FIVE YEARS

On the May-day of 1898 Admiral Dewey steamed into Manila Bay over the mine fields of Cavite and wiped out the naval power of Spain in Asiatic waters. For five years the United States has had on its hands the fate and the fortunes of the people which these men relieved of Spanish domination. Spain had claimed these islands for 300 years and the only result of its so-called sovereignty was resistance and rebellion. The Filipinos had fought for independence all this time and when the United States drove out the Spaniards they thought the dream of centuries had come.

What has been done in those five years for the realization of this dream of the Filipinos? The rule of a republic has been substituted for the rule of a monarchy. That is all. The Filipinos whom Dewey made his allies in driving out the Spaniards are today "ladrones," outlaws. The Filipino republic no longer exists. The islanders have been given an alien and incongruous system of government, with the assurance that it is better than the system which they have evolved, and the United States has made a desert of much of their populous and productive country. Is this a record of civilization or of barbarism? Is the period of five years in which the United States has held possession of the Philippines to be counted as the advance or the retrograde of the human race?

SOME RESULTS OF IMPURE BLOOD.

A blotched, pimply, disfigured face feeding of exhaustion, wracked nerves, headache and a dull brain. The proper cure is one Ferrozone Tablet after each meal. Ferrozone clears and beautifies the complexion by making rich, pure blood. It restores the enfeebled brain and unstrung nerves to a healthy vigorous condition. It invigorates all the physical and mental powers, and brings strength and ambition to the depressed. Refuse a substitute for Ferrozone—it's the best tonic rebuilder and invigorator known. Price 50c., at Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE TOUR ENDED.

The tour of King Edward to Portugal, Italy and France will long be remembered. He was greeted everywhere cordially, indeed, authusiastically, accentuating old friendships and making friends out of former, well, let us say, adverse critics. If we compare the past few days with only a short time ago, there has been indeed a change come o'er the spirit of the scene, especially with respect to France. However many have been of the opinion that the extreme talk against England even in Paris was very largely confined to the "hobo" larrigin or hooligan element, a very few of which can make a most alarming seeming noise. Even during the Fashoda incident, the conduct of Mr. Delcasse, the Foreign Minister, and other members of the French Cabinet of that time was most correct, and we now see, as we then believed, that they had the great heart of France beating in sympathy with them. As Prince of Wales, the King was always popular in France, but his present visit was notable for the fact that he is the first English sovereign who, as sovereign or officially, has personally visited the Republic. The Queen used to visit France periodically during the latter years of her life, but it was always incognita, and our histories tell us how stubborn were the Georges in opposition to the first republic and in their efforts to replace the Bourbons on the throne. Now, however, the republic is stable, and after thirty odd years, seems fully able to cope with the enemies within her own gates. It is good for both Great Britain and France that they shall be fast friends and, so far as they have made this friendship possible and probable, King Edward and President Loubet deserve the thanks of all who see in the world's peace the highest earthly good.—Witness.
