metch who will be delighted to demonstrate any of the above exhibits.

THE MARITIME ELECTRIC CO.

One of the best equipped booths has an exhibition. It is complete with all the electrical equipment for the modern home, from the tiniest water heaters to the most up to date and efficient refrigerator. The automatic hot point electric range is one of the most attractive features to housewives. This range can be set to come on and turn itself off, even while the lady of the house is out shopping or playing bridge.

The General Electric refrigerator is one of the most efficient electric appliances on the market. It needs only to be plugged in to get absolutely satisfactory refrigerating service.

Among the smaller appliances are toasters and irons, both automatic, which make even light housekeeping lighter. Percolators and waffle irons make it easier to get up for breakfast.

The Premier Duplex Vacuum cleaner and the Gain-a-day Washing machine save many hours of labour. No spare parts for gain-a-day washers have ever been sent out to Maritime Provinces--a record that any concern might well be proud of. It has a thermos principle of keeping the water hot; it will not break buttons, is easy on clothes, will wash one garment or ten single or eight double sheets. It makes wash day a real pleasure. Be sure you see this marvellous machine on display!

Then there is the Graybar Ironer. This is a combination ironer and kitchen table--a truly beautiful article of kitchen furniture, forming as it does when closed, a handy table 36 inches long 18 inches wide and 36 1/2 inches high. On it you can iron any article from a plain flat piece to a ruffled curtain. As to the booth itself, it is very attractively decorated in blue and yellow, the colours of the Associated Gas and Electric systems, and is especially remarkable for the brilliancy of its efficient lighting system.

Mr. H. Michelles is demonstrating the Premier Duplex, Mr. O. Giffons is demonstrating the Gain-a-day Washer and Miss Russell is demonstrating the cooking appliances.
