SEES STRANGE MAN. MILFORD, July 12-The people here were not a little scared this evening by the report that a strange looking man had jumped off one of the trains that crossed at 6.30. The stranger was apparently about forty years of age, had blood on his face and a broken arm. He ran across a field from the station and disappeared in the woods. Most of the men were away at the Orange picnic at Stewiacke, but two or three who were at home started for the woods in pursuit. They failed to come up with the man. Inquiry at the railway offices showed that nothing was known of the man on either of the trains and it could not be said which train he left or indeed if he was on either. But there is no doubt he ran across and into the woods and that his appearance was as described.
