FAREWELL ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

An event of more than passing notice, took place at the home of Peter Heron, when the members of the Fort Augustus baseball club assembled there to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heron who were soon to take their departure to the U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heron, dear friends,—We assembled here this evening to spend a few pleasant hours in social company with you both before bidding you goodbye. We have lately learned with regret that you were about to sever the fond ties of companionship that had united you to us for so long, and that you are about to make your home in U.S.A. We cannot let this opportunity pass without saying a few parting words of appreciation before saying farewell.

Augustus Ball Team

Mr. Heron, who ably replied on behalf of Mrs. Heron and himself, expressed his surprise and great pleasure at the honor which was bestowed on them both. Not living in Fort Augustus for a number of years and not taking very much of an active part in the doings of the club, he felt that he did not deserve so much dignity and respect, but at the same time he assured all present that he was fully cognizant of the honor, and appreciated to the fullest extent the respect which was meted out to them tonight.

RECORD STRUCTURE

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—New York is to have an 88-story office building, out ranking in height the Woolworth Building, which has 51 storeys, according to a report in real estate circles. The new mammoth structure will occupy an entire block in downtown Broadway, it is said.

Happenings of the Week

There is a strong possibility that Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles may pay an unofficial visit to Canada in the not very far distant future. It is understood that the Princess has for some time been anxious to visit the western ranch owned by her brother, the Prince of Wales. A royal visit is not an easy matter to arrange or carry through, but the Princess, it is understood, wishes to make the trip quite informally in much the same fashion as the last visit to the Dominion of the Prince himself. This would mean such relaxation in ceremony as travel in a private car instead of a special train and the substitution of private for official receptions. Nothing has yet been arranged but it is probable that an opportunity will be given to the Princess to see her brother's Canadian home, as the Prince is anxious she should do. The Duke and Duchess of York have also expressed a desire to visit Canada, and will probably be able to gratify it within a year or two.

The students of Dalhousie are eagerly looking forward with great enthusiasm to the Christmas holidays which will begin on December 17, lectures being resumed again on January 5. The Ladies College closes on the 17th.

Mrs. F. B. Conrad entertained very pleasantly at five tables on Bridge at her pretty home on Prince street last Tuesday evening.

The graduating recital of Miss Irene Annie Louise Secord, reader daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Secord, Sackville, which was held in Beechoven Hall Thursday evening attracted an exceptionally large audience, the seating accommodation of the hall being taxed to capacity. Miss Secord, who has many friends here, was perfectly at ease on the platform. In the rendition of her varied program, Miss Secord showed versatility. Her voice has splendid carrying power, with clear enunciation and good expression. Miss Secord was assisted by Miss Rebecca Brody, violinist, a talented post-graduate student, and Miss Marion Swan, accompanist. After the recital, Dr. and Mrs. Secord held a reception for their daughter at their home in York street, quite a number of friends being present. Refreshments were served and a pleasant time spent in music and social chat. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. R. Crockett and Mrs. George Muttart, of Summerside, and Miss Dora McDonald, of this city.

Miss Jean Allen's many friends will regret to learn of her illness in the P. E. I. Hospital.

The many friends of Mrs. R. B. Norton will be pleased to know that she is getting along satisfactorily after an operation in the P. E. I. Hospital this week.

On Thursday, Mrs. J. T. Jenkins, Charlottetown's grand old lady, celebrated her 92nd birthday. Regrettably Mrs. Jenkins has not been very well lately so that the happy event was necessarily confined to visits from her immediate family, flowers and felicitations by telegraph and mail from numerous outside relatives and friends.

THE PATRIOT REPLIES

The Patriot's rejoinder on the recent Conservative convention calls for a very brief reply. The suggestion that Mr. George Simpson ever ran as a Liberal candidate at a Dominion general election is untrue. Equally untrue is the Patriot's assertion that the late William Welsh permanently resided at Keppoch. He always resided in Charlottetown except in the summer months. The attempt to class him as a farmer and exclude the late Alexander Martin from that class is palpably ludicrous. The late Mr. Welsh belonged to that class of farmers known to the world to raise little but their hats, whereas the late Mr. Martin belonged to that horny-handed band of men who by their own manual exertions delve into mother earth to bring forth sustenance for the preservation of the race.

Although the Patriot would exclude Mr. Martin from his rightful claim to be a farmer he finds no difficulty in classing Mr. Murdoch Kennedy as such. This is surely funny. With one breath he faults the convention for not nominating Mr. Myers while with another he finds satisfaction in claiming that the unpopularity of the Local Government made that impossible. Could hypocrisy go further? The Patriot is quite ready as in the past to pursue the nominees of the Conservative party whether they be farmers or doctors or lawyers or merchants, with incessant malignity and persistent vituperation.

The Patriot's articles are an insult to every farmer in the Province, for they impute that as a class they are as mere puffy in the hands of a few designing men in Charlottetown, who can easily manipulate them to serve their personal ends. No greater insult could be offered to the most intelligent and high-minded class of farmers to be found on this side of the Equator.

But worst of all is the Patriot's disgraceful attempt to sow the seeds of dissatisfaction and distrust between the inhabitants of city and country. This vile work injures everyone, Grit and Tory alike, and merits the severest censure.

Mrs. Ernest Seller received for the first time since her marriage a Wednesday afternoon, welcoming many callers. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. John Saunders, and husband's mother, Mrs. F. H. Seller, the visitors being ushered into the prettily decorated rooms by Mrs. Lorne Insworth. At the tea table Mrs. V. F. Tidmarsh and Mrs. Percy Williams poured, and were assisted in serving by Miss Jean Martin, Miss Jean Seller, Miss May Insworth, Mrs. W. L. Cotton and Mrs. George DeBlais.

The Bankers' dance in the Casino on Wednesday was one of the nicest affairs of the season as everyone seemed to have a good time. The young people were chaperoned by Mrs. F. B. Conrad and Mrs. J. E. O'Donnell.

PRESENTATION AT ST. MARY'S ROAD

An event of more than ordinary notice, recently took place, at the home of Mr. Terrance Lannigan when a large number of friends and neighbors assembled there, to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. Victor McGuigan, who are soon to take their departure for the United States. Card games and dancing were indulged in until midnight, after which an address and presentation took place. Mr. McGuigan was presented with a beautiful club bag and Mrs. McGuigan with a $50.00 cheque.

ADDRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Victor McGuigan, Dear Friends:—We your friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening, to spend a few pleasant hours in your company, before bidding you good-bye. We have lately learned with regret, that you are about to sever the ties of companionship, that united you to us for so long, and that you are about to leave in the course of a few days for the United States. Oh how we wish you would remain with us, but since we are powerless to stay the hand of old father time onward, then it is for us your friends and neighbors, not to let this opportunity pass without saying a few words of appreciation, before bidding you farewell. For the twelve years that you have resided amongst us, you always took a deep interest in matters pertaining to the welfare of this community, and in the line of sport and entertainment, you couldn't be beaten.

The parting of such fine young people, possessed as you are, of such pleasant personalities and big and generous hearts, makes a very severe loss to any community, although we grieve very much at your departure, we sincerely trust that success may crown all your efforts, and that God, will bestow on you His choicest blessings of health and happiness. It is the sincere wish of your host of friends on St. Mary's.

Mr. McGuigan who ably replied on behalf of Mrs. McGuigan and himself expressed, his thanks, at the pleasure and honor, which was bestowed on them, both, and in a few chosen words thanked all present, for their kindness toward them, and assured them, that they would take away with them, many fond recollections, of the very many happy times spent together.

Prince May Come Again Next Year

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—The announcement made in the British House of Commons by the King's Speech that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales would visit the Argentine on the conclusion of his South African visit next spring has caused much interest here as it is probable he will again visit Canada next year on his way back from the Argentine. During his recent visit to Canada he told several of his friends that he would like very much to come back next year to his ranch. His wish was interpreted, however, then more as a gesture of courtesy and politeness on his part to his Canadian friends. It is more than likely, however, that the Prince knew then of his contemplated visit to the Argentine and that it would be possible to pay a visit to Canada next year. His Royal Highness has never concealed his appreciation of the manner to which he has been received in Canada. The freedom from burdensome formality, the warm but respectful welcome—he has always received and the restful time he can spend on his Canadian ranch have always appealed to him.

The cable which appeared in The Gazette of a few days ago from its London correspondent that Princess Mary and her husband, Viscount Lascelles might visit the Prince's ranch next year is also regarded with interest, but nothing official is known here. Viscount Lascelles is no stranger to Canada as he was an aide-de-camp on the staff of Earl Grey when he was governor-general. Another visit to Canada next year by the Prince of Wales would make his fourth. He came here officially as Prince of Wales in 1919. In 1923 he came as Lord Renfrew while this year he came as Prince of Wales but unofficially. It is believed here that a visit next year would be of short duration and merely to see his ranch.
