HOCKEY.—The three Charlottetown hockey clubs, the Victorias, Abegweits and Connaughts, each has a practice at the Arena rink last night which was watched with much interest by the hockey enthusiasts. The Victorias had a work-out under the supervision of Mr. Samuel Murphy, who distinguished himself in the Maritime Professional League, and it is the opinion that they will be able to put a good team on the ice on Friday night. Rodd, the "speed wizard," is again with the team this year as are also John and William Prowse and D. Cheverie in their old positions. "Young" Gregory, who played with the Connaughts last year, is on with the Victorias this year and is showing up better than ever; while Harold Lane is playing just as good as last season. It is said that McAskill, the clever goal tender of the Abegweits, did not play last year, may line up this year and perhaps Charles Burns may decide to play. The Connaughts have practically all their team of last year with the exception of Fred Moore, and it has not yet been decided who shall take his place. Frank Hennessey, of last year's Abegweit team is with the Connaughts this year along with Harry Morgan, who has done such good work in the Abbies' net. The first game on Friday is likely to be played by two fast teams. The Abegweits can also be depended upon for a good team for their first game on Tuesday next.

THE PEOPLE'S.—Another of those absorbing five-reel features for which the People's Theatre is famous, was shown last night, "Northern Lights," a psychological Western, with a title, and for excellent acting, natural settings and a thrilling and entertaining story it would be hard to find the equal. Wallace Gray, son of Captain Gray, is a born coward. While at school he becomes fast friend of "Switwind," the Indian Swindler, who protects him when he becomes acquainted with his moral defect. Wallace while travelling in a stage coach with Florence Dunbar, a ward of his father's, with a cringing fear deserts her when they are attacked by Indians. He actually enlists in a regiment and deserts under fire, ultimately surrendering himself to his father. While working under "fall and chain" he hears his father is surrounded by Indians. A volunteer is called to carry a message. Wallace begs for an opportunity to redeem himself, which he does. Other characters play an important part, especially Dr. Sherwood, an unscrupulous American. A notable feature of the film was the beautiful "northern lights," to carry which the Indians agreed should be for the attack on the fort. A fine comedy, "A Peculiar Inheritance," was a laugh throughout and showed some clever work by a camel, pony and dog. Mr. Dave Parks, as usual, was the recipient of undisturbed applause in the comedy "Why You Make me Care." The big feature will be shown again tonight for the last time.

THE PRINCE EDWARD.—An all-star programme was advertised at the Prince Edward Theatre yesterday, and it was produced as such to appreciative and "bumper" houses. The headliner was a presentation by Jesse L. Lasky, filmed by the Famous Players Film Co., in which one of Broadway's biggest stars, Robert Edeson, took a leading part. It was a thrilling play of the great Canadian trackless forests, entitled "The Call of the North." The excellent story is taken from "The Conqueror's House," a book by Stewart Edward White, and its dramatisation was produced in faultless style by a galaxy of the best artists of the day. The scenery is magnificent, and is embellished in production by superb photography and perfect projection. It was a play with which it would be hard to find fault, and which is bound to appeal to all lovers of motion pictures. It is shown in five parts and contains in all 317 scenes. The picture is to be repeated this afternoon and again at night, when the immense patronage of last night is likely to be repeated. The ever-popular favourites, Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, were witnessed performing in another of their decided successes entitled, "The Mystery of the White Car." It was a most interesting photoplay, produced in two parts. "He Married Her Anyhow," was a comedy play that was thoroughly enjoyed. There was another excellent comic picture produced, of the kind that are seldom seen, being a most entertaining moving picture showing the performances of some of the cleverest comedy acrobats in the business. These performers, who were watched with great amusement yesterday, are rarely seen outside the big vaudeville circuits, and the movie people have to offer big inducements to engage them. That old favourite song, "Sweet Genevieve," was beautifully sung by Mr. Huskins and loudly applauded. Tomorrow another big feature will be shown entitled "Home Sweet Home," in which a combination of the greatest moving picture artists of the day will perform.

HOW DOMINIONS ANSWER CALL.—LONDON, Jan. 11.—Alluding to Kitchener's reference to the fine Canadian regiment now at the front, the Evening Standard says everything goes to show that equally fine Canadian regiments will be poured into the scene of hostilities in a stream that will astonish the Germans, 125,000 Canadians are now under arms, the Premier tells, and Ontario has become a Province of drills. At Toronto a large part of the University students are drilling, and so it is everywhere. Canada even furnishes a quota of Belgians to reinforce King Albert's army. It is not only in men and gifts the Empire comes to our help. It is providing, and as time goes on will increasingly provide, us with engines of war. Australia is building the sister-ship of the vessel that crushed the Emden and three destroyers; Canada is prepared to build submarines. It is, however, on the men that we must chiefly rely, there, it is most reassuring to learn that the men scattered about in scores of training camps are physically fitter than ever in their lives before.

SCOTCH SOLDIERS' KILTS ARE TOO ABBREVIATED.—LONDON, Jan. 12.—During yesterday afternoon's proceedings in the House of Lords a lighter vein was introduced into the discussion by some of the Scottish members, who complained of the kilts supplied to the Scottish regiments. Baron Moncreiff described these kilts as "abbreviated ladies' hobbleskirts." Baron Lucas replied that the War Office had been unable to get a sufficient stock of the usual material used in the making of kilts.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. THOMAS DESMOND.

At the P. E. I. Hospital, after some time of failing health, Mrs. Thomas Desmond passed peacefully away, Dec. 24, 1914, at the age of 83 years. Her husband, the late Thomas Desmond, predeceased her a little over three years ago. They came to this province from Nova Scotia some years ago, and proved themselves honourable citizens. Mrs. Desmond in her day was quite famous as a coloured cook. She had the honour of serving the late King Edward VII. when he was the Prince of Wales, visiting at Windsor, N. S., and never wearied of being introduced to him and shaking hands with the late King. Mrs. Desmond was an excellent woman. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Z. L. Fash, December 26, 1914, and the burial was at the People's Cemetery.

MR. JOHN DOGHERTY.

It is with deep feelings of regret the death is chronicled of Mr. John Doherty, New Haven, P. E. I., December 28th, 1914, in his 69th year. He was the only son of the late Donald Doherty. Mr. Doherty was stricken with paralysis a few years ago and although being in delicate health, he was always inquiring about the many duties requiring his attention on the farm, and under his guiding hands a system of order and neatness was everywhere observable. The deceased was a man of sterling worth, an affectionate husband and father; a kind brother and good neighbor. Mr. Doherty was of a cheerful, generous, kindly spirit and he possessed the rare faculty of being able to cover the failings of others with the mantle of charity and was ever delighted to lend a helping hand to anyone in need. His place in the community, will, indeed, be hard to fill. He will be greatly missed in his home by his sorrowing widow, who mourns the loss of a devoted husband, beside the sorrowing wife he leaves five sons and two daughters, all of New Haven. The funeral was on Wednesday, Dec. 30th. A large number of friends gathered to pay their last tributes of respect to one they loved and whose memory they will fondly cherish. The service at the house and grave were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. H. McHattie. He chose his own pallbearers and was tenderly laid to rest in the Presbyterian Cemetery, Clyde River. A nephew and five of his sons acted as pallbearers, Messrs. Daniel Doherty, Kenneth Doherty, Aleck Doherty, John Doherty, Geo. Doherty and his nephew Beecher Campbell.

REXAL TOOTHACHE STOPPER will immediately stop the pain, and will be found to be an admirable temporary filling. You should always have Rexal Toothache Stopper in the house. Price 25c. MacKinnon Drug Co., Cor. Great George and Kent Streets, Meff.

BRITAIN WILL NEVER SUBMIT.
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—"Britain is determined never to submit or yield. She never will make peace until the evil of militarism has been so vanquished that it will never trouble the earth again."

So said Joseph H. Choate, former United States ambassador to Great Britain in an address to the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society yesterday afternoon.

"The British spirit, courage and hope are magnificent," he continued. "Nothing could be more grand than their wives and mothers in the attitude they take toward the war. I read the other day that the son of a friend of mine, a woman well known in London, had been killed in action. I wrote to her and shortly afterward received an answer. I wish I had the letter here to read to you. She had four sons, three in the army and one in the navy. One is dead, one is wounded, one had been taken prisoner and one is still safe on board a British battleship. In her letters she speaks of her pride that we have been able to devote all of our sons to the cause."

—there's no food that equals Grape-Nuts in concentrated food-strength.

A pretty big claim, but listen—
"All-wheat food" sounds good to most people, but Grape-Nuts goes one better. It not only contains the entire nutriment of wheat, but also the rich nourishment of barley.

More! Grape-Nuts is long baked and digests quickly. Most wheat foods—bread for instance and some so-called breakfast foods—require 2 1-2 to 3 hours for digestion.

Grape-Nuts food digests generally in about one hour.

Being highly concentrated, there's more actual food value, weight for weight, in Grape-Nuts than in some other foods sold in bigger packages.

Grape-Nuts contains the vital bone, muscle and nerve making phosphates necessary for health and life, but lacking in most wheat foods—white bread especially. A daily ration of Grape-Nuts readily makes up for this lack.

Ready to eat from the package, appetizing, nourishing, economical—
