Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell presided at yesterday's sitting of the special session of the Supreme Court which had stood adjourned since April.

Before the business of the Court commenced the Chief Justice paid tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Justice Saunders. He said that from the beginning of the century he was prominent figure in legal circles. He will be particularly missed at the present time by members of the Bar and litigants in general in Prince County, because in recent years he had been available for Court proceedings in Summerside and this had been a great convenience.

The Chief Justice added: "I hope it will be possible to continue this convenience to at least a modified extent. For the present I propose to hold chambers and court sessions if necessary on Monday of each week in Summerside, that does not mean that other days will not be available if the necessity arises.

The case of John (Holman) Gallant, charged with conspiracy having been called, the Court reviewed proceedings at the last session. True bills having been found against the accused, motion had been made by council for the prosecution for the arraignment of the prisoners and thereupon Mr. Johnston had raised objection to the arraignment proceeding at that time as it had been intimated that the Court was to adjourn.

A discussion took place as to the sequence in which the cases would be heard. The Court ruled that the retrial of Frank Gallant and Harry Gallant would commence on Thursday morning; following that the case of John (Holman) Gallant.

The rest of the day was taken up with argument by Mr. J. J. Johnston, K.C., on his objection to arraignment of the prisoners and on his motion that the indictments be quashed.

DELEGATION MET COL. RALSTON — A delegation from the City Council and Board of Trade waited on Col. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, at the Charlottetown yesterday regarding matters pertaining to the Newfoundland-Prince Edward Island trade, the airport facilities and the new carferry. Col. Ralston told the delegates that everything was being done with all possible speed. The chief cause of delay in building the ferry he stated, was the size of the engines required and the impossibility of obtaining them at present. The delegation was accompanied by Premier J. Walter Jones, Mayor B. Roy Holman, Dr. J.A. Clark and Messrs. V.A. Ainsworth, S. A. McLeod, J. O. Hyndman and Alfred Pickard

ART SOCIETY MEETING — A discussion of the general outlook and methods of the two contemporaneous landscape painters, Alfred East and E. W. Leader, was the main feature at first meeting of the season of the Prince Edward Island Art Society last night. Mr. J. E. Harris opened the discussion with an account of the lives and general outlook of the two painters while Mrs. D. M. Gass dealt with a comparison of their methods. The latter also showed some of the artists' paintings. This was followed by a general discussion. Sixteen members were present at the meeting and several new members were introduced. The "New Maritime Art Bulletin" of Saint John was introduced for the first time. Mr. H. W. Dick presided.

The community of Vernon and vicinity lost a highly esteemed resident in the passing away, on October 20th., of Mr. D. J. MacDonald, after a brief illness.

Mr. MacDonald was born at Glencoe, P. E. Island, seventy seven years ago. As a young man he learned his trade as a blacksmith with the late John Wickham of Summerville. After completing his apprenticeship he shortly established a business of his own at Vernon, where he was regarded as an exceptionally good workman and a man always to be depended upon. He purchased a property near Vernon Bridge where he made his home for the rest of his days. Early in life he married Miss Minnie MacDonald, of Vernon who after some years predeceased him. He afterwards married Miss Margaret MacDonald, of Mount Stewart, who passed away about six years ago.

The community of South Melville and vicinity was saddened when on Sunday Oct. 17th., it was learned that Mr. Wm. Arnett of Crapaud, had passed away at the home of his daughter Mrs. Leorne Higgins. The late Mr. Arnett had not been in his usual good health for the last several months, but able to move around, until two weeks ago he suffered a heart attack. While not being confined to his bed but a short time, he was not able to move out around as usual. His passing came suddenly and was a great shock to his family and many friends.

SOUNDS WARNING — In the course of his address at Rotary this week Dr. J.A. Brace said there was a great deal of misunderstanding regarding Russia in some parts of the United Nations. Unless we overcome this and act and plan accordingly Russia will take China and India into her orbit and there will be a realignment of forces with another world-conflict coming up in another twenty-five years or so. Nobody wants that to happen and we must plan now to guard against such a development, he emphasized

SOCIAL GATHERING — On Monday evening, Oct. 25th, the Girl Guides of the 10th Charlottetown Company gathered at the home of Guide Marjorie Weatherbie and pleasantly surprised their captain, Miss Adele King, a popular bride to be, with a shower in her honor. The bride's chair was tastefully decorated for the occasion. A basket filled with many useful gifts was placed before the bride. Miss Babe Connolly opened the presents while Miss Marjorie Weatherbie read the verses. Miss King then thanked the guides for their kind and thoughtful remembrance. An amateur hour was then undertaken by the guides at which tap dancing by Lorraine Weatherbie and the Highland Fling by Nancy Pound also songs were enjoyed by the other guides. At the close of the evening a very dainty lunch was served by Mrs. John Weatherbie, Mrs. Wm. Weatherbie and Miss Mae Doyle. The happy evening closed by singing "When You Come to The End of a Girl Guide Day" and "Taps."
