Charged With Possessing Beer While In Jail

Evidence was given for the prosecution before Magistrate W. E. Darby, K. C. in Summerside on Saturday morning in the case of Clarence Cahill, Summerside charged with having beer in his possession. At the time of the alleged offence Cahill was a prisoner in the Prince County Jail. R. S. Hinton was the prosecution counsel and W. Henry Noonan represented the accused. At the request of the defence the case was adjourned till this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

Constable Phillip Carter, R. C. M. P., testified that he was in the R. C. M. P. office on the second floor of the law courts building on the evening of March 17, that he heard "loud talking and cursing" from the lower floor. Shortly after Gothard Baker, the jailor came up and requested assistance. Witness went down and saw accused outside the main door on the steps. Witness went outside and talked with him and persuaded him to go inside. On going in witness said he noticed fumes of alcohol from the accused. Constable Curtin arrived at that time and then witness told the jailor that they would search the prisoner's cell. They proceeded to the jail and in the kitchen, where the prisoner was sleeping witness found four bottles of liquid under the bed. Witness gave his opinion that the prisoner was semi-intoxicated at that time. He became violent and swung a broom knocking some pots off the stove.

Constable F. C. Curtin, R. C. M. P. told of being on the third floor of the building on the night in question and of hearing cursing and swearing down stairs. He went down and saw Const. Carter and the prisoner coming in from outside. Witness proceeded down stairs with them and in the kitchen he found two bottles of liquid, one in a wash tub and one behind the door. The prisoner was excited and violent, and had been drinking as he could smell it. The prisoner was then put in a solitary cell. Witness identified six bottles presented in court as the ones seized. He was cross examined by Mr. Noonan on this point.

Const. D. Trenouth, R. C. M. P., said that on March 17 he was temporarily in charge of the detachment and on arriving at the office about 9 o'clock in the evening, Const. Curtin turned over to him six bottles containing a brownish liquid. A sample from one of these bottles was prepared and sent to Ottawa for analysis. Witness read from a document received in reply saying that the sample had an alcoholic content of 21.9 percent proof spirit.

Gothard Baker, jailor said he recalled the evening of March 17. Cahill was the only prisoner in the jail on that date.

Cross examined by Mr. Noonan he said it was the practice to take prisoners out to work in any part of the building. On the day in question he found the prisoner to be intoxicated in the afternoon and witness had intended to tell the assistant jailor not to take the prisoner up when he came on duty. However he did not see the assistant in time to warn him and he had taken the prisoner up before he realized he was intoxicated. Witness said the prisoner was ordinarily well behaved. He explained that the kitchen was more comfortable than the cells and prisoners were sometimes allowed to stay there—S.

ARCHBISHOP

this, the eve of his departure from their midst.

As previously announced, His Excellency will be installed on April 25 in St. Mary's Cathedral as Archbishop of Kingston. The consecration of the new Bishop of Charlottetown, the Most Rev. James Boyle, of Sydney, N.S., will take place in St. Dunstan's Basilica on June 6.

ADDRESS TO ARCHBISHOP

Following is the text of the address presented last night to Archbishop O'Sullivan:

"To His Excellency the Most Rev. "Joseph A. O'Sullivan, D. D., "Archbishop of Kingston.

"May it please Your Excellency:

"Thirteen years have now elapsed since we had the distinct honour of welcoming you as our Bishop and although you came to us unheralded you already had had a distinguished priestly career.

"At the early age of thirty-five you had so deserved the confidence of your Ordinary that he appointed you his Chancellor, in which office, due to Bishop Dowling's failing health, you virtually became the administrator of his diocese. Your high qualities of heart and soul did not fail to attract the attention of the Holy Father, who soon thereafter honoured you with the title of Domestic Prelate.

"The year 1925 saw you installed as President of St. Augustine's Seminary as successor to the Most Reverend J. T. Kidd, who had lately been consecrated Bishop of Calgary, and in February, 1931. His Holiness elevated you to the See of Charlottetown.

"But your progress along the road of preferment was not at an end and in further recognition of your religious zeal and outstanding abilities the Holy See has now exalted you to the high rank of Archbishop.

"The knowledge and experience acquired in the administration of the Diocese of Hamilton, coupled with that gained as President of St. Augustine's Seminary, has served you well and was exercised by you to the marked advantage of your own diocese, and of your parish in Charlottetown.

"The cause of education, which you always have had at heart, was to a high degree here, promoted by your Excellency. The schools, the convents and St. Dunstan's University responded to the interest you manifested in their work and, aided by your counsel, advice and direction, have attained a high standing among our educational institutions. St. Dunstan's University, of which you have been the worthy Chancellor, under your guiding hand, has continued and accelerated its pace in the realm of religious, classical, scientific and philosophical learning.

"May we recall also, your unremitting solicitude for the welfare of the poor, the sick, the aged and the orphans, as evidenced by your paternal concern in the Hospital, the Sacred Heart Home, and St. Vincent's Orphanage; and in this connection it is opportune that we pay tribute to the devoted Sisters of St. Martha who under your guidance have rendered such signal service in the care and nursing of the indigent and the afflicted of the City and that, altogether apart from their outstanding operation of the Hospital and other charitable institutions.

"Within the ambit of the spiritual you will, we hope, look back with no small degree of satisfaction to the splendid work which, under Your Excellency and under the spiritual directors of the Holy Name Society throughout the diocese, has been accomplished in the thirteen years of your Episcopate. The greater appreciation of the spiritual value of monthly confession and Holy Communion that we have acquired during these years has been, in no small measure, due to your constant and timely words of instruction and encouragement and to the edification you have given by your presence, when at all possible, at our Holy Name Mass.

"In the realm of the material, you leave the diocese and this Parish in a much better financial condition than that in which you found it, and your general supervision over all the parishes is evidenced by your Diocesan Year Book which has been conceded, by those competent to judge, as establishing a model worthy of being followed.

"We are now here assembled to offer you our sincere felicitations on your well meritel promotion to the Archdiocese of Kingston and to bid you a fond farewell. Much as we regret your departure from our midst to a wider field of pastoral care, it affords us a degree of pride that our Bishop has been the one chosen to receive this high distinction.

"Your stay amongst us has marked in the ecclesiastical history of this Province another milestone on which your name will be engraved in large letters.

"In conclusion permit us to express to Your Excellency our heartfelt gratitude for all that you have done for us and for the blessings you have brought to this parish. As a small token of our deep appreciation we beg you to accept this gift which accompanies our prayers that Divine Providence may long preserve and keep you to continue your labors in the Lord's Vineyard. We now conclude by humbly asking that you impart to us your Episcopal blessing."

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, Justice A. E. Arsenault, Dr. F. C. Dougan, A. R. MacInnis, In behalf of the Parishioners of St. Dunstan's Basilica Parish.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

The Easter services in St. Paul's Anglican Church yesterday were as follows: At 7 o'clock and 8.15 a. m. there were Communion services and the Rector, the Rev. A. LeDrew Gardner was the celebrant at the former assisted by rural dean Sydney J. Davis of Milton parish. At the latter service the rural dean acted as celebrant, assisted by the rector.

At 11 a.m. Holy Communion was again observed, following the sermon, at which service the Rector was in charge as celebrant and speaker.

At 2.30 a Carol Service for the Sunday School children was held.

At 7 o'clock a special Easter Carol service was held at which the rector Mr. Gardner read the Gospel selections.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the Easter morning service of worship the sermon by the Rev. Ronald Noble was "The Triumph of Easter". In the gospel of Saint John there is the revealing story of Mary Magdalene who sees the Master and knows him not. That is the tragedy, we do not see him as he is. Donald Hankey, referring to his comrades in arms said "they certainly did believe in unselfishness, generosity, charity and humility. But is doubtful whether they ever connected these qualities with the profession and practise of Christianity." Christianity is the explanation, the justification, the triumph of what we believe of the resurrection. Easter brought a triumph personal to our Lord. It brought triumph to his disciples who after three years of loving service seemed to have lost their wondrous dream, they had been weak and fearing. Then came Easter morn, despair and cowardice shame and hopelessness are gone forevermore. In the message of Easter those who live in a redemptive way may not escape the cross but theirs is the crown. Easter marks for us the Son of God with power, the Christ who ought to live on does live on forever. Easter is the endorsement of Jesus' way of life God is not mocked, by the cross he calls us to find the truth and the truth shall make us free. Easter explains, Easter justifies, Easter triumphs. The Easter anthems were Voris' "Christ the Lord is Risen Again" and the traditional "Now Let the Heavens be Joyful."

The Church School met in Bible Study session at 2.30 P. M. The service of evening worship was held at 7 P. M., with sermon by the Rev. Ronald Noble "If Christ Be not Risen." The traditional "Tis the Spring of Souls To-day" and Thatcher's "Come Ye Faithful" were the evening anthems. The flowers on the Communion Table were placed in memory of the late J. E. Sterns.

The Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed at the close of the evening service. John Inch Music Bac., organist and choirmaster conducted the music at all services.

On Easter Sunday morning the congregation taxing the capacity of the Church was present. The front of the Church was beautifully decorated with Easter Lillies and cut flowers by the Kings Daughters and there was a special vase on either side of the pulpit, one in memory of the late Mrs. C. Alex Brown and the other in memory of the late Mr. Leigh Warren. The Choir rendered at the morning service the anthem "Blessed Be The God And Father with Miss Margaret Sterns taking the Solo part. The Minister preached on the subject "The resurrection as a Beginning in the Christian Church," after which a very large number participated at the Sacrament of the Lords Supper.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son Leading Stoker Robert McKay who lost his life 4 years ago April 10th, 1940 on H.M.S. Hunter at Narvik.

We little knew when he left home
he never would return.
But this is new. So shocking,
dreadful and strange
To lose my lad and realize no change no limbs to stretch, no
tender face to love
No gift of loving tears beside his grave
I only know from what his Official's said
Who spared the time to tell me he was dead.
That on a torpedoed destroyer he gave his life
And that he played a gallant sailor's part in strife.

Lovingly remembered by his brother David in British Navy, Matt, Billy, sisters and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duncan, Spring Park Road.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear nephew Stoker Robert McKay who lost his life April 10th, 1940 in the battle of Narvik on the H. M. S. Hunter.

Gallant and young he donned the blue
True as the truest that wore it.
Brave as the bravest he went away
Tears on the cheeks of his aunt lay,
Bravely aloft waved our flag one day,
He sank in the sea before it.
A grave in the heart of his Aunt
His grave is the one lies lifeless and lone,
There's not a name, there's not a stone
And only the voice of the winds maketh a moan.
O'er the grave where never a flower is strewn
But his memory lives in the others.

Inserted by his Aunt, Mrs. Alex Rhynes, West Royalty.

THE KIRK PULPIT

Preaching in The Kirk last evening on the text "Death is swallowed up in victory' (1 Corinthians 15:54) the Minister, the Rev'd T. H. Bussell Somers, said: Think how it thrilled the first disciples to know that from the mortal conflict in which he had faced the full weight of the onslaught of the powers of darkness their Divine Redeemer had emerged triumphant, and that the measure of His victory was that death itself, the last enemy of man had had to submit! The glory of that victory chased away the dread of the unknown and carried them through martyrdom with songs upon their lips. The valley of the shadow had lost its terrors and the grave its gloom for Christ had conquered there. Death, they said, had met its match on the day when Jesus had looked into its grim visage. It had been vanquished all along the line. Mortality had been swallowed up of life.

We who are sons of the Resurrection have been liberated forever from the bondage of the ultimate fear. We who believe in the risen Redeemer have passed beyond the reach of all harrowing dismay. We have received a Kingdom which cannot be shaken. The darkest mystery has been lit up by a gleam of glory from another world and from behind the clouds of our mortality there has broken forth the light of heaven.

We who are children of the light walk in it with gladness, singing the songs of that City of God towards which we travel, and rejoicing in the magnificent, impregnable conviction that Christ's victory is the earnest of the victory of His brethren. And when the last mile comes, we shall find that it is no unshepherded way. For the power which raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory shall resurrect us also, when the last darkness falls to the breaking of eternal day.
