Frenchmen Are All Working

PARIS, France, July 16.—There is no unemployment here. In all France there are now less than 1,000 men without work. The Government proposes to increase production by giving financial assistance to various industries. In the near future it proposes to spend more than $500,000 on new equipment. Tariff barriers against American cars are increasing their production every day.

ADVERSE WINDS HOLDING UP THE R-100

Handling Parties In Readiness To Remove Giant Dirigible From Her Shed At Cardington.

(Special to The Guardian)
CARDINGTON, England, July 16.—Adverse winds are still preventing the removal of the giant airship R-100 from the shed at Cardington in order to prepare for the flight to Montreal. Handling parties were ordered in readiness every morning this week, but the orders for today were cancelled last night owing to a forecast of unfavorable weather. It is believed there will be little chance in removing the ship from the shed before next Saturday.

OPENING OF MURDER TRIAL AT GEORGETOWN

Chester Anti On Trial For The Murder Of Antonio Roderiques, Boatswain Of The Steamer "Winding Gulf"—Prisoner Seemed Quite Calm As He Listened To Various Witnesses.

(By Our Own Staff Reporter)
GEORGETOWN, July 16.—The trial of Chester Anti charged with the murder of Antonio Roderiques at Georgetown on the American steamer "Winding Gulf" on May 22 last, began this morning before Chief Justice Mathieson and Mr. Justice Saunders. After the jury was empanelled, the prosecution called seven witnesses, Captain Frank Johnson, Dr. R. F. Seaman, Dr. Keeping, Kenneth MacDonald, Mrs. Myrtle Jenkins, Messrs Reginald Batchelder and William McLeod.

PRISONER SEEMS PERPLEXED

Anti's appearance seemed but little changed since the time of the preliminary hearing almost two months ago. He was perhaps a little thinner, but was otherwise much the same, his face retaining its heavy coat of tan. As he sat in the box he seemed quite calm, but at times wore a perplexed frown.

ADDRESSES JURY

In addressing the jury, the Attorney General reviewed the circumstances of the case. On board the ship "Winding Gulf" in Georgetown Harbor on May 22 were Antonio Roderiques, the boatswain; Chester Anti, fireman prisoner; and Fritz Possett. A quarrel arose over some paint between Roderiques and the latter two. Words were exchanged which threatened to become blows; a tussle ensued on the wharf, resulting in the prisoner running away. It will be brought out that the prisoners went up town and after several enquiries, secured a revolver from Mrs. Stewart of Georgetown. They returned to the ship, were accosted by Kenny McDonald, the steward, and went forward to the forecastle head an isolated place from the view point of sight, and of sound. The Spaniard was found there unconscious with a deep wound in his head. The injured man was removed to the Prince Edward Island Hospital where it was found that the wound extended almost through to the front of the skull. About six o'clock that evening the Spaniard died. Meanwhile on the ship the two men Anti and Possett were identified as the men seen going forward by the Steward.

FIRST WITNESS

Captain Frank Johnston of the Winding Gulf, sworn, testified that the Boatswain was in immediate

Record By Liberal Party On Maritime Rights Policy

The Liberals Oppose Maritime Rights And Are Still Reluctant To Implement In Full The Recommendations Of The Duncan Report.

Col. E. C. Phinney, Halifax, who was chief counsel for Nova Scotia in presenting its case before the Duncan Commission recently gave a radio address on the subject which has been published in the Halifax Herald. This address shows conclusively that the Liberals, both local and Dominion, were absolutely opposed to the claims of the Maritimes, and that even up till the present no action has been taken to implement ten of the Duncan report recommendations.

LIBERAL ATTITUDE

After outlining the steps leading up to the launching and carrying out of the Maritime Rights campaign which resulted in the appointment of the Duncan Commission, Mr. Phinney said: Following Mr. Black's election in 1923 on a platform of Maritime Rights, the Halifax Chronicle launched out in an editorial attack upon the people of this constituency and this is what it said on that occasion:

"The country for no stated or conceivable reason, ranges itself for the time being in the ranks of the politically MENTALLY DEFECTIVE, and can only expect to be laughed at until RESTORED TO SANITY."

THEIR SUPPORT

In February, 1925, The Halifax Chronicle carried the following editorial: "Maritime Rights, Maritime Rights, has been repeated and reiterated until the more FEEBLE-MINDED of those who have fallen asleep under its reiteration are ready to climb telegraph poles and the bidding of the hypnotist and pick imaginary rights from the imaginary green boughs at the tops of the poles; to throw down 'Maritime Rights' by the basketful if told that they are what the hypnotist wants."

QUARTERLY TEMPERANCE MEETING

Grand Division Session At Georgetown July 8th.

Strong resolutions calling upon the Government to investigate and take action with respect to the illicit selling and drinking of lemon extract in Prince Edward Island, and upon the Excise officers "to do much more than they seem to be doing" to check the large amount of liquor that is being manufactured at home or smuggled into the Province, were passed at the quarterly meeting of the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance of Prince Edward Island, which met in quarterly session on July 8th at Georgetown.

The resolutions call the attention of the Federal Government to these matters and urge them to see "that their officers take whatever steps are necessary to have these conditions improved." The weather being excellent, there was a good delegation from the various subordinate divisions throughout the Island. The Grand Worthy Patriarch Bro. G. Emerson Huettis, presided. After the opening ceremony and usual business was dealt with the following new members were initiated as members of the Grand Division: Sister Carolyn Loring from Star of

Western Crops Need Rain Badly

(Special to The Guardian)
LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 16.—Wheat is heading short in the Lethbridge area owing to the intense heat wave gripping the West. Unless heavy general rainfall and cooler weather arrive in the very near future, said reports received from the farming country yesterday that this section which last year reaped a better than average crop, will be distinctly on the side of a short production. Before mid breezes the mercury receded yesterday from the high mark of 94 in which the city sizzled Monday. Summer fallow, especially in fields south easterly of here, are said to be standing up well under the sun baking.

USED CHURCH TO CLOAK SMUGGLING

Former Hungarian Minister In The Toils As Result of Alien Smuggling Into U. S.

(Special to The Guardian)
BRIDGEBURG, July 16.—A Minister of the gospel who employed his position and church to smuggle aliens into the United States is in jail in Buffalo today, facing a term as high as ten years in the Penitentiary. He is Reverend Stephen Csutoros, former Pastor of the Hungarian Presbyterian Church in Welland, who left that place two years ago to assume a new pastorate in Cleveland.

He has already pleaded guilty to two counts of smuggling aliens into the United States over the Peace Bridge. Immigration men claim that he has brought in a score whom they are unable to locate, but have apprehended two, Alex Marko, taken in Sept. 17, 1927, and Joseph Daraby, who entered on June 16, 1928. Csutoros, operated in a unique manner. He would write the Dean of a theological college in New Jersey, stating that he had a student for entry. He would ask the Dean to send a written letter of approval to the immigration officials and the supposed student would be eligible to enter under Non-quota Laws, covering students. Once in the United States the alien would vanish. Immigration men say that the Pastor cleaned up on his operations. His prices ranged from $500 upward, whereas the usual fee charged is from $100 to $200 a head.

QUEBEC, Que., July 16.—The Hon Joseph Edouard Caron, former Minister of Agriculture and Vice-president of the Quebec Liquor Commission, died early this evening at a local hospital.

Pledged 100 Percent

The local Liberal organ asks: "Where does Hon. R. B. Bennett stand on the subsidy question?" The answer is easy. Mr. Bennett stands for 100 per cent implementation of ALL the recommendations of the Duncan Commission, including the recommendation for "immediate consideration" of the whole question of subsidy readjustment which the King Government has ignored for four years. The following resolution, appearing as the first plank in the Conservative Platform, was endorsed unanimously at the great National Conservative Convention, at Winnipeg, October, 1927, upon which platform Hon. R. B. Bennett and his Party stand unalterably: "WHEREAS the Duncan Commission, created by the Dominion Government, was given wide powers for the purpose of investigating the grievances of the Maritime Provinces of Canada, and which Commission as a result of such investigation made certain recommendations, MANY OF WHICH HAVE NOT BEEN IMPLEMENTED BY NECESSARY LEGISLATION: "BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that this National Convention of the Conservative Party approve and PLEDGE itself when returned to power TO THE ENACTMENT OF ALL SUCH LEGISLATION AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO FULLY IMPLEMENT EACH AND EVERY RECOMMENDATION MADE BY THE SAID COMMISSION."
