With the closing of the year nineteen hundred and nineteen the gentle spirit of Miss Flora MacDougall of Blooming Point passed peacefully away at the advanced age of 84 years. Deceased had been confined to her bed with rheumatism for the past four years but otherwise was quite well until within a few weeks previous to her death when it was noticed that she was nearing life's journey's end. All that the most loving and tender care could do failed to stay the hand of death and as the clock chimed the hour that announced the birth of another year her beloved spirit took its flight. Deceased being possessed of rare kindness of heart was loved by all who knew her and will be greatly missed not only by those with whom she lived but by her many friends as well. She was attended in her last illness by her pastor Reverend J. B. McIntyre who also conducted the services at the grave. There are left to mourn one brother, Roderick of Blooming Point, and one sister Mrs. Mary McGillivray of the same place, besides a large number of nieces and nephews who will long cherish her memory. The case of Burns vs. Jardine was still before the Supreme Court on Saturday when the evidence of a number of physicians was taken. The court adjourned to resume at 11 o'clock this morning.

WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding took place in Norwood Methodist Church, Edmonton, Alta on New Year Eve, when Grace E. Macdonald daughter of the late Dr. Wilfred D. Macdonald and niece of Mrs. George Mallett, Charlottetown, became the bride of Mr. Lee Clinton. Rev. W. H. Irwin officiating. Miss Macdonald was given in marriage by her uncle Mr. John Macdonald and wore a dainty gown of white satin with over-dress of georgette crepe embroidered in pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies and carnations. The bride and bridegroom left on the midnight train for Calgary where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Clinton wore a travelling suit of dark green with green velvet and gold lace hat trimmed with rose. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton will reside South of Calgary.

P. W. C. DEBATE.—The weekly meeting of the P. W. C. Debating Society was held on Tuesday, January 20, with the President in the chair. After the reading of the minutes which were duly adopted, Mr. Walter Darley opened the debate, the subject of which was "Resolved that money exerts more influence than Ability." The speakers were: Pro—Walter Darley, Roma Stewart, Norman MacKenzie, Frances Connolly, Con—George Gardner, Ella Brown, Charles Buchanan, Grace Dockendorff, Critic Miss Minnie Smith. The different speakers dealt ably with the matter, showing careful thought and preparation. The addresses of both leaders were especially good. When the vote was taken it resulted in a defeat of the resolution by a large majority. Then after brief addresses from the Critic and the Honorary President, both of whom declared it to be the best debate of the term, the meeting adjourned.

In Saturday's Guardian it was reported there was great indignation among business men over the action of the Bell Government in inaugurating a policy of out-of-the-province purchases for Government supplies. Notwithstanding the explanation of Premier Bell given in the article in question, the business men of both Charlottetown and Summerside are not satisfied. The Guardian is informed that there was no necessity for the Government to send to Montreal for the price of dry-goods, nor was it necessary for the individual members of the Government to be judges of prices and qualities. They have their experts for that purpose, and hitherto at Falconwood Dr. Goodwill and Mrs. Bonnell have acted with the utmost satisfaction in that capacity. Why go past them now, and why employ a member of the legislature to go to Montreal for the purpose?

The Guardian is further informed that the officials at Falconwood did call upon the local merchants for tenders as usual for supplies approximating $5,000, but the member of the legislature in question busied himself in the matter and was empowered to go to Montreal. He there found that he could not buy the goods and supply them to the Government at a price that would compare favourably with the prices quoted by the local merchants and this has placed the Government in a dilemma. Prices have increased at such a rate that it is practically useless for a new man entering the market now with an expectation of being able to compete with merchants who have laid in their stocks months ahead. The consequence of the government's rash adventure to please one of its followers in the legislature, is that it is faced with the prospect of having to pay considerably more for its supplies.

than it would have done had it followed the usual custom of buying at home, and disregarding the advice of one of its followers in the legislature.

In the matter of the flour, also, it is pointed out that the Government would have been better off buying through provincial merchants. It could have ordered its two car loads through the usual channels and taken delivery when required, without having any cost and risk of storage, insurance, etc. Buying through the merchants would not have deprived it of any advantages alleged by Mr. Bell to have been obtained through purchasing abroad, but would have put into the pockets of the merchants—who are the principal revenue producers—the commission which has gone into the pocket of the flour mill representative, who probably pays no provincial tax at all.

The business communities complain that this extraordinary policy of the woul-Govve been better off buying through provincial merchants. It could have ordered its two car loads through the usual channels and taken delivery when required, without having any cost and risk of storage, insurance, etc. Buying through the merchants would not have deprived it of any advantages alleged by Mr. Bell to have been obtained through purchasing abroad, but would have put into the pockets of the merchants—who are the principal revenue producers—the commission which has gone into the pocket of the flour mill representative, who probably pays no provincial tax at all.

The city, especially, is disgraced so far as the Government is concerned, and matters are likely to go from bad to worse so long as this condition of affairs continues. Charlottetown has the right and the necessity of direct representation in the Government; otherwise citizens have no protection against injustice, favoritism and even worse.

Many old friends in Charlottetown will learn with regret of the death of the rector in Yarmouth, N. S., of Rev. R. D. Bambrick, M.A., D.C.L., rector of Holy Trinity Church of that town and a former assistant at St. Peter's Church, this city. He was about 63 years of age. The deceased was taken ill with a severe cold the latter part of last week. On Sunday, although at the time he was seriously ill, he attended, owing to his great devotion to his church duties, all the services of that day. Late that evening his physician was called and it was soon announced that he was ill of pneumonia. From the outset his case became very grave and his physicians were much concerned over his condition. He gradually failed but retained consciousness and conversed with members of his household to the last. In addition to being assistant clergyman at St. Peter's here he was head master of St. Peter's School from 1878 to 1882.

Freeman on January 21st when Miss Roma McLure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Colin McLure, Brackley Point, was united in marriage to Mr. Ivan McLure of Moncton. The bride wore a becoming tailored suit of navy blue serge with black hat trimmed with white osprey and wore black lynx furs the gift of the groom. The happy young couple who leave this morning for Montreal, received many beautiful wedding gifts of linen, cut glass and silver, also a check from the bride's uncle, Mr. Chester McLure. On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. McLure will take up their residence in Moncton. The Guardian joins in congratulations.

Some time ago we were called upon to chronicle the passing away of Anne, the beloved wife of Neil F. MacFadyen of Augustine Cove which event took place on the 3rd day of October 1919. Although she had been afflicted for a number of years she always manifested true Christian faith and patience and through the uplifting power of the indwelling presence of her Saviour, she was enabled to overcome bodily weakness and reach the advanced age of seventy two years. Many years ago she made profession of faith in Christ Jesus, and ever since in her walk and conversation she exemplified the power of a risen Saviour and proved to the beholder that she had been made to sit in Heavenly places. Although at the last she appeared to be unconscious of her surroundings in this world, yet it could be seen that she was continuing to enjoy communion and fellowship with Jesus Christ her Saviour, whom she had so faithfully served during her pilgrimage here below. She was a highly respected and faithful member of the Church of Scotland, and was well versed in the doctrinal teachings of her beloved Church. The funeral services which were largely attended were conducted by her Minister, the Rev. James MacDougall, who also had visited her during her last illness. Interment was made in Cape Traverse Cemetery. She leaves, to mourn, but not without hope, a lonely and disconsolate husband, three sons, Malcolm in Sasatchewan; Donald in Augustine Cove; and Edward at home; two daughters, Mrs. T. W. Bradshaw, Middleton; and Mrs. Dobson at home; two brothers, Donald and Thomas in Pennsylvania, U. S.; and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Baker, Freetown; and Mrs. Joseph Peach, Malden, Mass.

BOARD OF TRADE.—Members of the Summerside Board of Trade gave a supper at Burn's Cafe on Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Keishi Ishino of the Japanese Government who came to P. E. I., to study the fox industry. Hon. A. E. Arsenault presided and served as toastmaster. After a toast to the King he proposed a toast to their guest Mr. Ishino who responded in words of his own language. The Mayor, Mr. J. A. Morrison, then welcomed Mr. Ishino to Summerside. Short addresses were then made by the chairman and other members present.—L.

OFF FOR THE FUR MARKETS.—Mr. Chester McLure leaves this morning on his winter fur selling trip to Montreal, New York and St. Louis. He expects to be away two months. Mr. McLure has practically completed his purchases for the season and his mission to the fur centres is to dispose of his stock which is probably the largest stock of silver fox fur held by any one man in the world. Mr. McLure informs the Guardian that he fur crop on the Island this year is only about 60 per cent of that of last year but that the quality is at least fifty per cent better and prices are about 25 per cent stronger. His many friends wish him every success in his big undertaking and trust he will be able to make the usual success of his sales.

THE BEDEQUE DISTRICT L. O. L.—On Tuesday, January 20th the postponed district meeting of the Bedeque Lodge took place in Central Bedeque Hall. Dancing and music was then indulged in until the wee sma' hours in the morning. The accompanists for the evening were Mr. Randolph D. Bruce and Miss Mary Gillis. Many thanks to those who assisted in making this affair a decided success.—L.

"What Shall I Do Then With Jesus, Who Is Called Christ?"

Pilate's Question Is Yours To-day

THE Church is not impersonal. It is a company of individuals, each of whom has expressed determination to acknowledge Jesus as Lord and God, to accept His teachings and follow His example.

tians as a proof of the inefficiency of the Church, or of the Gospel it proclaims. If, therefore, all lukewarmness should disappear the critics of Christianity would be confounded.

The Active Christians

Those who persist in the Way find their lives radiant with hope. They have an object in living. They are not plunged into hopeless misery by bereavement. They develop character. They learn contentment. Being themselves men of hope and good-will, they are centres of hope and good-will in the world.

Where Do You Stand?

You are a Christian. Are you ardent or careless? Are you whole-hearted or half-hearted? Do you realize that the Church in Canada faces unprecedented responsibilities? You believe that the Gospel of Christ is a perfect solvent of selfishness and class-hostility. Will you do your part to give it free course?

The Inactive Christians

Not all continue faithful. Many neglect to keep the Pattern before them. They cease to pray. They forego public worship. They become only nominal Christians. Their sympathies are on the side of Right, but they miss the full-orbed peace that comes from being obedient to the Heavenly vision.

Aiding the Enemy

Apart from their own loss, lukewarm Christians do positive harm to the Faith. Enemies never cite the lives of notable Christians as a proof of the inefficiency of the Church, or of the Gospel it proclaims. If, therefore, all lukewarmness should disappear the critics of Christianity would be confounded.

"What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ?"
