

Church Won't Let Dr. MacLeod Resign

New Office, Carrying $5,000 Pension, is Created for St. Nicholas Pastor—Relieved of Parish Work But His Sermons Will Still Be Heard From Time to Time in 12 Collegiate Churches

The following from the New York Times of April 6th will be interesting news to Dr. MacLeod's relatives and friends in his native Province of Prince Edward Island. Dr. MacLeod is a brother of Mrs. (Dr.) E. D. Johnson of Charlottetown.

The governing board of the Collegiate Reformed Church of St. Nicholas, Fifth Avenue and Forty-eighth Street, has refused to accept the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Malcolm James MacLeod as pastor. The board's action was taken at a meeting in the parish house last evening. Dr. MacLeod had presented his resignation early in January to take effect Jan. 1, 1935.

Instead of permitting him to resign the consistency of the Collegiate Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of the City of New York, which is the technical name of the governing board, created a new office for Dr. MacLeod and appointed him to it as a token of appreciation of his almost twenty-five years in that pastorate. His title will be "minister of the Collegiate Church without specific charge." The office carries a pension of $5,000 "and all the privileges of a minister of the Collegiate Church."

The St. Nicholas Church is one of the twelve churches which compose the Collegiate Church, the oldest church body in the city and the oldest Protestant Church in America. It was founded 300 years ago.

Dr. MacLeod in his letter of resignation had said that with "the changes going on around us many of our methods must change, too. If we are to meet the splendid opportunities of the hour. A new man with a new approach can do this more effectively, I am convinced," he added.

The new status of Dr. MacLeod, which relieves him of all parochial responsibility, becomes effective Jan. 1. On that date he will have completed twenty-five years as pastor of St. Nicholas Church and forty years in the ministry. He will then be in his sixty-eighth year.

Dr. MacLeod inherited $100,000 from John Mackie, philanthropist, his friend and parishioner, who died July 10. He has been one of the highest salaried pastors in the country, his salary having been $18,000, which was not cut during the depression.

The Consistory adopted resolutions exonerating Dr. MacLeod for "his ability, his spirit and his work." He was not present, being in Pinehurst, N. C., for two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. MacLeod will continue after his retirement from active parochial duty to live in Bronxville, N. Y. He will devote his time to travel, writing, lecturing and preaching in pulpits of the Collegiate group in cases of illness or absence of the regular pastors.

STATEMENT RE CIVIL SERVICE SALARIES

Hon. E. N. Rhodes Clarifies Deduction Bills Before Commons.

(G. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, April 17—Pending passage of the salary deduction bill now before the House of Commons, which exempts from the 10 percent cut those civil servants receiving compensation of $1,000 or less per annum, cheques for the current salaries are being issued on the basis of the amending legislation.

The following statement was issued today by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance:

"In view of the number of misconceptions that have arisen concerning the salary deduction bill, it seems desirable that some explanation should be made of its terms. In general, the effect of the bill is that for the past two years are continued, during the current fiscal year, except that the employee whose compensation does not exceed $1,000 is exempted from deduction.

"The provision for treasury board regulations is continued, in order to ensure that application of the terms of the bill to the 60,000 Government employees may be made in a fair and equitable basis. With this object in view, the board will issue detailed regulations when the bill has been passed. In the meantime, it is necessary that pay cheques be issued and this being done, so far as possible, in accordance with the general terms of the bill.

"It should be understood, however, that the basis of checks issued to certain classes, including among others, seasonal and prevailing rates employees, is subject to final decision by the treasury board, in accordance with the practice of previous years."

Lallemand's fresh Yeast cakes

A NATURAL CORRECTIVE for constipation...

TO ALL those who are suffering from constipation and the troubles which are so often caused by constipation—headaches, loss of appetite, indigestion, under-weight, that tired feeling, pimples and boils—the news that Lallemand's fresh Yeast is now available is good news indeed. For Lallemand's fresh Yeast is a fine natural corrective for constipation—one that costs less because the size of the cakes is so large, more than 1/3 larger than the usual old size. Taken regularly, it gives the muscles of the intestines more exercise to grow strong on, exercise which results in regular movement of the bowels, and victory over constipation and its usual depressing and irritating symptoms.

Lallemand's name a guarantee of high quality. Lallemand's have been making food and health products for many years. Every step, including daily delivery to grocers and druggists, is taken that science and experience can suggest as a means of placing fresh yeast, of the highest quality, in perfect condition, where you can buy it. Remember that the yeast which is recommended by medical authorities is composed of thousands of living organisms, and that experiments have shown that yeast in which these organisms have been killed is of little good.

Simple Directions
If you suffer from constipation, and really wish to feel strong and well again, try Lallemand's Yeast. It can be taken by all ages, from about 5 years up. From one to two cakes should be taken daily, before or between meals, plain or spread on bread, or dissolved in about a third of a glass of water or milk.

Another important reason why Lallemand's fresh Yeast is so effective in building up strength and health is that it is very rich in vitamins B, G and D.

So take Lallemand's Yeast regularly, to insure that clogged intestines won't poison your system, and to get a good supply of vitamins.

ECKENER SURE AIRSHIP BEST AMONG FLIERS

Honored at Luncheon in London, the Zepelin Commander Cited His 50 Atlantic Crossings as Evidence.

(By The Canadian Press)

LONDON, April 17—In spite of the wonderful increase in the efficiency of the airplane, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, is convinced the airship type of flying craft is the best available method of aerial transport for long distances, especially over the ocean.

Dr. Eckener expressed this view here when he attended a luncheon in his honor of the British Branch of the All People's Association. He is president of the German group of the organization.

Dr. Eckener told the gathering he had many problems to solve. One of them was whether the airship could become a dependable and safe means of transportation, and if so whether it could become a paying business. It was impossible for mechanical transportation to arrive at 100 percent safety, he thought, "for our last journey to heaven," but he claimed as a result of his 50 Atlantic crossings that the airship gave the 99.9 percent of safety some people wanted.

Dr. Eckener said he was working on plans for regular airship service to North and South America.

Captain F. E. Guest, M. P., who presided, suggested the extraordinary satisfactory record of Dr. Eckener had achieved with the Graf Zeppelin might enable the reopening of the British Airship factories at Fulham, closed for some time.

GIRL GUIDE NEWS

FIRST CHARLOTTETOWN CO. (ST. PETER'S)

First Charlottetown Co. held their meeting Monday evening with a good attendance. There was also an inspection of ropes.

Two recruits are preparing for their tenderfoot early next week. Guides passed their test for bed making. A large number of the girls are learning first class knots and others are busy preparing for the concert to be held in the near future.

SECOND CHARLOTTETOWN CO. (ST. PAUL'S CHURCH)

At Friday's meeting seven keen young recruits were welcomed into the great sisterhood of Girl Guides by making the Guide promise and receiving a trefail pin, the three leaves of which stand for the three promises. We were very glad to have with us on this occasion the parents and friends of these new Guides.

The Bluebird and White Heather patrol leaders are to be congratulated on the attractive parade which they made to herald the possession of their patrol members. These boxes have been beautifully painted in patrol colors and should be found very useful.

The Company is now divided into four patrols of nine members each. This is a much more even division and it is difficult to tell which will win the patrol banner next time.

Immediately after camp-fire a Court of Honour was held. Patrol Leader St. Black acted as Secretary and took the minutes. The Leaders submitted their reports for March after which several matters of Company management were brought up and discussed. It was pointed out that there is an urgent need for more funds as the members dues are not enough to meet the Company's requirements. The matter of discipline was dealt with and it was finally decided to have a good conduct should be awarded at each meeting. As there are still girls on the waiting list it was decided to keep the attendance rule strictly enforced.

After the Court adjourned the investment of Miss M. Large one of the Lieutenants of the Company took place.

Milady is Romantic Says Fashion Man

HOLLYWOOD, April 17—Every fashion trend is a reflection of woman's interests and activities, and combined with this is a psychological reaction which prevailed for the past few years. Since the war, women have seemed to present a regimental uniformity which the woman of 1934 scorns and refuses to follow. Hence, the romantic, elaborate tendency of this Spring and Summer mode.

So says Travis Banton, Hollywood stylist.

And, to explain his point more fully, he says "the return of lace, frills, ruffles and soft womanhood around necklines and slender wrists is proof that women have tired of harsh masculine lines that invaded last year."

Madame, young and old; realizes this year, as she never has before, that to be in a mode, she must be a bit frivolous.

And, don't you like the dropped width in the shoulders and neck lines this year better than the military tendency of last season?

Grace Length

Banton, concerning length of skirts, said "it is up to the smart woman to know exactly what length gives her more grace and if she can decide this, she need not worry about her neighbor's skirt."

Walker Funkhouser points out that matched, or companion accessories are occupying a top spot in Spring and Summer fashions.

Among the newest accessory ensembles on display in smart shops are shoes and handbags, jeweled clips that match formal frocks and evening shoes; hats, scarfs and gloves; hats and hand bags and the latest fad is straw bracelets to match the chapeau.

Jewelry ensembles include head band for sports or evening, sports or dress brooch or clips and bracelets. Pastel jewelry is also going to match pastel frocks, but vivid shades are favored for white frock.

Have you noticed the new cocktail cap? They're being made in ribbon, matched in various shades and adorned with lace and large bows with other decorations. All are worn off-the-face cuff brim and fitted to the head.

SUES FOR $117,350

HOUSTON, April 17—Two suits for damages aggregating $117,350 were filed in Federal Court today against the Texas Breeders and Selling Association, owners of Epsom Downs track here, as the result of a shooting March 15 in which Tommy Blanchard, a Montreal stable boy, was wounded.

One suit was filed by Mrs. Cyrille Blanchard of Montreal, on the boy's behalf, and the other was by Mrs. Blanchard on her own behalf. Blanchard was an employee of G. Tern, Montreal, race owner. Mrs. Blanchard's petition alleged the boy probably had been permanently disabled as a result of being shot by L. A. Eades, special officer employed by the Epsom Downs track. The mother declared her boy would have become a jockey next year and therefore had a reasonable expectation of earning $10,000 a year.

Time To Castrate Pigs

(Experimental Farm Note)

The early castration of market pigs has many advantages which should not be overlooked by breeders.

Young pigs are easily handled, suffer very little and bleed quickly, with a small percentage of losses, if the operation is properly performed and necessary precautions are taken to prevent infection.

At the Dominion Experimental Farm, Indian Head, pigs for market purposes are castrated at weaning time. Pigs to be weaned at six weeks are castrated at one month of age or if weaning is done at eight weeks they are castrated when about six weeks old. Experience at this farm has shown that castrated pigs suffer less set-back and heal more rapidly, with a smaller percentage of losses, than older pigs.

APPEAL BEHALF OF ZIONIST MOVEMENT

when practically all the world was engulfed in the greatest catastrophe of the ages. In November, 1917, a great British statesman, afterwards Earl Balfour, declared that the British Government would give with favor the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine. Lord Allenby, the next month, entered the city of Jerusalem at the head of his victorious hosts. The Moslem occupation of over 600 years had ended.

"Scriptural prophecy was being fulfilled. The restoration of Zion had begun. The peace treaty conferred upon Great Britain the mandate over Palestine under the League of Nations and the work of development and settlement have proceeded apace with the co-operation of the Jews of all the world.

"In some aspects it is the most wonderful story of history. Its mere recital in outline is calculated to dispel the doubts of men as to the purposes of the Lord.

"Recent political and social upheavals in Europe have uprooted thousands of Jews from their abiding places and they now find themselves practically homeless.

"To a great many of these people Palestine is indeed the only haven of refuge in which they may journey in peace and realize their age-old hopes and aspirations.

"The Zionist Organization of Canada, of which A. J. Freeman of Ottawa, is President, represents the organized Canadian effort to assist Jews to return to the homeland. The campaign of 1934 is under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. Freeman, O. B. E., whose work in every branch of philanthropic effort is known even beyond the boundaries of Canada.

"The annual appeal for the reasons I have given, is always important. But this year it has a special significance. The funds realized will be expended in the salvaging of refugee children driven from their homes and families, and facing a future almost without hope."

Wife Beater Fined By Court

ATLANTA, April 17—(Associated Press)—Georgia should establish a whipping post to punish wife-beaters similar to the practice in Delaware, says police Judge John L. Cone.

Judge Cone gave his opinion when the case of a man listed as J. N. Garrett came before him. Garrett was charged with beating his wife. His 18-year-old daughter told the Judge that she was given a few licks herself when she attempted to interfere in her mother's beating.

The man was fined $102, given 30 days in the stockade, and bound over to State court on a charge of wife beating under $1,000 bond.

BLOOD SWEATING PROVES A HOAX

ROME, April 16—The case of the young girl who sweated blood has been proved a hoax.

The attention of all the religious and scientific authorities as well as of all the population of the village of Licata, in Sicily, has proved the undoing of the young Sicilian girl of that village who pretended to sweat blood.

It was proved that Anna Mungiovi used ox blood to mystify the public. She has been arrested and accused of outrage to the religion of the State and of disturbing public peace.

She has been condemned to three months' imprisonment.

TRADITION IS UPHELD "SHOW MUST GO ON"

NEW YORK, April 17—One of the oldest traditions of the theatre—"The show must go on" had been upheld today by Howard Thurston, magician, and his daughter Jane.

Despite their grief over the death of the magician's wife, Mrs. Nina Thurston, 45, they went through their performance as scheduled at a local theatre last night.

Thurston and his company had just begun the first of two night shows when the magician received word that his wife had died. Thurston spoke with his daughter for a moment and then informed the theatre managers that they would not cancel the show. They carried through to the finish.

Miller's Worm Powders not only exterminate intestinal and other worms, but they are a remedy for many other ailments of children. They strengthen the young stomach against biliousness and are tonics in their effects where the child suffers from loss of appetite. In feverish conditions they will be found useful and they will serve to allay pain and griping in the stomach from which children so often suffer.

FATHER DEAD NINE DAYS

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 17—The weird tale of a 18 year old negro girl, high school sophomore, who lived for nine days in a house with the body of her father, came to light tonight. Asked by a neighbor how her father was, Esther May Brown sobbingly replied:

"I last saw Daddy alive the night before Easter. He said good night to me as he went to bed. I found him dead next morning. A rope was around his neck and was attached to the top of the bed. I cut it and tried to revive him but couldn't. I didn't know what to do, so I locked the door and lived in the kitchen. I wrote to my aunt in New York to ask her what to do and then went to school."

Police went to the scene and found the body. A medical examiner said the case was one of suicide.

FINDS NEW CARMEN IN N. Y. RESTAURANT

NEW YORK, April 17—Pasquale Amato, the famous baritone turned opera impresario, found a new Carmen last night in the show at a Broadway restaurant.

The "find," the American born daughter of Italian immigrants, is Louise Caselotti—a lithe dark-haired, olive-skinned mezzo soprano who dances as well as she sings.

"She's the perfect type for Carmen," said Amato, who directs popular priced grand opera at the New York Hippodrome.

Miss Caselotti was born in Bridgeport, Conn. Her father, Giuseppe Caselotti, then was a music teacher.

"Persian Dalm is a true elixir of youth. Refreshes and rejuvenates. Adds youthful charm to the complexion. Softens and beautifies the skin. Makes hands flawlessly white. Indispensable to the woman who appreciates subtle distinction. Delightful to use. Delicately fragrant. Soothes dry and irritated skin. Corals and preserves. A flawless requisite for every discerning woman. A true aid to beauty."

AGED CANADIAN IS DEAD IN LONDON

LONDON, April 17—A verdict of accidental death was rendered at the inquest at Paddington recently on a Canadian woman centenarian, Mrs. Mary Jane Nisbet, aged 104, who broke her leg in a fall at an aged persons' home in January and died on a Saturday from bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. Nisbet came to London four years ago from Switzerland. Many years ago in Canada her father owned a fleet of sailing vessels which carried many cargoes of furs from Canada to Liverpool.

Despite her great age Mrs. Nisbet retained a keen memory and delighted in recalling her experiences while rounding Cape Horn in a sailing vessel 70 years ago. She also remembered the nesting of an eagle on the occasion of Queen Victoria's birth on the throne—81 years ago.

The number of calves on Canadian farms at December, 1933, (1,799,500) was only slightly greater than at the same date in 1932 (1,770,700) indicating that the rate of calving increase is slowing up. 77.5 per cent of the calves are born in Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba.

WHITE CRUB CONTROL SUGGESTIONS

Dealing with the white grub situation in Eastern Ontario, a paper by Mr. G. H. Hammond, Dominion Entomological Branch, was read last week before the conference of Agricultural representatives of Eastern Ontario at Kemptonville. Referring to control suggestions for 1934, Mr. Hammond said that only a small fraction of the losses suffered from white grubs would be experienced this year and that the losses might be expected during the latter part of May and early June. Afterwards no important injury need be looked for in Eastern Ontario until August 1934 when some damage would be expected in old timothy and from first year grubs. Control suggestions might be confined to the following:

(a) Very thorough working of the soil with plough and disk during spring months, especially in the case of soil on light land which was undisturbed previous to 1932, or in soil known to have a large grub population during 1933. (b) Renovation of pastures which were injured by grubs during 1933 by ploughing and re-seeding with commercial fertilizer applications. (c) Thorough soil preparation in early fall ploughing to kill dormant June beetles before these go into hibernation in October. (d) Fertilization of the farm for growing alfalfa to replace alfalfa and clovers as much as possible. (e) Removal of isolated trees, such as willow, birch, oak, ash, elm, and hickory which act as magnets for June beetles, in fields or along neglected homelands of their forefathers, and that despite defeat and persecution, sorrow and separation, the broken home will sometime be rebuilt; the historic and ancient homeland sometimes again settled by the descendants of a dispersed and conquered people, faith triumphs over doubt, hope over despair, and the promise will surely be fulfilled.

"Such is the story of the Jews. The Jews saw suffering from the Great War in many countries

MELBOURNE—The Victorian Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society has arranged to present a Bible to every member of the legal profession in this city.
