The deceased began work when quite young, with the firm of Smallwood & Boyer of Charlottetown, and left here some years ago, finishing his trade as a master mechanic in Boston. From there he removed to Arizona, where he rapidly rose to a responsible position. The deceased was the second son of Rodrick Mann of Marshfield, and was a young man of great promise. He is survived by a widow and young son in Arizona and by a host of relatives and friends.

SAD DEATH.—There passed away at Hunter River on the 30th day of January, in the 18th year of his age, William Manson, son of W. C. Smith of that place. Manson had been a great sufferer for the last six months. In August last he was seized with a severe pain in his knee, and was sent to the P. E. Island Hospital where everything known to medical skill was done for him but in spite of all the leg had to be amputated. He appeared to recover quickly and soon returned home. In a short time he was able to be about apparently as well as ever but the trouble set in and he failed rapidly till the end came on Thursday last. He was a brave, manly fellow and even at the times of his greatest suffering had a cheerful word and pleasant smile for everyone. The funeral was a very large one, the casket being carried from the house to the Presbyterian Church where services were conducted by Rev. J. B. Gough, and from there to the grave. Let us mourn their great loss as his father, three brothers and five sisters.
