"INTERESTING NEWS TO POULTRYMEN"—Mr. J. Russel Brehaut of Montague an expert of poultry, decided he would experiment on some foreign stock. He sent overseas to England for a setting each of "Barred Rock" and "Light Sussex". They came across the Atlantic in good condition, and proved quite fertile. Mr. Brehaut has now nineteen beautiful chicks to repay him for his venture. Has any other Island poultrymen done likewise?

WELL KNOWN LADY DEAD.—The death occurred at Kenville, Nova Scotia on Sunday May 9th of Margaret, wife of Rev. J. Abbott Winfield, who has but recently retired from the active ministry of the Anglican Church. Mr. and Mrs. Winfield were well known in this Province, having lived at Alberton and Kensington, during the periods of Mr. Winfield's Rectorship at these two places. Mrs. Winfield has been an invalid during the past three years, and the call comes for her as a happy release from suffering. She is survived by her sorrowing husband and two sons, Messrs. J. H. and W. A. Winfield both of whom occupy responsible positions with the Maritime Telephone Company. They have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in this Province and elsewhere.

In rinsing woollens loosen the wringer. Don't twist in the hands, but press out all the water possible. Arrange sweaters loosely on a flat surface, turning from time to time. They dry soft and unstretched in this manner.

Making Her Baby Clothes

The months of preparation for her baby are one of the happiest periods of a woman's life. She stitches each tiny garment with the magic thread of her dreams. Many childless homes have been blessed by the coming of a rosy, dimpled baby after Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has strengthened and restored the wife to a normal, healthy condition. There is nothing so dependable to overcome the ills of womanhood as this old fashioned root and herb medicine.

THIS NAVY BLUE COSTUME IS MARKED BY STRIKING SIMPLICITY

By Marie Belmont

The women who look best in extremely simple effects are wise to recognize this fact and use it to their advantage. For the slender person, there is shown above a most striking outfit in navy blue crepe roma. The bodice is built on long lines and is devoid of trimming. The skirt is made in three tiers, accordion pleated, and the lowered waistline is marked by a soft girle of the material. With this is worn a large hat of navy blue hair straw, turned up at the back and finished with a simple band of navy velvet about the crown.

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from eye strain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect. The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy. Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eye strain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy, may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body, and produce ill health.

TREE-TOP STORIES

THE COW-BOY

JOHNNY would rather ride 'Old Flossie' than to do anything else he could think of. 'Old Flossie' was a horse. She was gentle, and her back was wide and smooth. Johnny often led to her while she nibbled a nice bunch of grass or leaves at the side of the road. "Giddy! Old Flossie!" he yelled one day. "I'm a Cow-boy... and I've got to ride fast!" But Old Flossie just looked back at him and nodded her head. Johnny then poked along slower than ever. "Guess I just look like Johnny to her," laughed Johnny.
