

SO MANY PEOPLE ARE NERVOUS

'Fruit-a-tives' the Greatest of all Nerve Remedies

This Fruit Medicine Restores Health. The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the reaction following the war.

The nerves and the blood are so intimately, so vitally, connected that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify and enrich the blood. This, 'FRUIT-A-TIVES' will do.

'FRUIT-A-TIVES' stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. 'Fruit-a-tives' improves appetite and digestion and insures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves.

Men and women who take 'Fruit-a-tives' for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvellous in its action.

Ironing by Wholesale

Ironing, the last process to which the clothing of a working girl is subjected, was formerly done in one great factory by many girls, who stood up to old-fashioned ironing boards. The girls have now been replaced, however, by a broad mangle or rotary press which delivers ironed stockings in a continuous stream.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WHY IS HE 'PRINCE CHARMING'?

Why do women love the Prince of Wales so much? Of their affection for him there is no doubt whatever—its strength is one of the things that makes the agitator "despair" of England. Thousands of women who have never seen the Prince except in a photograph, have never come into personal contact with him, and whose loyalty to the Throne is purely academic and has never been tested, followed his journeyings through the East with intense anxiety, and breathed a sigh of relief when he arrived home.

The Prince makes his appeal as much by what he is not as by what he is. To the politician and the statesman "Britain's best diplomat," who binds the Empire closer together, he is an asset!

Women do not care so much about his value to the Empire. To them he has a twofold appeal—the appeal to romance and the appeal to their maternal instinct.

When you mention the Prince of Wales what kind of picture comes into your mind? Is it of the Prince on a platform making a speech? Not if you are a woman. You think of him looking up, with a glint of mischief in his eye and a cigarette in a long holder between his teeth when some cheeky boy, as he signed an autograph book, called out, "Signing the pledge, Bo? Or you think of his riding, recklessly and happily, in a point-to-point meeting, or dancing until four in the morning.

Or else you think of him a little sorrowfully because you have caught him at a moment when he has been a Prince instead of just a human boy, and was wearing his dignity and his responsibility just a little pathetically. There are times when he adgets with his tie—you'll have seen him on the film—and you know he is bored and trying hard not to show it; there are times when, in all the brave finery of one of his many uniforms, he is receiving great men as a representative of the King and Emperor of the British Empire with a settled gravity on his face and a little droop of his shoulders—and you want, if you are a woman, to take him out of coming Kingship from him and bid him live and love and be happy in the simple human way that he loves best.

Supreme Court At Georgetown

The July term of the Supreme Court closed at Georgetown Thursday.

There were no criminal cases on the docket and only one prisoner in the Kings' County jail.

On motion of Mr. J. D. Stewart, K. C., an order was made for the examination of David Laird Mathieson, son of the Chief Justice to study law in the office of Mr. Stewart, and a like order was made for the examination of Reginald Richard Bell to study law in the office of Mr. George S. Inman, K. C.

The court docket consisted of two absent debtor cases, one non-jury case, and three jury cases.

The non-jury case was that of Bruce Stewart & Co., Ltd., vs. R. H. Stems. As this case involved hundreds of items of account it was referred to an arbitrator to take the account, Gaudet, K. C. for plaintiff, and Martin K. C. for defendant.

The jury cases were as follows: Rattenbury vs. Farquharson. By agreement this case was put off to the next February Term of the Court.

Inman, K. C., for Plaintiff. Johnson, K. C., for Defendant. Landrigan vs. McGee. This was an action of slander. The jury brought in a verdict of one hundred and fifty dollars damages for the plaintiff.

Stewart, K. C., and Inman K. C. for plaintiff. Donald McKinnon and Martin, K. C., for defendant.

Kneen vs. Mellish. Action of trespass to land. This case had previously been tried and a verdict found for defendant. Afterwards a new trial had been granted.

McNeill and Bentley K. C., for plaintiff, and Johnson, K. C., for defendant.

In this case the parties with their attorneys and surveyor went to the lands in dispute and arranged a settlement of the case out of court.

Court adjourned sine die.

L. O. L. Church Parade

The officers and members of King William L. O. L. held their annual church parade on Sunday afternoon, July 16th, to the Kingston Methodist church, where an open air service was held beneath the maple grove.

The brethren attended in full regalia and the parade, which was an exceptionally large one and of which a large number of members from sister lodges took part, was capably marshalled by R. W. Bro. Storey of Boyne Lodge.

The sermon for the occasion which was a most eloquent and powerful one, was preached by Bro. Rev. Dr. Geuge of the Central Christian church at Charlottetown. In his address the speaker dwelt for some length on the principles of the Loyal Orange Association as having for its foundation, the word of God.

Special music for the service was rendered by the choir and was very appropriate.

During the service an offering was taken up which amounted to forty three dollars which goes toward the maintenance of the P. E. Island Protestant Orphan age.

The service was then brought to a close with the benediction by Rev. H. Pierce, pastor of the Cornwall circuit, after which the brethren re-formed in procession and marched back to their lodge room.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

At the home of John N. Profit Freetown on the 15th day of July Mr. and Mrs. Sanuc Bernard, Kensington celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day.

On this happy occasion about 130 of their friends and relatives from all parts of the province assembled to do honor to the aged couple who are so young in spirit, and vigorous in body. All too quickly the afternoon passed away, for good cheer and happiness characterized the gathering.

After tea had been served in the shade of a great willow tree, Mr. S. B. Profit on behalf of those assembled read the following address, which Mr. Stanley Bernard presented Mr. Bernard with a gold headed cane, and Mrs. Kenneth Wood presented Mrs. Bernard with a beautiful hand bag.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bernard, Kensington: Your relatives and friends have Assembled on this golden anniversary of your wedding day, so many have exemplified this fact by their presence here today. As citizens you have always stood for the highest and noblest ideals, which ever tend to uplift health and happiness, which has enabled you to take such an active part in the affairs of church and of state. Your amiable qualities of heart and of mind have endeared you to a large number of friends and acquaintances, and little wonder that many have exemplified this fact by their presence here today. As citizens you have always stood for the highest and noblest ideals, which ever tend to uplift health and happiness, which has enabled you to take such an active part in the affairs of church and of state. Your cheerful dispositions have influenced others, enabling them to tread the journey of life more cheerfully. The young as well as the old have found you to be genuine and sympathetic in all their interests. May every success attend the remainder of your happy wedded life, and may Heaven's richest blessings follow your both to the end. Please accept this gift as a slight token of our respect and esteem for you both. Signed, YOUR FRIENDS. To this address Mr. Bernard replied very fittingly, giving evidence of an exceptionally keen mind for his age. This was followed by a number of short speeches by Rev. Mr. Ross and J. F. Profit, which gave further evidence of the love and esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Bernard are held by their many friends. After all had encircled their host and hostess, and sang a few appropriate songs, the delightful celebration was brought to a close, by bouncing the celebrants.

Poor Richard Said "A PENNY saved is a penny earned." In his day, pennies were as large as our quarters. Yet all the pennies in the world wouldn't have taken Poor Richard to a movie, bought him a flivver, or paid his street car fare. The pennies of a hundred years ago were not as big in buying power as those of today. But Poor Richard's advice is still good. And it is no less valuable when applied to dollars instead of cents. Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you earn. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat, house furnishings, garden seeds, tools and what not. There's just one way to save money in making your purchases. Know what you want before you buy. Read the advertisements. They tell you what is new and good. They tell you where and when to buy to best advantage. They help keep you posted on what the stores and manufacturers are offering. Read the advertisements. They save money and earn money for you.
