Hitler's Hate Weapons Not Yet Exhausted

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)— Adolf Hitler may be on the verge of committing his greatest blunder of the war, through the use of hate weapons.

They are coming on the scene at least two years too late in this war by using them. Hitler possibly is making the absolute submission of Germany a matter of utmost necessity.

No one in the European theatre believes neutral reports, mostly from Sweden, that the Nazis are ready for use their long range rockets, V-2—with which it is said New York as well as European cities can be bombarded.

The rocket weapon, fired from the ground or airplane, today is not the state of development which the airplane had reached in the First Great War. It can hit hard point which has not been developed to point where it could with a war, but every appearance Germany will be crushed before such development can take place.

And three lies the possibility of Hitler's most enormous error: With it in prospect as the great weapon of a third world war, no single country nor group of nations could easily if Germany were free to continue its development.

Secretary of State for Air, warned that the United Kingdom was prepared to meet new German weapons which "will be militarily less futile than the flying bombs."

High an executive does not talk on such a subject.

Uruguay Favors Recognizing League

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)— Uruguay today urged that the League of Nations be reorganized to handle post-war world security.

The Uruguayan plan, voicing the first official criticism of Dumbarton Oaks by a small nation, projected the idea that "perhaps it would be advantageous to keep the already established League, but urged, if a new security organization is established, that guarantees for small states be incorporated."

The Uruguayan views were presented by Ambassador Juan Carlos Blanes this afternoon at the third meeting of Latin American Ambassadors with acting secretary of State Stettinius to discuss the Dumbarton Oaks peace plan.

London Paper Glad U. S. Election Over

LONDON, Nov. 8 (Wednesday) (AP)— A leading editorial in the London Daily Mirror today intimated the American presidential election was responsible for the "temporary interruption" of the war on the western front.

"A campaign conducted with vigor characteristic of our friends in the U. S. A. was bound to cause a temporary interruption of that complete concentration of thought and effort which all this great world struggle demands from all its participants," said the paper, adding:

"People in this country will have a sigh of relief. As this minor war comes to an end we can turn once more to the major one."

NOTABLE WAR RECORD

SASKATOON, Nov. 8 (CP)— Chief Joe Dreaver of the Mistawasis Indian reserve in Saskatchewan, is one person who knows the meaning of war.

This day was declared Chief Dreaver arrived in Saskatoon with all the boys of military age in the reserve. There were 14 of them, among them his three sons. All enlisted in the Canadian Army.

The years that followed saw the little group scattered but on Oct. 6 it suffered its first death. Sgt. Harvey Dreaver was killed in Italy, vice in honor of his son.

ICE RELIEF FOR REFUGEES

The bills on the amount of ice which may be used for keeping of railroads has been removed, the Price Board announced today. The bill, which was introduced by the House on Oct. 23rd, was passed last August when it was in short supply of some food products. California oranges, for instance, had about fifteen days in transit and difficulty was experienced in recent weeks in getting them here in good condition.

Senator Corrects Misstatement Of McNaughton

MONTRÉAL, Nov. 7 (CP)— Senator C.C. Balthazart, Progressive Conservative leader in the Senate, said in a statement today that Defence Minister McNaughton was "totally incorrect" in saying that the United States had failed in the First Great War.

"The general must know that recruiting completely dried up in the last year toward the end of 18 and the beginning of '17," said Senator Balthazart, who was Minister of Marine, Fisheries and Naval Affairs in the Union Government of Sir Robert Borden in 1917.

"The government of Sir Robert Borden was faced with a situation similar to what exists today—either impose conscription or desert and impose our own brave lads overseas."

Conscription was not a failure by any means. Thousands were sent over and our army corps, 80,000 strong under General Currie, and all other units were kept fully up to strength until the last shot was fired."

Japs Change Generals In Philippines

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 7 (AP)— Indicating concern over American operations in the Philippines, the Japanese War Lords have switched Generals for that area.

Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, Japan's victorious general at Singapore and Corregidor, will fight in the Philippines, having been transferred from Malaya to serve as commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in the Philippines, Tokyo radio said today.

Yamashita, whose change of command was announced in a broadcast recorded in the United States by the Federal Communications Commission, apparently succeeds Lt.-Gen. Shigenori Kuroda in the Philippines.

Look For Bigger Canada-U. K. Trade

LONDON, Nov. 8 (CP Cable)— Hugh Dalton, President of the Board of Trade, said today war requirements must come first and there was little possibility of expanding trade at present but added he had "no doubt at all" that trade between Canada and the United Kingdom would be one of the most important channels for expansion after the war.

Speaking at a Canadian Chamber of Commerce luncheon, Mr. Dalton said between 1932 and 1937 imports from Canada increased from 43,000,000 pounds (about $125,000,000) to 80,000,000 pounds (about $200,000,000), while exports to Canada increased from 18,000,000 pounds to 27,000,000 pounds. "I sincerely hope the end of the war will see a further very considerable expansion in trade between our countries," he added.

Confirm Rumors Lt.-Gen. Stuart To Be Retired

OTTAWA, Nov. 8 (CP)— Announcement today of the pending retirement of Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, 46, Ottawa, chief of staff at Canadian military headquarters, London, confirmed a report, prevalent since last week's cabinet crisis which saw Gen. McNaughton succeed Col. J.L. Ralston as Defence Minister.

Reports after the crisis on reinforcements indicated there would be more than one change in the high command.

The brief announcement, made by Gen. McNaughton, contained no reference, however, to a successor and merely said that Maj.-Gen. Price J. Montague, Winnipeg, general officer in charge of administration, C.M.H.Q., would continue to hold his present post.

Previous reports were that both Gen. Stuart and Gen. Montague would resign. Gen. Stuart accompanied Col. Ralston back to Canada recently and it was understood his trip was for the purpose of supporting Col. Ralston's views on conscription if the General's advice was sought.

Reference to Gen. Montague might be designed, it was believed, to spike persistent reports that he was to succeed Gen. Stuart as commander-in-chief of the Canadian Army. While it was indicated he might assume Gen. Stuart's responsibilities, a military spokesman pointed out he had reached the age of 62—retirement age for an overseas post.

Gen. Stuart accompanied Col. Ralston to Britain last December and remained there as C.M.H.Q. liaison officer in the British command when Gen. McNaughton went on leave of absence. It was to Gen. Montague that Lt. Gen. Stuart addressed his letter that signalled his retirement from active field command.

Early Meeting Of Big Three Is Anticipated

By M. HIGHTOWER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)— President Roosevelt's re-election makes it virtually certain that he will hold an early meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

Turning on key questions of post-war co-operation, the conference will largely shape the course of Mr. Roosevelt's fourth-term foreign policy.

The proposed second session of the Big Three, a year after their first gathering at Tehran, becomes possible now because the outcome of Thursday's voting has restored to diplomacy the stability lost during hectic campaign weeks. When foreign governments did not know whether they would have to reckon with Mr. Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey during the weeks ahead.

Consequently diplomatic authorities here now expect an acceleration in international affairs beginning with the projected big-three session, which some officials hope may even be held this month.

Asked by a Toronto newspaperman to say whether he expected the session to be held in London, he said: "I have always been a Catholic and will die a Catholic," charged that the group's present method is to try to convince Protestants of their sincerity—and when they become powerful enough they fully intend to kick all Protestants out of Quebec.

He said this group was responsible for his removal as chairman of the Quebec Hydro board and for cancellation two weeks ago of his hotel licence. He said this would cost him $35,000 a year.

He said the head of the Jacques Cartier order—who he did not name—is to make a tour of western Canada. There everything possible will be done to convince the people that Quebec, the order and the Catholic Church are not responsible for any ill-feeling between Quebec and the rest of Canada.

Asked by a Toronto newspaperman (Telegram) reporter about the possibility of civil war in Quebec, he said: "The situation is bad and I hope it with much concern. I only hope it becomes better."

Senator Bouchard Speaks On Quebec

TORONTO, Nov. 8 (CP)— Sen. T.D. Bouchard who created a sensation by charging last June in the Senate that the Jacques Cartier order in Quebec was plotting to set up an independent French state, today said in an interview that a section of the Roman Catholic Church is planning to oust all Protestants from Quebec.

The St. Hyacinthe Senator, who says "I have always been a Catholic and will die a Catholic," charged that the group's present method is to try to convince Protestants of their sincerity—and when they become powerful enough they fully intend to kick all Protestants out of Quebec.

"I sincerely hope the end of the war will see a further very considerable expansion in trade between our countries," he added.

Early Meeting Of Big Three Is Anticipated

By M. HIGHTOWER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)— President Roosevelt's re-election makes it virtually certain that he will hold an early meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

Turning on key questions of post-war co-operation, the conference will largely shape the course of Mr. Roosevelt's fourth-term foreign policy.

The proposed second session of the Big Three, a year after their first gathering at Tehran, becomes possible now because the outcome of Thursday's voting has restored to diplomacy the stability lost during hectic campaign weeks. When foreign governments did not know whether they would have to reckon with Mr. Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey during the weeks ahead.

Consequently diplomatic authorities here now expect an acceleration in international affairs beginning with the projected big-three session, which some officials hope may even be held this month.

Asked by a Toronto newspaperman to say whether he expected the session to be held in London, he said: "I have always been a Catholic and will die a Catholic," charged that the group's present method is to try to convince Protestants of their sincerity—and when they become powerful enough they fully intend to kick all Protestants out of Quebec.

He said this group was responsible for his removal as chairman of the Quebec Hydro board and for cancellation two weeks ago of his hotel licence. He said this would cost him $35,000 a year.

He said the head of the Jacques Cartier order—who he did not name—is to make a tour of western Canada. There everything possible will be done to convince the people that Quebec, the order and the Catholic Church are not responsible for any ill-feeling between Quebec and the rest of Canada.

Asked by a Toronto newspaperman (Telegram) reporter about the possibility of civil war in Quebec, he said: "The situation is bad and I hope it with much concern. I only hope it becomes better."

ICE RELIEF FOR REFUGEES

The bills on the amount of ice which may be used for keeping of railroads has been removed, the Price Board announced today. The bill, which was introduced by the House on Oct. 23rd, was passed last August when it was in short supply of some food products. California oranges, for instance, had about fifteen days in transit and difficulty was experienced in recent weeks in getting them here in good condition.

Senator Corrects Misstatement Of McNaughton

MONTRÉAL, Nov. 7 (CP)— Senator C.C. Balthazart, Progressive Conservative leader in the Senate, said in a statement today that Defence Minister McNaughton was "totally incorrect" in saying that the United States had failed in the First Great War.

"The general must know that recruiting completely dried up in the last year toward the end of 18 and the beginning of '17," said Senator Balthazart, who was Minister of Marine, Fisheries and Naval Affairs in the Union Government of Sir Robert Borden in 1917.

"The government of Sir Robert Borden was faced with a situation similar to what exists today—either impose conscription or desert and impose our own brave lads overseas."

Conscription was not a failure by any means. Thousands were sent over and our army corps, 80,000 strong under General Currie, and all other units were kept fully up to strength until the last shot was fired."
