IN MEMORIAM

MRS. DONALD H. McLEAN.

The death took place at her home, Souris Line Road, on Sunday, Sept. 24th, of Mrs. Donald H. McLean, in the 73rd year of her age, after an illness of over a year. The funeral took place on Tuesday, September 26th to St. Mary's Church, and interment took place in the Catholic Cemetery at Souris. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Dingwell, Souris, R. I. P. (Patriot and Examiner Please Copy.)

MR. JAMES DOYLE.

The death occurred in the city on Saturday, at noon, of Mr. James Doyle, Water Street. Deceased had been ill only a week and nothing serious was anticipated, until the day previous to his death, so that his demise came as a great shock to his widow and family. He was a highly respected resident always ready to lend a helping hand to his neighbors. The funeral takes place this morning at 9.45 o'clock to St. Dunstan's Cathedral, thence to the R. C. Cemetery. The Guardian extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

MISS MARY ELLIS.

On Sunday morning Miss Mary Ellis of this city passed to her eternal reward. Miss Ellis was in her eighty-fourth year. She had been confined to her room for nearly five years, during part of which she was totally blind. In her long illness she found comfort in the Bible, with which she was intimately familiar. Since the day she began her illness she was continuously ministered to by her sisters, Misses Minnie and Kate Ellis, and by those of her friends who visited her, she displayed great patience and submission until the call to depart came. Throughout her long life she was ever active in religious and charitable works. Of her, it may be truly said that death gave a "happy release." Besides her sisters at home, she leaves a brother Mr. James Ellis of London, England, and a sister Miss Charlotte Ellis, in Boston.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

Save your hair! Make it thick, wavy, glossy and beautiful at once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—Yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—without needless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.

ORDERS FOR $500,000 WORTH MUNITIONS.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—Orders for munitions placed in Canada by the former shell committee and the present imperial munitions board since the beginning of the war, now aggregate $550,000,000. Since the beginning of the present year alone the orders received at Ottawa total $185,000,000, and the munitions board has just received instructions from London to place additional contracts for munitions to the value of $60,000,000.

In a statement issued by the board it is pointed out that the output on war contracts is most satisfactory and increasing in volume every week. Earlier difficulties in regard to supplies of steel and forgings have been overcome and arrangements have been made for a steady and adequate supply of steel to keep all the shell factories working full speed.

At present Canada is turning out about 250,000 shrapnel shells per week, complete with fuzes, cases, fuses, primers and propellant charges. Within the past week the board has been authorized to place continuation orders for these shells, calling for delivery into 1917. The maximum output of the plants manufacturing the 8 and 9.5 shells is expected to be reached by the end of this year. The fuse plant built by the board of Montreal has now reached a capacity of 10,000 per day and by Jan. 1 it will be turning out 25,000 per day. The complete shells are testing up well, and are most satisfactory to the War Office.

The board declares that its policy this year is to place the emphasis on keeping all plants now producing munitions fully employed, and where increased production is required on any particular class of work to extend the operations of plants which are already equipped and producing munitions.

The Waltham

THOSE who realize the need of always being on time know best the value of a Waltham Watch. Whenever doubt may arise, a Waltham gives the assurance of accuracy. That's why most railroad men throughout the world have adopted the Waltham Watch as a necessary part of their equipment. Strong, sturdy and well made to resist the shocks of railroad use. The extra-long mainspring and the jewelled main wheel of the Waltham "Vanguard" ensure an even action and extraordinary accuracy. The Winding Indicator on the dial signals when the watch needs winding. Your jeweler will recommend the Waltham "Vanguard" or any of the Waltham Railroad Watches. Write for the booklet "Concerning a Timepiece."

Letter From P. E. I. Soldier

The following letter was received by Mr. James Riley, Strathcona, from his son, Charles, of the 15th Batt., Shorncliffe, England:—

SHORNCLIFFE CAMP, KENT, ENGLAND.

Dear Father,—

At 12 noon today we got home from our six days' furlough. Two other signallers and I went away up to Inverness, Scotland. We passed through London where we had to wait a few hours for the train.

We stayed in Inverness only one day but we saw most of the points of interest in the city, which is about the size of Halifax. We saw the museum, the castle, and the eastern end and locks of the Caledonian Canal. The prettiest sight of all was the cemetery, which is situated on three sides of a high hill. It was just handsomely laid out and very beautiful. I will send home some snapshots of it if they turn out well.

From Inverness we went to Edinburgh. We passed through the famous Pass of Killiecrankie, and saw the hill where the Scots swept down on the English, who were going through the pass. We passed by the Culloden Moors where Prince Charlie was defeated and the flower of the Scottish chiefs slain. The scenery was wonderful with its high and wild hills. Scotland greatly resembles home, especially the people.

Edinburgh is the most beautiful city I have yet been in. It reminds me somewhat of Boston. You have heard of the wonderful Forth Bridge. That is the one that the last Quebec Bridge is modelled after. Well, we visited it. It is certainly a wonderful structure. It stands about 300 feet high and the bottom is high enough for big battleships to go under. Being in these parts, perhaps a dozen torpedo boats and some cruisers, lying at anchor. I'm sending you a P. C. of it.

Monday afternoon we visited the Zoo and saw all sorts of animals, birds, etc. Later we climbed up 236 steps in Scott's monument and had a fine view of the city. In the evening we went to Holyrood Palace and Edinburgh Castle but couldn't get inside as it was after 4 o'clock.

Tuesday we went through the Art Gallery and the Edinburgh Museum. It would take a long while to tell you all we saw there. There were in the Museum all sorts of things, from animals, big and small, sculpture, paintings, tapestry, musical instruments, machinery of most all kinds, etc., etc. It was all very wonderful to me and I was sorry that I had to leave at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

We got to London at 11 o'clock at night and left at nine o'clock next morning (today). We managed to see the outside of the Parliament Buildings and of Buckingham Palace as well as a few other things.

When travelling through the country we passed through some grand districts. The bulk of the harvest was in stock and it is a good harvest too. In the hop fields (some as big as 8 or 10 acres) were dozens of men, women and children at work picking hops.

A Sad Day For Greek Tars

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 13—Today was a sad day for the Greek tars, who are insufficiently acquainted with politics to understand why they must abandon their ships to a foreign power. Besides the Athens correspondent, "It was an equally depressing sight for the Greek naval officers to watch for three hours, this afternoon their ships being towed away by Allied tugs.

"The Allies took every precaution in case of resistance being offered. Russian battleships trained their guns on the cruiser Averoff and the battleships Kikis and Lemnos, while French torpedo boats ready for action, cruised to and fro.

"The ceremony in the early morning of ordering the fleet to park their personal belongings and quit their ships, of which they were so proud, had been a touching incident. The King sent a message releasing every man who wished to remain with his ship and join the Allies. It is said that nobody remained.

"The ship's officers were the last to leave their vessels, taking with them flags and the King's portrait which adorned every wardroom. Admiral Ipititis removed his flag to the Lemnos, and shut himself up in the cabin, while his fleet was being towed to the new anchorage. The aide de camp of the Admiral Ipititis, pointing to the Allied warships, remarked as he watched the scene, "What harm could we have done them?"

Relief Reaching Belgians Safely

In connection with statements which appeared in the press last week to the effect that German soldiers are seizing stores accumulated in Belgium by the American Relief Commission, Belgian Consul-General Goor wires to say that considering numerous official assurances, he is of opinion that the rumor is unfounded and spread by perhaps well intentioned but wrongfully inspired friends. To take the worst view, the consul general believes the only possible ground might be an individual case of robbery or abuse.

THE MORAL GUILT OF THE WAR.

BERLIN, via wireless, Oct. 13.—German newspapers comment on yesterday's debate in the Reichstag and allude to the fact that all the parties put forward their recognized leaders and their best speakers, placing the discussion on a high level. Summarizing the account of the remarks of Herr Neumann, the Radical leader, and Dr. David, the Socialist leader, regarding the origin of the war, the Overseas News Agency says:

"Both these members recalled how, on July 30, 1914, the atmosphere seemed to be cleared by the understanding Secretary had been between Foreign Secretary Grey and the German Ambassador. A further step towards the maintenance of peace was taken when the German Chancellor obtained from

Well Meet in St. Stephen in 1917

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 11.—At the New Brunswick and P. E. Island W. C. T. U. convention, this morning, Mrs. Eagles, St. John, gave a report on the work during the year in ministering to sick and needy and caring for comfort of soldiers.

Mrs. A. C. M. Lawson, Fredericton, read the report of Mrs. Phillips, Bristol, on work among lumbermen and raftsmen.

On motion of Mrs. L. R. Hetherington, Riverview, a resolution was adopted sending greetings to Hon. Justice, the prohibition question and an accompanying this with a bouquet of flowers tied with this emblematic white ribbon.

Mrs. Charters, Sackville, superintendent of medal contests, reported on the contest during the year, at Hartland.

HAS STORY OF FLOTILLA OF 300 HUN SUB. RAIDERS.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 14—Germany plans to sweep the sea with a flotilla of 300 submarines. Such was the statement today of Mrs. Noah Thompson, formerly Fraulin, Wilhelmina Schell, formerly Captain Hans Rosa of the German submarine U-53, who called at her home while he was visiting here October 7. She says he told her that the letter he mailed to Count von Bernstorff gave the information of Germany's plan to gain control of the seas with submarines.

"By the first of January," Mrs. Thompson said, "Capt. Rosa stated it is Germany's plan to sweep the seas clear of enemy ships by submarine warfare. This plan will be voted for by the Reichstag and carried out to the letter, no matter what happens or what is said."

RHEUMATISM AFTER HIS DAY'S CUTTING

Hunting Trip On a Wet Day Brings Painful Results.

Once upon a time Charles Mullen of Philadelphia, was getting it was a dismal rainy day, and long exposure to cold and wet brought on a severe attack of rheumatism. He was confined to his home.

A friend recommended Sloan's Liniment, citing his own case as evidence of its effectiveness. Mullen bought a bottle and applied it to his aching limbs. Soon improvement was noticed and he was able to return to business. Mr. Mullen writes: "Since that experience I have never been without Sloan's Liniment in the medicine chest, and it has so often brought me back, neuralgia, in fact all external pains. At all drugists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle."
