The Solar Plexus a Great Nerve Centre

With the single exception of the brain itself, the solar plexus is the most important nerve centre in the human body. Situated just back of the stomach and close to the spinal cord, the solar plexus supplies the motor nerves to the vital organs. Injury to or weakness of the solar plexus consequently means incapacity of the vital organs of the body. This explains why a blow which reaches the solar plexus means helplessness to the person receiving it. These nerve centres all demand an enormous quantity of good, rich blood, and, failing to get this, the nerve cells are starved and depleted, and fail to supply vital energy to the digestive and eliminating organs. The wonderful success of Dr.

Chase's Nerve Food in revitalizing and reconstructing the broken-down nervous system is due to the fact that it supplies nutrition to nerve cells through the medium of the blood stream. Weakness of the stomach, failure of the liver and kidneys to filter the blood, inactivity of the bowels and feelings of fatigue and discouragement usually arise from an exhausted condition of the nervous system. The nerve centres, such as the solar plexus, have not the nerve force to work the machinery of the body. The most natural treatment imaginable is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and its benefits are lasting, because it actually rebuilds the wasted and broken-down nerve cells.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Evening gowns are made brilliant by a display of glittering beads. In Paris they speak of green as the prevailing color for the early spring. Yoke effects are seen on many of the new shirt waists, so are raglan sleeves.

On some of the high tan boots there is a little half-inch strap that fastens the top instead of the last two buttons. There appears to be no hesitancy in ringling the real and imitation gems, rhinestones are frequently in use. A fascinating chiffon scarf has a bag-like hood in black, outlined with white marabout, the ends crossing in front like a kerchief.

AUTOS MAY RUN IN P. E. I.

Premier Strongly in Favor of Proposed Legislation

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 17.—Premier Matheson moved a resolution in the Prince Edward Island Legislature today that it is expedient to introduce an act to permit the use of automobiles on certain days on the public highways. The Premier made a strong speech in favor of the resolution. He went very fully into the question, referring to the changed feeling in regard to automobiles. The new bill, he said, would provide very stringent regulations and when it passed he did not propose to have it put into operation until the people have an opportunity to consider it carefully.

Hon. John McLean, Hon. Charles Dalton, Hon. Wm. S. Stewart and Hon. Murdoch McKinnon spoke in favor.

It is proposed to limited the running of automobiles to three days. The fees from licenses are to go towards the upkeep of the roads.
