NEW SERVICE TO MEDITERRANEAN

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—The White Star Line announces that the recently inaugurated service from New York to Bulgaria, Greece, and Mediterranean ports has been so successful that a regular schedule of sailings will be carried out from New York under the American flag. The Kronland, when she left New York last week, was well filled with passengers, including about 200 from Montreal. The Finland will sail from New York on November 17th, and the Kronland on December 2nd.

—YOUNG MEN OF MONT CARMEL.—Within a very few years Mont Carmel has placed a fair number of her young men in positions more or less responsible. But if Mont Carmel has produced young men sufficiently educated to fill a certain number of positions it is through the zeal and energy of Rev. Father P. P. Arsenault, parish priest, to whom the education and welfare of the young generation was entrusted, both spiritual and material. He has always prized the true development of growth whether for some particular departmental office or to remain on the farm for his delights in encouraging agriculture especially in his own community. Some of these young men who have been duly promoted to departmental positions are: Mr. Emmanuel Gallant and Mr. Theophilus Arsenault, both mail clerks on the P. E. R. M. Cyrille Gallant has lately been promoted to Station Master in the booking station at Wellington. Mr. Angus Poirier, after taking agricultural courses in Truro and Charlottetown, has been given employment in connection with the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. Mr. Benj. Gallant has spent the summer in St. Louis in connection with the butter factory there, and proposes to take a course in that line in the Guelph College, Ontario. Besides these are a few others occupying temporary employment in connection with the egg-circles of Mt. Carmel, Egmont Bay and vicinity. Mr. John J. Gallant is employed in the Candling Station at Summerside. Messrs. Ben. Arsenault and Julian Gallant are employed in the Wellington Candling Station for eggs of three or four circles. Mont Carmel can also boast of a priest in the person of Emmanuel Arsenault. Mr. Arsenault has made his apprenticeship at the bureau "The Evangeline" when in Weymouth, M. S., at the Journal Office, Summerside and especially at the Guardian Office, Charlottetown, where he got most of his practical knowledge in this line. He is now employed as foreman in a United States printing office, where he draws a good salary. Mont Carmel has also a fair number of teachers in the public schools and the three department school of Mont Carmel district is directed by teachers from the parish. This account is simply to state a fact and to show the rest of the young men of Mont Carmel that what has been done can be again repeated and to a wider circle, for chances to young men to acquire an education are today two to one compared to what they were ten or fifteen years ago.—R.

—SEA VIEW AND DARNLEY.—Mrs. Bassett, jr. and son, of Mr. Thomas Bassett, is home, having been away in Maine for three and a half years. He is going to remain for two weeks. Mr. George McKay, Hunter River, son of Edward McKay, Darnley, is home on a visit. Mrs. W. S.
